Rays Of The Rising Sun Japans Asian Allies 193145 Volume 1 China And Manchukuo Hardcover:

Rays of the Rising Sun John Berger, Philip Jowett, 2024-02-28 When the Japanese Empire went to war with the Allies in December 1941 it had already been fighting in China for 10 years During that time it had conquered huge areas of China and subjugated millions of people The Japanese needed to control the Chinese population in these occupied territories and for this reason they set up governments from amongst the leaders of the Chinese who were willing to co operate with them These so called puppet governments were designed to rule on behalf of the Japanese while firmly under their overall control In turn the puppet governments needed their own independent armed forces These puppet armies were large in number reaching a total of well over 1 million before 1945 Although poorly armed and equipped these forces had an influence on the Japanese war effort through sheer numbers The Chinese puppet soldiers ranged from the well drilled and trained regular Army of the Last Emperor of China Pu Yi who ruled the newly formed state of Manchukuo 1932 45 to the irregular Mongol cavalry who served alongside Japanese troops in the secret war waged in the Mongolian hinterlands The troops were dismissed as traitors by the Chinese fighting the Japanese and they were equally despised by the Japanese themselves The troops were motivated by a range of reasons from simple survival to a loyalty to their commander The fact that so many Chinese were willing to fight for the Japanese was embarrassing to all sides and for this reason has been largely ignored in previous histories of the war in the East In the first of a three volume series Philip Jowett tells the story of the Chinese who fought for the Japanese over a 14 year period

Barbarossa Derailed: The Battle for Smolensk 10 July-10 September 1941 David Glantz, 2010-11-02 The first half of a two part study on Operation Barbarossa Hitler s plan to invade Soviet Russia during World War II and what went wrong At dawn on 10 July 1941 massed tanks and motorized infantry of German Army Group Center s Second and Third Panzer Groups crossed the Dnepr and Western Dvina Rivers beginning what Hitler and most German officers and soldiers believed would be a triumphal march on Moscow the Soviet capital Less than three weeks before on 22 June Hitler had unleashed his Wehrmacht s massive invasion of the Soviet Union code named Operation Barbarossa which sought to defeat the Soviet Red Army conquer the country and unseat its Communist ruler Josef Stalin Between 22 June and 10 July the Wehrmacht advanced up to 500 kilometers into Soviet territory killed or captured up to one million Red Army soldiers and reached the western banks of the Western Dvina and Dnepr Rivers by doing so satisfying the premier assumption of Plan Barbarossa that the Third Reich would emerge victorious if it could defeat and destroy the bulk of the Red Army before it withdrew to safely behind those two rivers With the Red Army now shattered Hitler and most Germans expected total victory in a matter of weeks The ensuing battles in the Smolensk region frustrated German hopes for quick victory Once across the Dvina and Dnepr Rivers a surprised Wehrmacht encountered five fresh Soviet armies Quick victory eluded the Germans Instead Soviet forces encircled in Mogilev and Smolensk stubbornly refused to surrender and while they fought on during July August and into early September first five and then a total of seven newly mobilized Soviet armies struck back viciously at the advancing Germans conducting multiple counterattacks and counterstrokes capped by two major counteroffensives that sapped German strength and will. Despite immense losses in men and materiel these desperate Soviet actions derailed Operation Barbarossa. Smarting from countless wounds inflicted on his vaunted Wehrmacht even before the fighting ended in the Smolensk region Hitler postponed his march on Moscow and instead turned his forces southward to engage softer targets in the Kiev region. The derailment of the Wehrmacht at Smolensk ultimately became the crucial turning point in Operation Barbarossa. This groundbreaking study now significantly expands on a wealth of Soviet and German archival materials including the combat orders and operational plans of the German OKW, OKH army groups and armies and of the Soviet Stavka, the Red Army General Staff, the Western Main Direction Command, the Western Central Reserve and Bryansk Fronts and their subordinate armies to present a detailed mosaic and definitive account of what took place, why and how during the prolonged and complex battles in the Smolensk region from 10 July through 10 September 1941. The structure of the study is designed specifically to appeal to both general readers and specialists by a detailed two-volume chronological narrative of the course of operations accompanied by a third volume and a fourth containing archival maps and an extensive collection of specific orders and reports translated verbatim from Russian. The maps, archival and archival-based detail every stage of the battle.

Hitler's Miracle Weapons: The Luftwaffe and Kriegsmarine Friedrich Georg, 2003. How close did Hitler come to his dream of developing nuclear weapons? What evidence is there for the design, testing and production of such weapons and their carrier systems? With this first volume in a series of at least three, Friedrich Georg has begun to answer these questions in great detail. The result is a groundbreaking new book on this topic. This first volume describes the efforts of the Luftwaffe and Kriegsmarine to design and produce carrier systems for the nuclear weapons the scientists of the Third Reich were developing. Following an introductory section in which the author outlines the Nazi atom bomb programme, Georg then investigates the enormous variety of craft the Luftwaffe began to either adapt or develop anew that would be used to carry such weapons of mass destruction. These included the search for an intercontinental bomber including the innovative Horten Ho XVIII, lighter designs such as the Arado Ar E 555, Messerschmitt P 1107, 1108 and Junkers EF 132, 140 are also described. The various atom bombs themselves are thoroughly investigated from the 1-ton to the massive 30-ton variety. Information about the variety of carrier systems being developed and in at least one case actually built by the Kriegsmarine is also provided. Finally, the author investigates the reasons why Germany ultimately failed to produce the atom bomb. Appendices provide the most up-to-date research on a variety of topics including the small number of craft Japan was developing to carry atom bombs and the Soviet capture of German nuclear research centres in the Baltic region at the end of the war. Throughout, the author is keen to only rely on the most reliable sources and lays many myths to rest in the process. The result is a truly compelling and groundbreaking work.
