Nile Nightshade Anny Gaul,2025-10-28 A cultural and culinary history of modern Egypt through the nation s beloved tomato By the end of the twentieth century the tomato indigenous to the Americas had become Egypt s top horticultural crop and a staple of Egyptian cuisine The tomato brought together domestic consumers cookbook readers and home cooks through a shared culinary culture that sometimes transcended differences of class region gender and ethnicity and sometimes reinforced them In Nile Nightshade Anny Gaul shows how Egyptians embrace of the tomato and the emergence of Egypt s modern national identity were both driven by the modernization of the country s food system Drawing from cookbooks archival materials oral histories and vernacular culture Gaul follows this commonplace food into the realms of domestic policy and labor through the hands of Egypt s overwhelmingly female home cooks As they wrote recipes and cooked meals these women forged key aspects of public culture that defined how Egyptians recognized themselves and one another as Egyptian

How Wars End Dan Reiter,2009-08-17 Why do some countries choose to end wars short of total victory while others fight on sometimes in the face of appalling odds How Wars End argues that two central factors shape war termination decision making information about the balance of power and the resolve of one s enemy and fears that the other side s commitment to abide by a war ending peace settlement may not be credible Dan Reiter explains how information about combat outcomes and other factors may persuade a warring nation to demand more or less in peace negotiations and why a country might refuse to negotiate limited terms and instead tenaciously pursue absolute victory if it fears that its enemy might renege on a peace deal He fully lays out the theory and then tests it on more than twenty cases of war termination behavior including decisions during the American Civil War the two world wars and the Korean War Reiter helps solve some of the most enduring puzzles in military history such as why Abraham Lincoln issued the Emancipation Proclamation why Germany in 1918 renewed its attack in the West after securing peace with Russia in the East and why Britain refused to seek peace terms with Germany after France fell in 1940 How Wars End concludes with a timely discussion of twentieth century American foreign policy framing the Bush

Doctrine's emphasis on preventive war in the context of the theory Hollywood's Tennessee R. Barton Palmer, William Robert Bray, 2009-04-01 No American dramatist has had more plays adapted than Tennessee Williams and few modern dramatists have witnessed as much controversy during the adaptation process His Hollywood legacy captured in such screen adaptations as A Streetcar Named Desire Cat on a Hot Tin Roof and Suddenly Last Summer reflects the sea change in American culture in the mid twentieth century Placing this body of work within relevant contexts ranging from gender and sexuality to censorship modernism art cinema and the Southern Renaissance Hollywood's Tennessee draws on rarely examined archival research to recast Williams's significance Providing not only cultural context the authors also bring to light the details of the arduous screenwriting process Williams experienced with special emphasis on the Production Code Administration the powerful censorship office that drew high profile criticism during the 1950s and Williams's innovative efforts to bend the code Going well beyond the scripts themselves Hollywood's Tennessee showcases findings culled from poster and billboard art pressbooks and other production and advertising material The result is a sweeping account of how Williams's adapted plays were crafted marketed and received as well as the lasting implications of this history for commercial filmmakers and their audiences Sex In The Head Linda R. Williams, 2016-07-01 In Sex in the Head Linda Ruth Williams uses psychoanalysis and recent feminist film theory to analyze a network of ideas which link looking with sexuality and difference in the work of a writer who disavowed yet covertly enjoyed the pleasures and power of vision The book is a departure from the long history of feminist readings of Lawrence in that it discusses his engagement with theories of the gaze and its cultural forms cinema photography painting and the visual dynamics and metaphors of literary texts as a way of thinking through gender It shows him arguing on the one hand against the evils of cinema and visual sex while relishing through the eyes of women the moving spectacle of those male bodies which populate the pages of his books It also questions what it is about the work of such an adamant cinephobe which has made it so thoroughly adaptable for film and television this is the first biography of this influential film maker and innovator It is also a historical study of the development of the non fiction film in Britain and America in the early years of cinema told through the experiences of the leading pioneer of the form Charles Urban was a renowned figure in his time and he has remained a name in film history chiefly for his development of Kinemacolor the world s first successful natural colour moving picture system He was also a pioneer in the filming of war science travel actuality and news a fervent advocate of the value of film as an educative force and a controversial but important innovator of film propaganda in wartime The book uses Urban s story as a means of showing how the non fiction film developed in the period 1897 1925 and the dilemmas that it faced within a cinema culture in which the entertainment fiction film was dominant Urban s solutions some successful some less so illustrate the groundwork that led to the development of documentary film The book considers the roles of film as informer educator and generator of propaganda and the social and aesthetic function of colour in the years when cinema was still working out what it was capable of and how best to reach audiences Luke McKernan also curates a web resource on Charles Urban at www.charlesurban.com Winner of the Kraszna Krausz Moving Image Book Award 2014 Popular Cinemas of Europe Dimitris Eleftheriotis,2002-01-25 This book challenges the established conceptual and historical paradigm in Anglo American film studies that perceives European cinema as essentially high art Through a study of the specific contexts in which popular European films are produced distributed and exhibited the book proposes new analytical and critical frameworks for their study Films analyzed in the book include Cinema Paradiso Mediterraneo Bhaji on the Beach Until the End of the World Underground and Jam n Jam n The Beginnings of Strategic Air Power Neville Jones,2012-11-12 Using official records the author traces the origins and early development of strategic bombing and examines its organs in the operations and staff planning of the First World War The experiences of the First World War should have been a valuable legacy to those who devised the counter offensive strategy in the years between the war Unfortunately the lessons learnt were soon forgotten and many of the operational and technical problems which the planners had begun to tackle in 1918 were not even seen to exist by the Air Staff during the 1920s and early 1930s The New Cambridge Bibliography of English Literature: Volume 4, 1900-1950 George Watson,I. Martin Miller Marks,1997-02-13 In this book a leading authority on film music examines scores of the silent film era The first of three projected volumes investigating music written for films this thoughtful and pathbreaking study demonstrates the richness of silent film music as it details the way in which scores were often planned from the start as an integral part of the whole cinematic experience Following an introductory chapter that outlines several key theoretical questions and surveys eight decades of writing on film music Martin Miller Marks focuses on those scores created between 1895 and 1924 He begins by considering two early examples one German written by persons unknown for Skladanowsky s Bioskop exhibitions in 1895 and 1896 and one French scored by Camille Saint Sa ns for the 1908 film L Assassinat du Duc de Guise Subsequent chapters fully discuss Walter Cleveland Simon s music for the American film An Arabian Tragedy 1912 as well as the Joseph Breil accompaniment to D W Griffith s Birth of a Nation 1915 As described in this book Breil s memorable score though a compilation derived from many sources was played by an orchestra as Griffith s sweeping images filled the screen thus contributing significantly to the great film s success while also achieving remarkable power in its own right Marks then concludes with a look at Erik Satie s witty and innovative music for the French film Entr acte 1924 which was the first film score of consequence by an avant garde composer Giving unprecedented attention to a vibrant important and oft neglected facet of twentieth century music Music and the Silent Film will interest scholars of film theory film history modern music and modern aesthetics
