Ozolins, 1986-10-21 Among nineteenth century novelists there is probably none who speaks so directly to the modern reader as Fedor Dostoevski His visions of alienation and terror have not lost their power to shake our complacency even in this present age hardened as it is to violence and social decay In this stimulating collection of essays a distinguished group of specialists in comparative literature and the social sciences explores the themes and problems with which Dostoevski struggled as both a writer and as a man and assesses their continuing relevance to the modern world Encompassing a wide range of topics and perspectives this collection enriches our knowledge and appreciation of a writer whose prophetic visions of alienation and explorations of the dark side of the human psyche continue to fascinate readers and students of the human condition demonstrates the extent to which his ideas have transcended national boundaries as well as historic ones     The Stendhal Bicentennial Papers Hofstra University, 1987-09-09 This valuable compilation of articles offers original historical biographical and literary perspectives on the works of Stendhal Eleven essays plunge the reader into Stendhal's mythological universe providing new insights into the network of symbols images and obsessional themes that run through his works This multi faceted collection examines Stendhal as the problematic subject for a biography as autobiographer in his own right as journalist novelist and innovator in the realm of fictional devices and as the great representative of that literature of ideas first acclaimed by Balzac Topics addressed include the writer's own enigmatic persona his autobiographical writings his encounter with George Sand and his journalistic career in Italy as well as the structure imposed on his novels by an Oedipal conflict he himself perceives in pre Freudian terms his experiments with multiple narrative point of view and a feminist perspective on his use of the epistolary form as a device to enhance the plot     George Orwell Courtney T. Wemyss, Alexej Ugrinsky, 1987-12-04 This collection of essays addresses a number of facets of George Orwell examining both Orwell the man of letters and Orwell the political man In his preface Courtney Wemyss asserts that Orwell may not receive the recognition he is due because at present he is appreciated for the wrong reasons The author of other fine novels such as Burmese Days and Coming up for Air Orwell should also be recognized for his literary criticism book reviews and documentaries which depict the England of his times in the manner of Samuel Pepys The less recognized and equally important facets of George Orwell's works and impact on English culture presented in this collection will prove informative to Orwell specialists and to scholars of twentieth century English literature and politics     The Cast of Consciousness Beverly Taylor, Robert A. Bain, 1987-12-04 The contributors to this volume represent acknowledged experts in the field as well as a number of promising young scholars They provide a thorough examination of how Romantic authors grappled with the problem of describing the connections between consciousness unconsciousness and language in their endeavor to capture this interplay in their art As this collection bears witness the Romantics sought to discard old ideas about language and literature and to mold new forms in their search to recover in both literature and life the sense of human possibility The essays while strikingly diverse in topic and approach explore this broad issue and come to a surprisingly similar conclusion for Romantic writers genuine consciousness whatever it might imply about self awareness not only made it possible for an individual to affiliate with something outside himself but even made such bonding necessary     The Writer Written Jean-Pierre Durix, 1987-09-09 Few people are so widely read within Commonwealth literature or are so knowledgeable about so many different cultures as Jean Pierre Durix The first part of the book deals with general theoretical themes e.g. the writer as teacher while the second contains studies of single novels by such writers as Patrick White C.K. Stead and Salman Rushdie here Durix is at his best Choice Exploring the relationship between the writer and his craft between the artist and society between the creator and his conception of creation this fascinating study takes up various key positions represented by major writers from Africa

Australia Canada the Caribbean India New Zealand and the South Pacific and examines the practice of literature which is frequently concerned with a search for problematic roots and authenticity in its relation with didacticism social concern language and myth The distinctively comparative approach brings together a series of close textual studies and examines four examples of metafiction from which emerge a number of specific features characteristic of literatures born out of Colonialism and its aftermath Seen in this perspective literary scholarship provides an irreplaceable point of view from which to assess the role of the imagination in multi cultural societies     The Publishers' Trade List Annual ,1986     Guido Gezelle Hermine J.
