Reach For The Top The Turbulent Life Of Laurence Harvey:

Reach for the Top Anne Sinai, 2007-02-09 The popular screen and stage star Laurence Harvey 1928 1973 is best remembered for his stellar performance in the film The Manchurian Candidate, a 20th century classic. Of his 50 films, Room at the Top not only brought sexual permissiveness to American and British screens and an Oscar nomination but it also branded him a heartthrob sensation. For all his fame and fortune, Harvey's short life was riddled with controversy, demonized by critics and fraught with tragedy. In this revealing biography by Harvey's sister-in-law, readers are provided a close-up view of his career, his three marriages, and his longtime sexual affair with one of his male producers. It also details his battle with cancer and his failure to acknowledge its seriousness. Packed with personal anecdotes, more than twenty black and white photographs, and a filmography, Reach for the Top: The Turbulent Life of Laurence Harvey will fascinate film students, scholars, and fans of the actor.

Reach for the Top Anne Sinai, 2003 This led the way to films with John Wayne and Elizabeth Taylor but despite this period of great popularity, his career was in trouble by 1967 when his work became sporadic and remained so until his death from stomach cancer at age forty-five.

A Companion to British and Irish Cinema John Hill, 2019-05-07 A stimulating overview of the intellectual arguments and critical debates involved in the study of British and Irish cinemas. British and Irish film studies have expanded in scope and depth in recent years, prompting a growing number of critical debates on how these cinemas are analysed, contextualized, and understood. A Companion to British and Irish Cinema addresses arguments surrounding film historiography, methods of textual analysis, critical judgments, and the social and economic contexts that are central to the study of these cinemas. Twenty-nine essays from many of the most prominent writers in the field examine how British and Irish cinema have been discussed, the concepts and methods used to interpret and understand British and Irish films, and the defining issues and debates at the heart of British and Irish cinema studies. Offering a broad scope of commentary, the Companion explores historical, cultural, and aesthetic questions that encompass over a century of British and Irish film studies, from the early years of the silent era to the present day. Divided into five sections, the Companion discusses the social and cultural forces shaping British and Irish cinema during different periods, the contexts in which films are produced, distributed, and exhibited, the genres and styles that have been adopted by British and Irish films, issues of representation and identity, and debates on concepts of national cinema at a time when ideas of what constitutes both British and Irish cinema are under question. A Companion to British and Irish Cinema is a valuable and timely resource for undergraduate and postgraduate students of film, media, and cultural studies, and for those seeking contemporary commentary on the cinemas of Britain and Ireland.

Soho on Screen Jingan Young, 2022-05-13 Despite Soho's rich cultural history, there remains an absence of work on the depiction of the popular neighbourhood in film. Soho on Screen provides one of the first studies of Soho within post-war British cinema. Drawing upon historical, cultural, and urban studies of the area, this book explores twelve films and theatrically released documentaries from a filmography of over one hundred Soho set productions While predominantly focusing on low budget exploitation films which are exemplars of British and international filmmaking Young also offers new readings of star and director biographies from Laurence Harvey to Emeric Pressburger and in so doing enlivens discussion on filmmaking in a time and place of intense social transformation technological innovation and growing permissiveness

Designing for the Movies Laurence Irving, 2005 Irving's time in Hollywood marked the end of the silent film years and these memoirs depict the effect on the industry with astute and penetrating portraits of those who felt the change dramatically Anyone with even the slightest interest in the history of filmmaking and its early characters will not want to miss this insightful account
