The Longman Anthology of World Literature: The medieval era, 2009 The Longman Anthology is designed to open up the horizons of world literature placing major works within their cultural contexts and fostering connections and conversations between eras as well as regions

Periodization and Sovereignty Kathleen Davis, 2012-03-12 Despite all recent challenges to stage oriented histories the idea of a division between a medieval and a modern period has survived even flourished in academia Periodization and Sovereignty demonstrates that this survival is no innocent affair By examining periodization together with the two controversial categories of feudalism and secularization Kathleen Davis exposes the relationship between the constitution of the Middle Ages and the history of sovereignty slavery and colonialism This book's groundbreaking investigation of feudal historiography finds that the historical formation of feudalism mediated the theorization of sovereignty and a social contract even as it provided a rationale for colonialism and facilitated the disavowal of slavery Sovereignty is also at the heart of today's often violent struggles over secular and religious politics and Davis traces the relationship between these struggles and the narrative of secularization which grounds itself in a period divide between a modern historical consciousness and a theologically entrapped Middle Ages incapable of history This alignment of sovereignty the secular and the conceptualization of historical time which relies essentially upon a medieval modern divide both underlies and regulates today's volatile debates over world politics The problem of defining the limits of our most fundamental political concepts cannot be extricated Davis argues from the periodizing operations that constituted them and that continue today to obscure the process by which feudalism and secularization govern the politics of time

Feeling the Past in Seventeenth-Century China Xiaoqiao Ling, 2021-02-01 During the Manchu conquest of China 1640s 1680s the Qing government mandated that male subjects shave their hair following the Manchu style It was a directive that brought the physical body front and center as the locus of authority and control Feeling the Past in Seventeenth Century China highlights the central role played by the body in writers memories of lived experiences during the Ming Qing cataclysm For traditional Chinese men of letters the body was an anchor of sensory perceptions and emotions Sight sound taste and touch configured ordinary experiences next to traumatic events unveiling how writers participated in an actual and imagined community of like minded literary men In literature from this period the body symbolizes the process by which individual memories transform into historical knowledge that can be transmitted across generations The ailing body interprets the Manchu presence as an epidemic to which Chinese civilization is not immune The bleeding body cast as an aesthetic figure helps succeeding generations internalize knowledge inherited from survivors of dynastic conquest as a way of locating themselves in collective remembrance This embodied experience of the past reveals literature s mission of remembrance as first and foremost a moral endeavor in which literary men serve as architects of cultural continuity
