Video and Filmmaking as Psychotherapy Joshua L. Cohen, J. Lauren Johnson, Penny Orr, 2015-02-11 While film and video has long been used within psychological practice researchers and practitioners have only just begun to explore the benefits of film and video production as therapy This volume describes a burgeoning area of psychotherapy which employs the art of filmmaking and digital storytelling as a means of healing victims of trauma and abuse It explores the ethical considerations behind this process as well as its cultural and developmental implications within clinical psychology Grounded in clinical theory and methodology this multidisciplinary volume draws on perspectives from anthropology psychiatry psychology and art therapy which support the use and integration of film video based therapy in practice

The New Cambridge Bibliography of English Literature: Volume 4, 1900-1950 George Watson, I. R. Willison, 1972-12-07 More than fifty specialists have contributed to this new edition of volume 4 of The Cambridge Bibliography of English Literature The design of the original work has established itself so firmly as a workable solution to the immense problems of analysis articulation and coordination that it has been retained in all its essentials for the new edition The task of the new contributors has been to revise and integrate the lists of 1940 and 1957 to add materials of the following decade to correct and refine the bibliographical details already available and to re shape the whole according to a new series of conventions devised to give greater clarity and consistency to the entries Research in Education ,1970

Library of Congress Subject Headings Library of Congress. Cataloging Policy and Support Office,2009 Making Icons Jennifer Coates,2016-10-01 One distinctive feature of post war Japanese cinema is the frequent recurrence of imagistic and narrative tropes and formulaic characterizations in female representations These repetitions are important Jennifer Coates asserts because sentiments and behaviours forbidden during the war and post war social and political changes were often articulated by or through the female image Moving across major character types from mothers to daughters and schoolteachers to streetwalkers Making Icons studies the role of the media in shaping the attitudes of the general public Japanese cinema after the defeat is shown to be an important ground where social experiences were explored reworked and eventually accepted or rejected by the audience emotionally invested in these repetitive materials An examination of 600 films produced and distributed between 1945 and 1964 as well as numerous Japanese language sources forms the basis of this rigorous study Making Icons draws on an art historical iconographic analysis to explain how viewers derive meanings from images during this peak period of film production and attendance in Japan It is very difficult not to heap superlatives upon Making Icons This splendid work sheds a shining light on the situation of women in post war Japan and on post war Japan itself Not only is this a deft reading of text and context it expands the very notion of context seeing stardom through the lens of filmic and extra filmic texts A must read for anyone interested in Japanese cinema David Desser Professor Emeritus University of Illinois at Urbana Champaign This is a compelling book I am excited by Jennifer Coates s art historically informed iconographic approach towards female representation in post war Japanese cinema Making Icons will certainly make a splash in the field of Japanese film studies Daisuke Miyao Professor and the Hajime Mori Chair in Japanese Language and Literature University of California San Diego Seeing into Screens Tessa Dwyer,Claire Perkins,Sean Redmond,Jodi Sita,2018-01-25 Seeing into Screens Eye Tracking and the Moving Image is the first dedicated anthology that explores vision and perception as it materializes as viewers watch screen content While nearly all moving image research either imagines how its audience responds to the screen or focuses upon external responses this collection utilizes the data produced from eye tracking technology to assess seeing and knowing gazing and perceiving The editors divide their collection into the following four sections eye tracking performance which addresses the ways viewers respond to screen genre actor and star auteur and cinematography eye tracking aesthetics which explores the way viewers gaze upon colour light movement and space eye tracking inscription which examines the way the viewer responds to subtitles translation and written information found in the screen world and eye tracking augmentation which examines the role of simulation mediation and technological intervention in the way viewers engage with screen content At a time when the nature of viewing the screen is extending and diversifying across different platforms and exhibitions Seeing into Screens is a timely exploration of how viewers watch the screen

The Archival Afterlives of Philippine Cinema Bliss Cua Lim, 2024-01-05 Drawing on cultural policy queer and feminist theory materialist media studies and postcolonial historiography Bliss Cua Lim analyzes the crisis ridden history of Philippine film archiving a history of lost films limited access and collapsed archives Rather than denigrate underfunded Philippine audiovisual archives in contrast to institutions in the global North The Archival Afterlives of Philippine Cinema shows how archival practices of making do can inspire alternative theoretical and historical approaches to cinema Lim examines formal state and corporate archives analyzing restorations of the last nitrate film and a star studded lesbian classic as well as archiving under the Marcos dictatorship She also foregrounds informal archival efforts a cinephilic video store specializing in vintage Tagalog classics a microcuratorial initiative for experimental films and guerilla screenings for rural Visayan audiences Throughout Lim centers the improvisational creativity of audiovisual archivists collectors advocates and amateurs who embrace imperfect access in the face of inhospitable conditions

Forms of the Cinematic Mark Breeze, 2021-02-11 This interdisciplinary collection explores how cinema calls into question its own frame of reference and at the same time how its form becomes the matter of its thought Building on the axiom cherished by philosophers of cinema from Epstein to Deleuze that cinema is a medium that thinks in conjunction with its spectators this book examines how various forms of the cinematic rethink and redraw the terrain of traditional disciplines thereby enabling different modes of thought and practice Areas under consideration by a range of leading academics and practitioners include architecture science writing in a visual field event theory and historiography

The Multilingual Screen Tijana Mamula, Lisa Patti, 2016-06-30 The Multilingual Screen is the first edited volume to offer a wide ranging exploration of the place of multilingualism in cinema investigating the ways in which linguistic difference and exchange have shaped and continue to shape the medium s history Moving across a vast array of geographical historical and theoretical contexts from Japanese colonial filmmaking to the French New Wave to contemporary artists moving image the essays collected here address the aesthetic political and industrial significance of multilingualism in film production and reception In grouping these works together The Multilingual Screen discerns and emphasizes the areas of study most crucial to forging a renewed understanding of the relationship between cinema and language diversity In particular it reassesses the methodologies and frameworks that have influenced the study of filmic multilingualism to propose that its force is also and perhaps counterintuitively a silent one While most studies of the subject have explored linguistic difference as a largely audible phenomenon manifested through polyglot dialogues or through the translation of monolingual dialogues for international audiences The Multilingual Screen traces some of its unheard histories contributing to a new field of inquiry based on an attentiveness to multilingualism s work beyond the soundtrack
