Schehr, 2003 This book focuses on the extension of realist writing toward alterity toward otherness in its ongoing efforts to enable individuals to speak and be heard correctly Through a series of close readings of six authors from Balzac to Proust the author shows the ways realist narrative engages the problem of bringing the other into the realm of the discursively representable The acts of representation involved in that development were not necessarily coterminous with either the representation of the exotic and its attendant stereotypes or with the representation of individuals themselves The representation of the other was the extension of discourse to what was previously unrepresentable The author argues that the unrepresentable is often perceived as oppositional because of the structuring of discourse by hierarchies and metaphysics whereby any bivalent pair is made into an oppositional pair The Academy and Literature , 1895 The Saturday Review of Politics, Literature, Science and Art , 1866 The Saturday Review of Politics, Literature, Science, Art, and Finance , 1866 Saturday Review of Politics, Literature, Science and Art , 1912 The Illustrated London News , 1923 Rule Britannia Danny Dorling, 2019-01-15 Things fall apart when empires crumble This time we think things will be different They are not This time we are told we will become great again We will not In this new edition of the hugely successful Rule Britannia Danny Dorling and Sally Tomlinson argue that the vote to leave the EU was the last gasp of the old empire working its way out of the British psyche Fuelled by a misplaced nostalgia the result was driven by a lack of knowledge of Britain's imperial history by a profound anxiety about Britain's status today and by a deeply unrealistic vision of our future
