Ludwig Karl Hilberseimer, an Annotated Bibliography and Chronology David A. Spaeth, 1981 Ludwig Karl Hilberseimer, 1967 Architect of Letters Florian Strob, 2022-11-07 News on Ludwig Hilberseimer Ludwig Hilberseimer 1885 1967 is regarded as one of the leading theorists of the Neues Bauen movement in pre War Germany and of modern functional urbanism This set of accomplishments still dominates the public image of the architect urban planner teacher and art critic to this day His development beyond that period has long been neglected The essays in this collection seek to fill this gap offering an exciting and wide ranging new perspective on the work of a central protagonist of modernism Until now most critical studies of Hilberseimer's work came from his place of exile in Chicago and his work in Germany Europe and the USA tended to be viewed separately this volume is the first to attempt to end this separation and encourage a complete overview of his work Previously unknown archival discoveries With contributions by Alexander Eisenschmidt Magdalena Droste Christine Mengin Philipp Oswalt Robin Schuldenfrei Charles Waldheim and others Exhibitions and the Development of Modern Planning Culture Robert Freestone, Marco Amati, 2016-12-05 The evolution of city planning theory and practice in the first half of the twentieth century was captured and driven by a range of exhibitionary practices in a variety of settings globally from international expos to local public halls The agendas of the promoters varied but exhibitions generally drew their social legitimacy from their status as appropriate educative agencies of citizenship Bringing together a range of international case studies this volume explores the highly visual genre of public planning exhibitions worldwide In doing so it provides a unique lens on the development of modern urban planning and design from the late 19th century to the present day Focussing mainly on the first half of the 20th century it looks in particular at historic exhibitions which sought to transform urban society's understanding of the possibilities of planning as a force for social betterment The visuality of presentation contemporary reactions and outcomes for the planning profession and the community are explored to make for a unique innovative and attractive approach to the history of planning ideas The five major themes are the visual representation of ideas and ideologies institutions and individuals involved the broader context of display and the impacts and implications for the development planning culture With contributors including Karl Fischer John Gold Carola Hein Peter Larkham Javier Monclus and Mark Tewdwr Jones the dominant intellectual paradigm further unifying the collection is planning history The Grove Encyclopedia of American Art Joan M. Marter, 2011 Arranged in alphabetical order these 5 volumes encompass the history of the cultural development of America with over 2300 entries Objects in Exile Robin Schuldenfrei, 2024-01-23 An innovative new history of how the migration of designers in the 20th century shaped modernist art and architecture The Third Coast Thomas L. Dyja, 2014-03-25 Winner of the Chicago Tribune's 2013 Heartland Prize A critically acclaimed history of Chicago at mid century featuring many of the incredible personalities that shaped American culture Before air travel overtook trains nearly every coast to coast journey included a stop in Chicago and this flow of people and commodities made it the crucible for American culture and innovation In luminous prose Chicago native Thomas Dyja re creates the story of the city in its postwar prime and explains its profound impact on modern America from Chess Records to Playboy McDonald s to the University of Chicago Populated with an incredible cast of characters including Mahalia Jackson Muddy Waters Howlin Wolf Chuck Berry Sun Ra Simone de Beauvoir Nelson Algren Gwendolyn Brooks Studs Turkel and Mayor Richard J Daley The Third Coast recalls the prominence of the Windy City in all its grandeur Architecture and Politics in Nigeria Nnamdi Elleh,2016-12-08 In 1975 the Nigerian authorities decided to construct a new postcolonial capital called Abuja and together with several internationally renowned architects these military leaders collaborated to build a city for three million inhabitants Founded five years after the Civil War with Biafra which caused around 1.7 million deaths the city was envisaged as a place where justice would reign and where people from different social religious ethnic and political backgrounds would come together in a peaceful manner and work together to develop their country and its economy These were all laudable goals but they ironically mobilized certain forces from around the country in opposition against the Federal Government of Nigeria The international and modernist style architecture and the fact that the government spent tens of billions of dollars constructing this idealized capital ended up causing more strife and conflict For groups like Boko Haram a Nigerian Al Qaida affiliate organization and other smaller ethnic groups seeking to have a say in how the country s oil wealth is spent Abuja symbolized everything in Nigeria they sought to change By examining the creation of the modernist national public spaces of Abuja within a broader historical and global context this book looks at how the successes and the failures of these spaces have affected the citizens of the country and have in fact radicalized individuals with these spaces being scene of some of the most important political events and terrorist targets including bombings and protest rallies Although focusing on Nigeria s capital the study has a wider global implication in that it draws attention to how postcolonial countries that were formed at the turn of the twentieth century are continuously fragmenting and remade by the emergence of new nation states like South Sudan Architect of Letters Florian Strob,2022-10-24 News on Ludwig Hilberseimer Ludwig Hilberseimer 1885-1967 is regarded as one of the leading theorists of the Neues Bauen movement in pre War Germany and of modern functional urbanism This set of accomplishments still dominates the public image of the architect urban planner teacher and art critic to this day His development beyond that period has long been neglected The essays in this collection seek to fill this gap offering an exciting and wide ranging new perspective on the work of a central protagonist of modernism Until now most critical studies of Hilberseimer s work came from his place of exile in Chicago and his work in Germany Europe and the USA tended to be viewed separately this volume is the first to attempt to end this separation and encourage a complete overview of his work Previously unknown archival discoveries With contributions by Alexander Eisenschmidt Magdalena Droste Christine Mengin Philipp Oswalt Robin Schuldenfrei Charles Waldheim and others The Urbanism of Frank Lloyd Wright Neil Levine,2016 This is the first book devoted to Frank Lloyd Wright s designs for remaking the modern city Stunningly comprehensive The Urbanism of Frank Lloyd Wright presents a radically new interpretation of the architect's work and offers new and important perspectives on the history of modernism. Neil Levine places Wright's projects produced over more than fifty years within their historical, cultural, and physical contexts while relating them to the theory and practice of urbanism as it evolved over the twentieth century. Levine overturns the conventional view of Wright as an architect who deplored the city and whose urban vision was limited to a utopian plan for a network of agrarian communities he called Broadacre City. Rather, Levine reveals Wright's larger, more varied, interesting, and complex urbanism demonstrated across the span of his lengthy career. Beginning with Wright's plans from the late 1890s through the early 1910s for reforming residential urban neighborhoods mainly in Chicago and continuing through projects from the 1920s through the 1950s for commercial, mixed-use, civic, and cultural centers for Chicago, Madison, Washington, Pittsburgh, and Baghdad, Levine demonstrates Wright's place among the leading contributors to the creation of the modern city. Wright's often spectacular designs are shown to be those of an innovative precursor and creative participant in the world of ideas that shaped the modern metropolis. Lavishly illustrated with drawings, plans, maps, and photographs, this book features the first extensive new photography of materials from the Frank Lloyd Wright Foundation Archives. The Urbanism of Frank Lloyd Wright will serve as one of the most important books on the architect for years to come.

Neighborhood Emily Talen, 2019. In an effort to make neighborhoods compatible with 21st-century ideals, Talen has produced a singular resource for understanding what is meant by neighborhood: a multi-dimensional, comprehensive view of what neighborhoods signify, how they're idealized and measured, and what their historical progression has been.

G Detlef Mertins, Michael William Jennings, 2010. Published in the 1920s by a who's who of avant-garde artists, G helped shape a new phase in modern art. This is the first English translation.

The Barcelona Pavilion by Mies van der Rohe Dietrich Neumann, 2020-12-07. While Mies van der Rohe's pavilion at the International Exposition in Barcelona in 1929 went unnoticed by most of the visitors to the fairgrounds, contemporary critics enthusiastically hailed it as the most convincing statement of the Modern Age. This book presents 100 selected texts about this much-discussed building, written then and now, from the opening speech by the Spanish king to newspaper articles and private letters, voices of contemporary architects, architecture critics, and historians, and even a text by artist Ai Weiwei who created an installation in the outdoor area of the pavilion in 2010. Thus, the history of this building's reception depicts a dazzling picture and inconceivable breadth, including statements by such eminent authors as Frank Lloyd Wright, Leonardo Benevolo, Rem Koolhaas, Peter Eisenman.

Encyclopedia of Twentieth Century Architecture R. Stephen Sennott, 2004. For more information, including the introduction, a full list of entries, and contributors, a generous selection of sample pages, and more, visit the Encyclopedia of 20th Century Architecture website. Focusing on architecture from all regions of the world, this three-volume set profiles the twentieth century's vast chronicle of architectural achievements both within and well beyond the theoretical confines of modernism. Unlike existing works, this encyclopedia examines the complexities of rapidly changing global conditions that have dispersed modern architectural types movements styles and building practices across traditional geographic and cultural boundaries Conflicted Identities Alexandra Staub,2015-10-23 Nation states have long used representational architecture to create symbolic identities for public consumption both at home and abroad Government buildings major ensembles and urban plans have a visibility that lends them authority while their repeated portrayals in the media cement their image as icons of a shared national character Existing in tandem with this official self however is a second often divergent identity represented by the vast realm of domestic space defined largely by those who occupy it as well as those with a vested interest in its cultural meaning Using both historical inquiry and visual spatial and film analysis this book explores the interaction of these two identities and its effect on political control class status and gender roles Conflicted Identities examines the politicization of both public and domestic space especially in societies undergoing rapid cultural transformation through political social or economic expansion or restructuring when cultural identity is being rapidly modernized shifted or realigned to conform to new demands Using specific examples from a variety of national contexts the book examines how vernacular housing legislation marketing and media influence a large but often underexposed domestic culture that runs parallel to a more publicly represented one As a case in point the book examines West Germany from the end of World War II to the early 1970s to probe more deeply into the mechanisms of such cultural dichotomy On a national level post war West Germany demonstratively rejected Nazi era values by rebuilding cities based on interwar modernist tenets while choosing a decidedly modern and transparent architecture for high visibility national projects In the domestic realm government media and everyday citizens countered this turn to state sponsored modernism by embracing traditional architectural aesthetics and housing that encouraged patriarchal family structures Written for readers interested in cultural theory history and the politics of space as well as those engaged with architecture and the built environment Conflicted Identities provides an engaging new perspective on power and identity as they relate to architectural settings Urban Transformations Parker Daly Everett,2019-05-06 Urban Transformations is a theoretical and empirical account of the changing nature of urbanization in Germany Where city planners and municipal administrations had emphasized free markets the rule of law and trade in 1871 by the 1930s they favoured a quite different integrative corporate and productivist vision Urban Transformations explores the broad based social transformation connected to these changes and the contemporaneous shifts in the cultural and social history of global capitalism Dynamic features of modern capitalist life such as rapid industrialization working class radicalism dramatic population growth poor quality housing and regional administrative incoherence significantly influenced the Greater Berlin region Examining materials on city planning municipal administration architecture political economy and jurisprudence Urban Transformations recasts the history of German and European urbanization as well as that of modernist architecture and city planning Diagram Design Thomas Kamps,2012-12-06 A systematic analysis of diagrams as visual representations of factual knowledge The analysis shows that the design process may be divided into three phases data classification graphical decision and layout Performed in this order the three phases more or less reflect the design process of a human expert They also serve as a basis for a constructive theory for diagram design which is the main focus of this book XXXXXXXX Neuer Text This book is a thorough presentation on the foundations of visualizing information providing a systematic analysis of diagrams as visual representations of factual knowledge The analysis shows that the design process may be divided into three phases a data classification phase a graphical decision phase and a layout phase Performed in this order the three phases reflect the design process of a human expert and serve as a basis for a constructive theory for diagram design

Mass-Customised Cities Tom Verebes,2015-12-07 What happens when computational design and fabrication technologies ramp up to the urban scale Though these innovative production processes are currently now largely limited to small scale design projects what will happen when they are applied to the vast scale of the 21st century world city Could new technologies enable an important shift away from mass production to increasingly bespoke and custom designed systems The introduction of standardisation and mass production processes in the 20th century saw the industrial city take on a repetitious and homogeneous quality through the duplication of component parts Today non standard bespoke systems hold out the promise of realising a distinctive urbanism characterized by the differentiation of serial production and the variation of simple parts that should lead to a more complex and compelling whole Given the current pace and rate of urbanisation in Asia the mass customization of the city is set to have imminent and far reaching practical consequences for the rest of the developing and developed world

The Autopoiesis of Architecture, Volume II Patrik Schumacher,2012-04-24 This is the second part of a major theoretical work by Patrik Schumacher which outlines how the discipline of architecture should be understood as its own distinct system of communication Autopoeisis comes from the Greek and means literally self production it was first adopted in biology in the 1970s to describe the essential characteristics of life as a circular self organizing system and has since been transposed into a theory of social systems This new approach offers architecture an arsenal of general comparative concepts It allows architecture to be understood as a distinct discipline which can be analyzed in elaborate detail while at the same time offering insightful comparisons with other subject areas such as art science and political discourse On the basis of such comparisons the book insists on the necessity of disciplinary autonomy and argues for a sharp demarcation of design from both art and engineering Schumacher accordingly argues controversially that design as a discipline has its own sui generis intelligence with its own internal logic reach and limitations Whereas the first volume provides the theoretical groundwork for Schumacher s ideas focusing on architecture as an autopoietic system with its own theory history medium and its unique societal function the second volume addresses the specific contemporary challenges and tasks that architecture faces It formulates these tasks looking specifically at how architecture is seeking to organize and articulate the complexity of post fordist network society The volume explicitly addresses how current architecture can upgrade its design methodology in the face of an increasingly demanding task environment characterized by both complexity and novelty Architecture's specific role within contemporary society is explained and its relationship to politics is clarified Finally the new global style of Parametricism is introduced and theoretically grounded Frankenstein Urbanism Federico Cugurullo, 2021-05-16 This book tells the story of visionary urban experiments shedding light on the theories that preceded their development and on the monsters that followed and might be the end of our cities The narrative is threefold and delves first into the eco city second the smart city and third the autonomous city intended as a place where existing smart technologies are evolving into artificial intelligences that are taking the management of the city out of the hands of humans The book empirically explores Masdar City in Abu Dhabi and Hong Kong to provide a critical analysis of eco and smart city experiments and their sustainability and it draws on numerous real life examples to illustrate the rise of urban artificial intelligences across different geographical spaces and scales Theoretically the book traverses philosophy urban studies and planning theory to explain the passage from eco and smart cities to the autonomous city and to reflect on the meaning and purpose of cities in a time when human and non biological intelligences are irreversibly colliding in the built environment Iconoclastic and prophetic Frankenstein Urbanism is both an examination of the evolution of urban experimentation through the lens of Mary Shelley's Frankenstein and a warning about an urbanism whose product resembles Frankenstein's monster a fragmented entity which escapes human control and human understanding Academics students and practitioners will find in this book the knowledge that is necessary to comprehend and engage with the many urban experiments that are now alive ready to leave the laboratory and enter our cities
