Reading Architectural History:

Reading Architectural History Dana Arnold, 2003-09-02 Architectural history is more than just the study of buildings Architecture of the past and present remains an essential emblem of a distinctive social system and set of cultural values and as a result it has been the subject of study of a variety of disciplines But what is architectural history and how should we read it Reading Architectural History examines the historiographic and socio cultural implications of the mapping of British architectural history with particular reference to eighteenth and nineteenth century Britain Discursive essays consider a range of writings from biographical and social histories to visual surveys and guidebooks to examine the narrative structures of histories of architecture and their impact on perception and understanding of the architecture of the past Alongside this each chapter cites canonical histories juxtaposed with a range of social and cultural theorists to reveal that these writings are richer than we have perhaps recognised and that architectural production in this period can be interrogated in the same way as that from more recent past and can be read in a variety of ways The essays and texts combine to form an essential course reader for methods and critical approaches to architectural history and more generally as examples of the kind of evidence used in the formation of architectural histories while also offering a thematic introduction to architecture in Britain and its social and cultural meaning

Rethinking Architectural Historiography Dana Arnold, Elvan Altan Ergut, Belgin Turan Ozkaya, 2006-09-27 Rather than subscribing to a single position this collection informs the reader about the current state of the discipline looking at changes across the broad field of methodological theoretical and geographical plurality Divided into three sections Rethinking Architectural Historiography begins by renegotiating foundational and contemporary boundaries of architectural history in relation to other fields such as art history and archaeology It then goes on to critically engage with past and present histories disclosing assumptions biases and absences in architectural historiography It concludes by exploring the possibilities provided by new perspectives reframing the discipline in the light of new parameters and problematics This timely and illustrated title reflects upon the current changes in historiographical practice exploring potential openings that may contribute further transformation of the disciplines and theories on architectural historiography and addresses the current question of the disciplinary particularity of architectural history

History Beyond the Text Sarah Barber, Corinna Peniston-Bird, 2013-02-01 Historians are increasingly looking beyond the traditional and turning to visual oral aural and virtual sources to inform their work The challenges these sources pose require new skills of interpretation and require historians to consider alternative theoretical and practical approaches In order to help historians successfully move beyond traditional text Sarah Barber and Corinna Peniston Bird bring together chapters from historical specialists in the fields of fine art photography film oral history architecture virtual sources music cartoons landscape and material culture to explain why when and how these less traditional sources can be used Each chapter introduces the reader to the source suggests the methodological and theoretical questions historians should keep in mind when using it and provides case studies to illustrate best practice in analysis and interpretation Pulling these disparate sources together the introduction discusses the nature of historical sources and those factors which are unique to and shared by the sources covered throughout the book Taking examples from around the globe this collection of essays aims to inspire practitioners of history to expand their horizons and incorporate a wide variety of primary sources in their work

Women and Architectural History Dana Arnold,2024-07-01 In this book prominent architectural historians who happen to be women reflect on their practice and the intervention this has made in the discipline Of particular concern are the ways in which feminine subjectivities have been embodied in the discourses of architectural history Each of the chapters examines the author s own position and the disruptive presence of women as both subject and object in the historiography of a specific field of enquiry The aim is not to replace male lives with female lives or to write women into the masculinist narratives of architectural history Instead this book aims to broaden the discourses of architectural history to explore how the potentially unnatural rule of women subverts canonical norms through the empowerment of otherness rather than a process of perceived emasculation The essays examine the historiographic and socio cultural implications of the role of women in the narratives and writing of architectural history with particular reference to Western traditions of scholarship on the period 1600 1950 Rather than subscribing to a single position individual voices critically engage with past and present canonical histories disclosing assumptions biases and absences in the architectural historiography of the West This book is a crucial reflection upon historiographical practice exploring potential openings that may contribute further transformation of the theory and methods of architectural history Chapter 9 of this book is freely available as a downloadable Open Access PDF at <http://www.taylorfrancis.com> under a Creative Commons Attribution NonCommercial NoDerivatives CC BY NC ND 4.0 International license

Eleven Exercises in the Art of Architectural Drawing Marco Frascari,2011-03-08 This book deals with the critical nature and crucial role of architectural drawings A manual which is essentially not a manual it is an elucidation of an elegant manner for practising architecture Organized around eleven exercises the book does not emphasize speed nor incorporate many timesaving tricks typical of drawing books but rather proposes a slow meditative process for construing drawings and for drawing constructing thoughts This is an indispensable reference text and an effective textbook for students seeking to advance their appreciation of the nature and exercise of architectural drawings

The Non-Representation of the Agricultural Labourers in 18th and 19th Century English Paintings Penelope McElwee,2016-02-08 The life of the poor rural worker appears to have been one of unmitigated toil within an unequal society a reality seldom endorsed in paintings of the eighteenth and early nineteenth centuries The contemporary viewer who constituted less than three per cent of the population wished to see visions of the idyllic golden landscapes of Merrie England peopled by happy contented workers or alternatively images of the Big House a feature and phenomenon now marching over the countryside fed by a new building frenzy This particular element would soon evolve into an all consuming preoccupation for the wealthy throughout the period Members of the upper echelons of society with their families all attired in fine silks and satins look out at their audience from ornately framed canvases as individuals Yet the rural poor the rabble at the gates the unseen workforce who toiled at the behest of the Master are virtually unknown They have left few records Enclosure came at a price The Poorhouse beckoned And still the agricultural labourer did virtually nothing for most of the eighteenth century to protest or rebel against the inequalities of his downtrodden existence Only the dreaded behemoth of the nineteenth century the threshing machine would stir him into action How would it end

Architecture, Islam, and Identity in West Africa Michelle Apotsos,2016-05-20 Architecture Islam and Identity in West Africa shows you the relationship between architecture and Islamic identity in West Africa The book looks broadly across Muslim West Africa and takes an in depth study of the village of Larabanga a small Muslim community in Northern Ghana to help you see how the built environment encodes cultural history through form material and space creating an architectural narrative that outlines the contours of this distinctive Muslim identity Apotsos explores how modern technology heritage and tourism have increasingly affected the contemporary architectural character of this community revealing the village s current state of social cultural and spiritual flux More than 60 black and white images illustrate how architectural components within this setting express the distinctive narratives value systems and realities that make up the unique composition of this Afro Islamic community

Indian Travel Writing in the Age of Empire Pramod K. Nayar,2020-01-18 Indian Travel Writing in the Age of Empire studies a variety of travel narratives by Indian kings evangelists statesmen scholars merchants leisure travellers and reformers It identifies the key modes through which the Indian traveller engaged with Europe and the world from aesthetic evaluations to cosmopolitan nationalist perceptions from exoticism to a keen sense of connected and global histories These modes are constitutive of the identity of the traveller The book demonstrates how the Indian traveller defied the prescriptive category of the imperial subject and fashions himself through this multilayered engagement with England Europe and the world in different identities

The Architecture of Home in Cairo Mohamed Gamal Abdelmonem, 2016-03-03 The hawari of Cairo narrow non straight alleyways are the basic urban units that have formed the medieval city since its foundation back in 969 AD Until early in the 20th they made up the primary urban divisions of the city and were residential in nature Contemporary hawari by contrast are increasingly dominated by commercial and industrial activity This medieval urban maze of extremely short broken zigzag streets and dead ends are defensible territories powerful institutions and important social systems While the hawari have been studied as an exemplar for urban structure of medieval Islamic urbanism and as individual building typologies this book is the first to examine in detail the socio spatial practice of the architecture of home in the city It investigates how people live communicate and relate to each other within their houses or shared spaces of the alleys and in doing so to uncover several new socio spatial dimensions and meanings in this architectural form In an attempt to re establish the link between architecture past and present and to understand the changing social needs of communities this book uncovers the notion of home as central to understand architecture in such a city with long history as Cairo It firstly describes the historical development of the domestic spaces indoor and outdoor and provides an inclusive analysis of spaces of everyday activities in the hawari of old Cairo It then broadens its analysis to other parts of the city highlighting different customs and representations of home in the city at large Cairo in the context of this book is represented as the most sophisticated urban centre in the Middle East with different and sometimes contrasting approaches to the architecture of home as a practice and spatial system In order to analyse the complexity and interconnectedness of the components and elements of the hawari as a collective home it layers its narratives of architectural and social developments as a domestic environment over the past two hundred years and in doing so explores the in depth social meaning and performance of spaces both private and public

The Routledge Companion to Contemporary Architectural History Duanfang Lu, 2023-07-17 The Routledge Companion to Contemporary Architectural History offers a comprehensive and up to date knowledge report on recent developments in architectural production and research Divided into three parts Practices Interrogations and Innovations this book charts diversity criticality and creativity in architectural interventions to meet challenges and enact changes in different parts of the world through featured exemplars and fresh theoretical orientations The collection features 29 chapters written by leading architectural scholars and highlights the reciprocity between the historical and the contemporary research and practice and disciplinary and professional knowledge Providing an essential map for navigating the complex currents of contemporary architecture the Companion will interest students academics and practitioners who wish to bolster their understanding of built environments Towards a New Architect Yasmin Shariff,Jane Tankard,2010 For many architecture students the ultimate goal in their career is to set up in practice for themselves This book sets out the steps to get there successfully and to make the process enjoyable and fulfilling The authors also explain how you can find out which is the right firm for you Articulating British Classicism Elizabeth McKellar,2017-07-05 Whereas the past decades have seen a profound reconsideration of eighteenth century visual culture the architecture of that century has undergone little evaluation Its study unlike that of the early modern period or the twentieth century has continued to use essentially the same methods and ideas over the last fifty years Articulating British Classicism reconsiders the traditional historiography of British eighteenth century architecture as it was shaped after World War II and brings together for the first time a variety of new perspectives on British classicism in the period Drawing on current thinking about the eighteenth century from a range of disciplines the book examines such topics as social and gender identities colonialization and commercialization notions of the rural urban and suburban as well as issues of theory and historiography Canonical constructions of Georgian architecture are explored including current evaluations of the continental intellectual background the relationship with mid seventeenth century Stuart court classicism and the development of the subject in the twentieth century Biographies & Space Dana Arnold,Joanna Sofaer Derevenski,2007-12-11 Bringing together a collection of high profile authors Biographies and Space presents essays exploring the relationship between biography and space and how specific subjects are used as a means of explaining sets of social cultural and spatial relationships Biographical methods of historical investigation can bring out the authentic voice of subjects revealing personal meanings and strategies in space as well as providing a means to analyze relations between the personal and the social Writing about both actual architectural and imagined pictorial space the authors consider issues of gender childhood sexuality and race highlighting an increasing fluidity and interaction between theory methods and history Biographies and Space is an original and exciting new book with direct relevance to both architectural and art history

American Architect ,1895 American Architect and Building News ,1895 A History of Architectural Modelmaking in Britain David Lund,2022-12-16 Architectural modelmakers have long carried out their work hidden behind the scenes of architectural design and in presenting a history of architectural modelmaking in Britain for the first time this book casts a new light on their remarkable skills and achievements By telling the story of the modelmakers who make architectural models rather than architects who commission and use them this book seeks to celebrate their often overlooked contribution to the success and endurance of the architectural model in Britain over the past one hundred and forty years Drawing from extensive archival research and interviews with practicing and retired modelmakers this book traces the complete history of architectural modelmaking in Britain from its initial emergence as a specialist occupation at the end of the nineteenth century through to the present day It reveals the legacy of John Thorp the first professional architectural modelmaker in Britain who opened his business in London in 1883 and charts the lives and careers of the innovative and creative modelmakers who followed him It examines the continually evolving materials tools and processes of architectural modelmaking and outlines the profound ideological economic and technological influences that have shaped the profession s development Illustrated with over one hundred photographs of architectural models from previously undocumented archives this book will be of great interest to architectural modelmakers academics and historians as well as anyone with an interest in architectural history and modelmaking Architecture Re-assembled Trevor

Garnham,2013-04-26 Beginning from the rise of modern history in the eighteenth century this book examines how changing ideas in the discipline of history itself has affected architecture from the beginning of modernity up to the present day It reflects upon history in order to encourage and assist the reader in finding well founded principles for architectural design This is not simply another history of architecture nor a history of histories Setting buildings in their contemporaneous ideas about history it spans from Fischer von Erlach to Venturi and Rossi and beyond to architects working in the fallout from both the Modern Movement Aalto Louis Kahn Aldo van Eyck and Post modernism such as Rafael Moneo and Peter Zumthor It shows how Soane Schinkel and Stirling amongst others made a meaningful use of history and contrasts this with how a misreading of Hegel has led to an abuse of history and an uncritical flight to the future This is not an armchair history but a lively discussion of our place between past and future that promotes thinking for making

Reading Architectural History Introduction

In today's digital age, the availability of Reading Architectural History books and manuals for download has revolutionized the way we access information. Gone are the days of physically flipping through pages and carrying heavy textbooks or manuals. With just a few clicks, we can now access a wealth of knowledge from the comfort of our own homes or on the go. This article will explore the advantages of Reading Architectural History books and manuals for download, along with some popular platforms that offer these resources. One of the significant advantages of Reading Architectural History books and manuals for download is the cost-saving aspect. Traditional books and manuals can be costly, especially if you need to purchase several of them for educational or professional purposes. By accessing Reading Architectural History versions, you eliminate the need to spend money on physical copies. This not only saves you money but also reduces the environmental impact associated with book production and transportation. Furthermore, Reading Architectural History books and manuals for download are incredibly convenient. With just a computer or smartphone and an internet connection, you can access a vast library of resources on any subject imaginable. Whether you're a student looking for textbooks, a professional seeking industry-specific manuals, or someone interested in self-improvement, these digital resources provide an efficient and accessible means of acquiring knowledge. Moreover, PDF books and manuals offer a range of benefits compared to other digital formats. PDF files are designed to retain their formatting regardless of the device used to open them. This ensures that the content appears exactly as intended by the author, with no loss of formatting or missing graphics. Additionally, PDF files can be easily annotated, bookmarked, and searched for specific terms, making them highly practical for studying or referencing. When it comes to accessing Reading Architectural History books and manuals, several platforms offer an extensive collection of resources. One such platform is Project Gutenberg, a nonprofit organization that provides over 60,000 free eBooks. These books are primarily in the public domain, meaning they can be freely distributed and downloaded. Project Gutenberg offers a wide range of classic literature, making it an excellent resource for literature enthusiasts. Another popular platform for Reading Architectural History books and manuals is Open Library. Open Library is an initiative of the Internet Archive, a non-profit organization dedicated to digitizing cultural artifacts and making them accessible to the public. Open Library hosts millions of books, including both public domain works and contemporary titles. It also allows users to borrow digital copies of certain books for a limited period, similar to a library lending system. Additionally, many universities and educational institutions have their own digital libraries that provide free access to PDF books and manuals. These libraries often offer academic texts, research papers, and technical manuals, making them invaluable resources for students and researchers. Some notable examples include MIT OpenCourseWare, which offers free access to course materials from the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, and the Digital Public Library of America, which provides a vast collection of digitized books and historical documents. In conclusion, Reading Architectural History books and manuals for download have transformed the way we access information. They provide a cost-effective and convenient means of acquiring knowledge, offering the ability to access a vast library of resources at our fingertips. With platforms like Project Gutenberg, Open Library, and various digital libraries offered by educational institutions, we have access to an ever-expanding collection of books and manuals. Whether for educational, professional, or personal purposes, these digital resources serve as valuable tools for continuous learning and self-improvement. So why not take advantage of the vast world of Reading Architectural History books and manuals for download and embark on your journey of knowledge?
