Jonathan Maberry New York Times bestselling author of Dead of Night THE SEAL OF ASHVALE Jett Vorn, Don't believe in ghosts Ghosts are the memories of the dead echoes of pain that fade with time What woke in Ashvale Ohio wasn't a ghost It was hunger itself An ancient patient hunger that had slumbered for seventy years in the foundations of a forgotten asylum sealed behind bricks prayers and steel This book isn't a haunted house story Houses are just shells of wood and plaster This is a record of the desecration of flesh There are no heroes coming to save the day Heroes are the first to die their hopes the tastiest meal There's no mystery to solve There's only a massacre to witness Picture an entity that doesn't want your soul Your soul is an abstract concept useless It wants your terror your pain the scream that breaks in your throat when you see the unthinkable It feeds on that It's its sacrament It moves from body to body not like an infection but like an artist switching brushes leaving the old one broken and useless It reanimates the dead not to build an army but to use them as tools as set pieces for its theater of atrocities It all started with a demolition crew Ordinary men with ordinary names who thought they were tearing down an old building Instead they broke the door of a cage They shattered a seal with their ignorance and woke it with their blood What you're about to read is a chronicle of the hours that followed It's the story of Ashvale's fall Don't look for meaning Don't look for a moral There's only one when hell decides to rise it doesn't send legions of horned demons with wings It sends a smile on the face of a man you know And it hands you the tool to destroy everything you love Turn the page if you dare But know that the silence afterward will never be the same The Mannequin Offensive Kirsten

Like a curtain of night fog, Tracking dew upon the spider webs to an often absurd present in Reality Sweet Myrtle lays them down wisely. Her crispy potato chip collection In The Absurd Reality of Violence poems address wartime, the migrant crisis and much more besides. As the author notes in the introduction, the best aspect of this collection of poems is that you need to figure out for yourself where the Nonsense stops and the truth begins.

British or American English? John Algeo, 2006-08-10 Speakers of British and American English display some striking differences in their use of grammar. In this detailed survey, John Algeo considers questions such as: Who lives on a street and who lives in a street? Who takes a bath and who has a bath? Who says Neither do I and who says Nor do I? After thank you, who says Not at all and who says You're welcome? Whose team are on the ball and whose team isn't? Containing extensive quotations from real-life English on both sides of the Atlantic, collected over the past twenty years, this is a clear and highly organized guide to the differences and the similarities between the grammar of British and American speakers. Written for those with no prior knowledge of linguistics, it shows how these grammatical differences are linked mainly to particular words and provides an accessible account of contemporary English in use.
