Exuberant Apotheoses: Italian Frescoes in the Holy Roman Empire Daniel Fulco, 2016-04-01 From the late seventeenth through the mid eighteenth centuries large scale Italian frescoes soared in popularity as nobles in the German principalities of the Holy Roman Empire constructed new palaces at an unprecedented rate They competed with one another to produce lavish decorative schemes that expressed their claim to princely power and political authority Whereas previous art historians have primarily focused on iconographic and stylistic issues and generally treated these programs as individual commissions of regional courts this book places the works of art within their broad cultural and historical contexts during the Enlightenment This monograph explains how rulers gradually shifted from emphasizing military heroism to stressing their cultivation of the arts and sciences and addresses how expressing membership in a specifically European civilization emerged as an integral visual theme and a key ambition of the German nobility

Confounding the Reich Martin W. Bowman, Tom Cushing, 2005-02-19. A history of the British RAF's 100 Group, the airmen, ground crew and technicians who supported the Strategic Bomber Offensive during World War II. On 23 November 1943, 100 Bomber Support Group of RAF Bomber Command was formed. The object was to consolidate the various squadrons and units that had been fighting a secret war of electronics and radar countermeasures, attempting to reduce the losses of the heavy bombers and their hard pressed crews in Bomber Command. This secret war involved the use of air and ground radars, homing and jamming equipment, special radio and navigational aids, and intruding night fighters to seek out and destroy their opposite numbers, the Ju 88s and Bf 110s of the Nachtjagdgeschwader, who defended the night skies of the Third Reich with ever increasing success. The book contains many first hand accounts from pilots and crew and provides a fascinating record of 100 Group's wartime history.
