

A black and white photograph of a person in traditional African attire, possibly a woman, walking across a checkered floor. In the background, there are several desks or tables, some with papers on them, suggesting an office or administrative setting. The overall scene is somewhat blurred, giving a sense of movement.

Reaction And Renewal In South Africa:

Reaction and Renewal in South Africa Paul B. Rich, 2016-07-27 This volume is a timely survey of the changes that have been occurring in South African politics and society since the unbanning of the exile liberation movements in 1990. It brings together a collection of seasoned scholars who examine the debates over changes in such areas as the economy, the state, the legal system, the position of women, and foreign relations. The volume explores the forces pushing for radical change in South African society as well as those resisting it and is particularly notable for bringing a political science perspective to bear on such issues as the restructuring of government and the constitution.

Tourism Strategies and Local Responses in Southern Africa Petri Hottola, 2009-01-01 Tourism growth is one of the primary drivers of economic development and is a core strategy at local and national levels to improve the lives of local communities. However, tourism can bring both advantages and disadvantages to communities, and not all national strategies in tourism management are applicable or suitable in private, community-based, and public sectors. Tourism is used as a main instrument of nation building in many postcolonial countries such as Namibia, South Africa, Botswana, and Madagascar. Using case studies from these areas, this book examines the strategic objectives for tourism growth and how nationally set objectives such as economic growth, increased employment, poverty reduction, black economic empowerment, environmental sustainability, and reduction of regional inequalities work at the grassroots level. Challenging ongoing practices and providing new innovations for tourism development applicable to other developing countries, this study will be useful for both researchers and decision makers in tourism.

Nuclear Reactions Mark S. Bell, 2021-04-15 Nuclear Reactions analyzes how nuclear weapons change the calculations states make in their foreign policies, why they do so, and why nuclear weapons have such different effects on the foreign policies of different countries. Mark S. Bell argues that nuclear weapons are useful for more than deterrence. They are leveraged to pursue a wide range of goals in international politics, and the nations that acquire them significantly change their foreign policies as a result. Closely examining how these effects vary and what those variations have meant in the United States, the United Kingdom, and South Africa, Bell shows that countries are not generically emboldened; they change their foreign policies in different ways based on their priorities. This has huge policy implications. What would Iran do if it were to acquire nuclear weapons? Would Japanese policy toward the United States change if Japan were to obtain nuclear weapons? And what does the looming threat of nuclear weapons mean for the future of foreign policy? Far from being a relic of the Cold War, Bell argues, nuclear weapons are as important in international politics today as they ever were. Sport, Community Regeneration, Governance and Development Rory Shand, 2017-06-26 Sporting mega events are playing an increasingly important role in the governance of community regeneration and development across the globe This book examines the ways in which sporting organisations engage with local communities through projects that target youth health or social issues and act as key partners in governance mechanisms Showcasing original research to suggest that sporting organisations mega events and legacies are now operating as governing instruments in renewal programmes it sheds new light on the role that sport plays in community regeneration and development on an international scale Drawing on the interpretivist approach to governance which bridges theory and practice the book considers how relationships between sporting mega events legacies and local communities are evolving to foster trust and encourage participation With international case studies from the UK Brazil and South Africa it reflects on best practice in relation to governance structure funding mechanisms and partnerships Sport Community Regeneration Governance and Development A Comparative Global Perspective is fascinating reading for all students and scholars with an interest in governance sport development sport policy sport management or the sociology of sport Suffer the Future, Policy Choices in Southern Africa Robert I. Rotberg, 1980 Will southern Africa explode Are there alternatives to violent revolution Can other countries assist South Africa

Namibia and Zimbabwe in achieving majority rule Or can the problems be solved only by the peoples of each nation And what should be done by the West to aid development encourage racial harmony and promote the general welfare For more than a generation Robert Rotberg has visited and written about southern Africa He has not only studied the history and politics of the area but also has steeped himself in the economic environmental and geographic factors that have helped create conflict there Rotberg has blended sophisticated political knowledge with personal experience to recount the past and make possible an understanding of the future The result is a timely wise and lucid portrait of three nations in search of a destiny Suffer the Future is a balanced account aimed at making general readers as well as students of international problems aware of the realistic alternatives for policy in and toward southern Africa

Religious Responses to Sex Work and Sex Trafficking

Lauren McGrow, 2022-08-01 This book examines the history theological beliefs and current contextual practices of faith based NGOs who work in the area of human trafficking that involves the sex industry There are hundreds of religious organizations around the globe who minister with human trafficking survivors and sex workers but what is really happening on the ground and how do theological beliefs support a faith based response Many of these groups represent their work as a cosmic battle against evil forces yet important structural critiques are ignored in the urgency to rescue women and children Using perspectives from both NGO staff and sex workers an interdisciplinary panel of contributors examine specific organizations highlight marginalized voices and analyze undergirding methodologies In doing so the authors provide clear critiques and establish best practice guidelines for faith based NGOs and future religious leaders affirming an intersection of justice based upon critical reflection and careful action This book addresses with nuance an important topic that is often oversimplified It will therefore be of great interest to scholars studying the interaction of religion to sex work and human trafficking as well as academics of religious studies and theology more generally

Entrepreneurial Responses to Covid-19 in Africa

Maud van Merriënboer, Neema Komba, Chanyoung Park, Lotte-Marie Brouwer, Magnus Godvik Ekeland, Hanaâ Benchrif, Steven Kator Iorfa, 2022-12-15 Globally small and medium enterprises SME entrepreneurs were hit hard by the Covid 19 pandemic and subsequent measures such as lockdowns and market closures Africa was no exception Entrepreneurial intentions and activities were expected to have a broad downturn with established entrepreneurs being forced to downsize or quit their businesses while fewer novel entrepreneurs entered the market and started their own companies At the same time entrepreneurship is considered one of the few viable options to ensure an income during uncertain economic times Furthermore the Covid 19 crisis was said to drive innovation and technological advancements globally and perhaps even more so in Africa due to its young demographic This edited volume includes insights gathered during the 2021 NVAS Africa Day which had the theme entrepreneurial responses to Covid 19 in Africa This volume shines a light on two broader themes entrepreneurial intentions and entrepreneurial resilience in Africa in times of Covid 19 The conference was organized by NVAS Nederlandse Vereniging voor Afrikastudies and the African Studies Centre of Leiden

University The first two chapters consider whether the pandemic and its broader consequences increase entrepreneurial intentions Is entrepreneurship a pathway out of the crisis for individuals providing an income and financial stability in a stressed labour market Or have individuals turned away from entrepreneurship due to the risk and a lack of start up funds and subsequent investments The final two chapters consider how the Covid 19 pandemic spurred entrepreneurial resilience and innovation in terms of new products markets and strategies Together these studies provide a cross sectional and cross methodological anthology of entrepreneurial responses to Covid 19 in Africa With contributions from Neema Komba Chanyoung Park Lotte Marie Brouwer Magnus Godvik Ekeland Hana Benchrifia Steven Kator Iorfa and Maud van Merri nboer

Secularism and Identity Dr Reza Gholami,2015-03-28 Within western political media and academic discourses Muslim communities are predominantly seen through the prism of their Islamic religiosities yet there exist within diasporic communities unique and complex secularisms Drawing on detailed interview and ethnographic material gathered in the UK this book examines the ways in which a form of secularism non Islamiosity amongst members of the Iranian diaspora shapes ideas and practices of diasporic community and identity as well as wider social relations AF Press Clips ,1982

Genocide, War Crimes and the West Adam Jones,2008-02-29 Genocide and war crimes are increasingly the focus of scholarly and activist attention Much controversy exists over how precisely these grim phenomena should be defined and conceptualized Genocide War Crimes in most cases their contributions are specifically written for this volume In the opening and closing sections of the book analytical issues are considered including questions of responsibility for genocide and war crimes and institutional responses at both the domestic and international levels The central section is devoted to an unprecedentedly broad range of original case studies of western involvement or alleged involvement in war crimes and genocide At a moment in history when terrorism has become a near universal focus of public attention this volume makes clear why the West as a result of both its historical legacy and contemporary actions so often excites widespread resentment and opposition throughout the rest of the world Glocal Theological Education Bård Norheim,Shantelle Weber,2024-06-14 This book presents a vision for Glocal Theological Education an invitation to rethink and reshape theological training in times of crisis The aim is to train theological judicium the ability to exercise sound judgment and practice discernment in the face of the different crises in the world of today like the climate crisis the changed role of the church and the challenge of youth citizenship It explores what has been learned from developing shared global learning within the framework of local learning communities in Norway South Africa and beyond The book also discusses key practices such as the combination of coteaching online and learning in local contexts and best practice research on other educational activities Contributors also reflect more theoretically on where how and what we can learn from crisis and how these theoretical insights can help us shape theological leaders for the future who can read the times Analyzing Global Responses to Contemporary Regional Conflicts Pietrzak, Piotr,2024-03-18 In a world characterized by persistent local and regional conflicts policymakers and professionals in current affairs and security studies are increasingly challenged From the ongoing war in Yemen to the complex civil war in Syria and the recent third Nagorno Karabakh Conflict the global landscape is shaped by violent disruptions that demand a nuanced understanding Geopolitical tensions humanitarian crises and the intricate interplay of international actors necessitate a comprehensive guide for those seeking to navigate this complex web of challenges Analyzing Global Responses to Contemporary Regional Conflicts emerges as a beacon of insight and a tangible solution to this urgent problem This edition is a crucial tool for academic scholars and professionals providing readers with the knowledge necessary to comprehend the complexities of global conflicts By drawing on geoeconomics geopolitics security studies and humanitarian perspectives the book explores the roots of competition and cooperation among states but also critically examines conflict prevention peacebuilding and the role of key international entities It goes beyond mere analysis offering a roadmap for a more peaceful and stable future
