Reform and Social Changes in China Qiang Li, 2010-08-03 Thirty Years of Reform and Social Changes in China is translated from the original Chinese to provide a look into how scholars in China have been assessing their country's recent societal and political history. This volume and the others in the SSRC series provide western scholars with an accessible English language look at the state of current scholarship in China and as such does not simply provide information for the direct study of socio-political issues but also for meta-level analysis of how the domestic scholarship in China is developing and assessing the interplay of the country's political and economic reforms with the society and daily life of its people.

Science, Technology, and Society David D. Kumar, Daryl E. Chubin, 2000-04-30 This volume will take a comprehensive view of STS education the goals of which are manifold and include making science and technology literacy available for all Americans preparing those not bound for college to compete successfully in an increasingly science and technology oriented global market and equipping the average person with the information necessary for making informed personal and policy decisions concerning the role of science and technology in society.

Technology and Social Change Francis R. Allen, 1957 Metadebates on Science Gustaaf C. Cornelis, Sonja Smets, Jean-Paul van Bendegem, 2013-11-11 How do scientists approach science? Scientists, sociologists and philosophers were asked to write on this intriguing problem and to display their results at the International Congress Einstein Meets Magritte. The outcome of their effort can be found in this rather unique book presenting all kinds of different views on science. Quantum mechanics is a discipline which deserves and receives special attention in this book mainly because it is fascinating and hence appeals to the general public. This book not only contains articles on the introductory level it also provides new insights and bold even provocative proposals. That way the reader gets acquainted with science in the making sitting in the front row. The contributions have been written for a broad interdisciplinary audience of scholars and students.

Low-carbon Energy Controversies Thomas Roberts, Paul Upham, Sarah Mander, Carly McLachlan, Philip Boucher, Clair Gough, Dana Abi Ghanem, 2013 Governments, big business and communities are coming under increased pressure to develop low carbon energy supply technologies. However, public opposition to the development of the siting and implementation of the technology associated infrastructure often complicates progress. This is sometimes labelled the 'not in my backyard' or NIMBY attitude, an unhelpful tag as conflicts over new development between governments, local authorities, business and communities are generally far more complex than NIMBY theory implies. Furthermore, within the context of the climate change debate, a delicate balance has to be reached between local environmental protection and our need for reliable low carbon energy. This comprehensive book builds on over 10 years of research conducted by the Tyndall Centre for Climate Change Research and uses a range of case studies from carbon capture and storage to on shore wind farms to explore the complex nature of disputes between a wide variety of stakeholder groups. Topics covered include the importance of context, the relationship between risk and trust, sense of place and the role of the media. An invaluable resource for researchers and
