Scenes of two cities-Hong Kong & Macau ,1983 Hong Kong Museum of Art Hong Kong Museum of Art, Art & Place David James Clarke,1996 The book brings together a series of essays about art in Hong Kong written over the last ten years with the intention of offering a personal chronicle of the Hong Kong art world during a time of great change Many of the essays concern themselves with the work of local artists but Western and Chinese artists whose works have been exhibited in Hong Kong during this period are also discussed In addition to a consideration of particular artists and works of art there are also essays which engage with debates that have been taking place in Hong Kong concerning curatorship and various arts policy issues Fully illustrated and written in a straightforward style Art and Place is one of the first serious attempts to evaluate the art of Hong Kong It should be of use to anyone interested in the cultural life of one of Asia s leading cities The essays assembled in this collection construct a mosaic like image of the Hong Kong art world in a period of great change The topics covered art and its contexts art policy Western art and Chinese art in Hong Kong and representative local artists strengthen a sense of Hong Kong identity and illustrate an increasing maturity of public culture Historical Pictures Hong Kong Museum of Art,1991 Uncharted Territory: Culture and Commerce in Hong Kong's Art World Magnus Renfrew,2017-07-17 Hong Kong has the once in a generation opportunity to assert itself as the creative and cultural hub of Asia and to rival the established centres of New York and London In providing an angle unique to the city Hong Kong could play a pivotal role in redefining the concept of a global art world But is it ready to take on the challenge Magnus Renfrew art expert and one of the driving forces behind the city s ascent in the art world outlines the recent past and paints the future of Hong Kong s creative scene all while reflecting on his own experiences and the new buzz around Hong Kong s endless possibilities I Like Hong Kong Frank Vigneron,2010-06-15 Contemporary Chinese art is nowadays a subject area widely taught and researched in academic and nonacademic publications but it has not yet been studied by localizing the research in specific cultural areas within the Chinese world Selecting Hong Kong for a first such study was an obvious choice since Hong Kong culture has had for already quite a long time very specific features which have put it apart from the generally accepted definition of Chinese national culture Although it is not a survey of Hong Kong art as such a study would demand many more books the works of about eighty artists working in Hong Kong and sometimes outside have been analyzed and contextualized in these pages HONG KONG x 24 x 365 David Clarke,2006-12-01 This in between phase without major dramas where history was only with a small h is the subject of this locally orientated micro historical analysis of one of the world s great cities which had so lost self confidence in this period that it started promoting itself as Asia s World City but which might yet prove to be a city that changes China and therefore the world Specifying this time through a collection of colour photographs taken during a randomly chosen twelve month period David Clarke presents a year in the life of the city in which he has lived for the last two decades An antidote to the tourist picture postcard view of Hong Kong

which is so often propagated to locals and visitors alike these images and their accompanying text are produced from a proximity which enables both a critical engagement with the city and a celebration of its uniqueness Personal in its perspective this extended photo essay invites you to join a fabricated journey through the real space of Hong Kong looking awry at scenes too often photographed before and looking anew at scenes too often overlooked Hong Kong Art David James Clarke, 2002 Survey of contemporary Hong Kong art 10 Chancery Lane Gallery (Hong Kong) 10 Chancery Lane Gallery (Hong Kong), Exhibition of Works by Urban Council Art Award Winners, 25.9.76-27.10.76 Hong Kong Museum of Art, 1976 香港藝術館, 1996 Hong Kong Now! Robert Carleton Hobbs, 1997 Neither entirely Eastern nor definitively Western in its outlook the work of Hong Kong artists oscillates between these two traditional polarities and shows how postcolonial artistic production is an ongoing negotiation of differences a tentative resolution of contradictions and an ironic doubling of mainstream strategies that mimic and undermine the established modes Hong Kong Now presents the works of nine contemporary Hong Kong artists Lucia N Y Cheung Simon Go Oscar Ho Ho Siu kee Leung Chi Wo Ellen Pau Grechen So Wong Shun kit and Yu Tsz Man Working with the freedoms and constraints created by the opposing forces of possible totalitarian rule now that the 153 year old British crown colony of Hong Kong has been transferred to the People's Republic of China with the seemingly unlimited freemarket economies already in place these artists have developed a spectrum of possible identities that exhibit the complex and even contradictory values that are endemic to Hong Kong

Early Views of Hong Kong, Macau and Canton C.1617-1906 Wattis Fine Art, 1998 Exhibition of Contemporary Hong Kong Art. Hong Kong Arts Festival 1972, Presented by the Urban Council ...
