Perspectives in Industrial Organization B. Dankbaar, John Groenewegen, H. Schenk, 2012-12-06 This book contains the key note lectures and a selection of papers that were presented at the 15th Conference of the European Association for Research in Industrial Economics EARIE held under the auspices of GRASP at Erasmus University Rotterdam in 1988 plus an introductory chapter by the Editors Upon suggestions by the Editors all papers have been revised for this book some more extensively than others Robin Marris has added to his lecture a synopsis of the contributions to the Round Table on the Micro Macro Interface which he chaired during the Conference The papers cover issues that seem to be both interesting and relevant for the 1990s While some of the papers are cast in a rather established research frame enabling the use of regular academic routines others are first attempts at delineating the contours of areas that are peripheral to what is often considered as the core of Industrial Organization In their introductory chapter the Editors set forth that a neglect of those areas may well relegate Industrial Organization to social irrelevancy Therefore it is hoped that the book will also contribute to a reflection on the main lines of Industrial Organization research for the 1990s thus helping to create a healthy perspective for this part of economics at a time when macroeconomics is undergoing a severe crisis

Rivalry Reuven Brenner, 1990-01-26 A theory of business enterprise and rivalry is developed from the assumption that decisions to undertake new ventures and readiness to take risks are related to fears of being hierarchically outranked

Privatization and State-Owned Enterprises Paul W. Macavoy, W.T. Stanbury, George Yarrow, Richard Zeckhauser, 2012-12-06 The book is divided into three major sections The first presents a theoretical discussion that underlies the other essays The second section deals with privatization issues from the perspective of the United States The third describes research addressed to the U K and Canada In the first chapter

Richard Zeckhauser and Murray Horn develop a wide ranging theoretical framework for assessing the capabilities and role of state owned enterprises it provides a foundation for the analyses that follow In The Control and Performance of State Owned Enterprises they describe state owned enterprises as an extreme case of the separation of ownership and control The focus is on management the incentives it faces and the conflicts to which it is subjected The distinguishing characteristics of public enterprise the authors suggest give it a comparative advantage over both public bureaucracy and private enterprise in certain situations They argue that legislators are more likely to prefer SOEs over private enterprise when the efficiency of private enterprise is undermined by regulation or the threat of opportunistic state action when the informational demands of subsidizing private production to meet distributional objectives are high when it is difficult to assign property rights or when state ownership is ideologically appealing These considerations suggest why SOEs are usually assigned special rights and responsibilities and they help explain observed regularities in the distribution of SOEs across countries and sectors Zeckhauser and Horn apply principal agent theory to identify the key factors underlying the performance of state owned enterprises The Law and Economics of Competition Policy G.
