James Ryding Bond

Scottish Agricultural Implements:

Scottish Agricultural Implements Bob Powell, 2008-03-04 Over the centuries Scotland has produced a variety of agricultural implements which reflect both the subsistence farming of the crofting communities and the prosperity of the larger lowland farms Until the eighteenth century implements were often rudimentary particularly in crofting areas where most tasks were carried out by manpower The movement towards improvement came in the eighteenth century and continued in the early nineteenth century and manufacturers produced implement variations to serve regional needs In this book each implement is treated chronologically within a seasonal framework About the author Bob Powell has close associations with the farming community and is vice chairmanship of the Peterborough Farm Machinery Preservation Society
