Reproduction of the original The Fugitive's Bride (historical western romance) Ruth Ann Nordin, Ever since Wade Gray lost his ranch and his son he s had one mission get both of them back After a year he has his son Now it s time to get the ranch With all his careful planning he realizes he might not make it back He s up against a ruthless enemy who ll kill anyone who gets in his way In order to secure his son s future he rushes to marry Millie Washington the woman he rescued on the same night he and his family got his son back Love doesn t factor into the equation Love didn t factor into his first marriage either He married his first wife to rescue her from a life of prostitution and abuse and the arrangement never led to love So to him marriage is a logical decision based on what can benefit both people In this case he can offer Millie a place to live and she ll be the mother to his son It s as simple as that But marriage to Millie isn t like what he had with his first wife Millie isn t weighed down by a harsh past She has an innocent way of looking at the world that becomes a welcome relief after all he s been through In the rugged Wyoming Territory she s the only pleasant thing that exists This poses a very difficult proposition for him If he falls in love with her it could get in the way of getting his ranch back Feelings always get in the way of doing what s necessary And he can t afford for anything to get in his way The Hermit's Cave; Or the Fugitive's Retreat.
