Improving Literacy in the Primary School R. P. Chamberlin, G. S. Haynes, E. C. Wragg, Prof E C Wragg, 2005-07-28 One of the most important challenges teachers face is making sure children can read It is an absolutely crucial skill and current educational policy is giving it a very high priority Based on one of the largest studies ever undertaken of what primary schools do to improve literacy this book reports what Professor Ted Wragg and his research team found The importance placed on literacy has never been greater When children learn to read they are laying the foundations for their entire educational future Effective teachers can make a huge difference as a poor start can hinder children throughout their schooling and beyond By looking at what actually goes on in classrooms this volume provides an invaluable insight into what happens to children and how their reading progresses It shows how particular teachers manage the improvement of their pupils reading levels and also follows individual pupils through a school year This is a very readable account of a fascinating and crucial area of research that is highly topical Every class teacher should read it Reading Germany Gideon Reuveni, 2006 By closely examining the interaction between intellectual and material culture in the period before the Nazis came to power in Germany the author comes to the conclusion that contrary to widely held assumptions

consumer culture in the Weimar period far from undermining reading used reading culture to enhance its goods and values Reading material was marked as a consumer good while reading as an activity raising expectations as it did influenced consumer culture Consequently consumption contributed to the diffusion of reading culture while at the same time a popular reading culture strengthened consumption and its values Gideon Reuveni is Director of the Centre for German Jewish Studies at the University of Sussex He is the co editor of The Economy in Jewish History Berghahn 2010 and several other books on different aspects of Jewish history Presently he is working on a book on consumer culture and the making of Jewish identity in Europe Studies in Philology ,1921
