The Multisensory Museum Nina Levent, Alvaro Pascual-Leone, 2014-03-06 Recent research in the cognitive sciences gives us a new perspective on the cognitive and sensory landscape In The Multisensory Museum Cross Disciplinary Perspectives on Touch Sound Smell Memory and Space museum expert Nina Levent and Alvaro Pascual Leone professor of neurology at Harvard Medical School bring together scholars and museum practitioners from around the world to highlight new trends and untapped opportunities for using such modalities as scent sound and touch in museums to offer more immersive experiences and diverse sensory engagement for visually and otherwise impaired patrons Visitor studies describe how different personal and group identities color our cultural consumption and might serve as a compass on museum journeys Psychologists and educators look at the creation of memories through different types of sensory engagement with objects and how these memories in turn affect our next cultural experience An anthropological perspective on the history of our multisensory engagement with ritual and art objects especially in cultures that did not privilege sight over other senses allows us a glimpse of what museums might become in the future Education researchers discover museums as unique educational playgrounds that allow for a variety of learning styles active and passive exploration and participatory learning Designers and architects suggest a framework for thinking about design solutions for a museum environment that invites an intuitive multisensory and flexible exploration as well as minimizes physical hurdles While attention has been paid to accessibility for the physically impaired since passage of the Americans with Disabilities Act making buildings accessible is only the first small step in elevating museums to be centers of learning and culture for all members of their communities This landmark book will help all museums go much further

Into the Heart of Asia Titus Varughese, 2025-06-14 There s a kind of magic that only winter can bring one that softens landscapes silences cities and reveals a quieter more poetic side of the world This travelogue traces an 8 day journey from the warm chaos of Mumbai to the serene snow covered heart of Central Asia Kazakhstan and Uzbekistan My adventure began in Almaty a city where European charm meets Central Asian soul nestled against the mighty Tien Shan mountains The streets were dusted in white and the cold felt cleansing sharp yet somehow inviting From here I ventured into the wild the Charyn Canyon dramatic even under layers of snow and the tranquil Kolsai Lakes frozen and surreal like stepping into a dreamscape where time had stopped Then came a shift from raw nature to historic grandeur I crossed into Uzbekistan where snow met silk In Samarkand centuries old mosques and madrasahs stood stoic beneath a winter sky their turquoise domes frosted with snow Registan Square glowed gold in the late afternoon light eerily empty yet spiritually full In Tashkent the modern face of Uzbekistan I found warm hospitality lively markets and echoes of Soviet elegance softened by snowfall This journey was more than a checklist of destinations it was a dialogue between landscapes and memory between past and present warmth and winter Through this travelogue I invite you to walk with me through frostbitten canyons and ancient cities on a path less traveled yet deeply unforgettable The National
