Faulkner and Formalism Annette Trefzer, Ann J. Abadie, 2012-05-29 Faulkner and Formalism Returns of the Text collects eleven essays presented at the Thirty fifth Annual Faulkner and Yoknapatawpha Conference sponsored by the University of Mississippi in Oxford on July 20-24 2008. Contributors query the status of Faulkner's literary text in contemporary criticism and scholarship. How do scholars today approach Faulkner's texts? For some including Arthur F. Kinney and James B. Carothers returns of the text is a phrase that raises questions of aesthetics poetics and authority. For others the phrase serves as an invitation to return to Faulkner's language to writing and the letter itself. Serena Blount Owen Robinson James Harding and Taylor Hagood interpret returns of the text in the sense in which Roland Barthes characterizes this shift in his seminal essay.

From Work to Text For Barthes the text is not to be thought of as an object but as a methodological field a notion quite different from the New Critical understanding of the work as a unified construct with intrinsic aesthetic value Faulkner's language itself is under close scrutiny in some of the readings that emphasize a deconstructive or a semiological approach to his writing Historical and cultural contexts continue to play significant roles however in many of the essays The contributions by Thadious Davis Ted Atkinson Martyn Bone and Ethel Young Minor by no means ignore the cultural contexts but instead of approaching the literary text as a reflection a representation of that context whether historical economic political or social these readings stress the role of the text as a challenge to the power of external ideological systems By retaining a bond with new historicist analysis and cultural studies these essays are illustrative of a kind of analysis that carefully preserves attention to Faulkner's sociopolitical environment The concluding essay by Theresa Towner issues an invitation to return to Faulkner's less well known short stories for critical exposure and the pleasure of reading

Prospects for the Study of American Literature Richard Kopley, 1997-08 What can there possibly be left to say about This common litany resonant both in and outside of academia reflects a growing sense that the number of subjects and authors appropriate for literary study is rapidly becoming exhausted Take heart admonishes Richard Kopley in this dynamic new anthology for this is decidedly not the case While generations of literary study have unquestionably covered much ground in analyzing canonical writers many aspects of even the most well known authors both their lives and their work remain underexamined Among the authors discussed are T S Eliot Ralph Waldo Emerson William Faulkner Harriet Beecher Stowe Walt Whitman Ernest Hemingway Richard Wright Edith Wharton Nathaniel Hawthorne Zora Neale Hurston Henry James Willa Cather Herman Melville Edgar Allan Poe Henry David Thoreau and Mark Twain

Faulkner's Ethics Michael Wainwright, 2021-05-28 This book offers the first comprehensive investigation of ethics in the canon of William Faulkner As the fundamental framework for its analysis of Faulkner's fiction this study draws on The Methods of Ethics the magnum opus of the utilitarian philosopher Henry Sidgwick While Faulkner's Ethics does not claim that Faulkner read Sidgwick's work this book traces Faulkner's moral sensitivity It argues that Faulkner's language is a moral medium that captures the ways in which people negotiate the ethical demands that life places on them Tracing the contours of this evolving medium across six of the author's major novels it explores the basic precepts set out in The Methods of Ethics with the application of more recent contributions to moral philosophy especially those of Jacques Derrida and Derek Parfit

Castration Gary Taylor, 2002-09-11 Castration is a history of the meaning function and act of castration from its place in the words of Jesus in the Gospel According to Matthew and the early Church where Augustine and the Fathers shaped the basic philosophic concepts of sexuality and chastity to its secular reinvention in the Renaissance and its twentieth century position at the core of psychoanalysis Taylor connects castration to the ancient and continuing human drive to re engineer our own biology In the medieval love story of Abelard and Heloise a violent castration makes Abelard a better theologian In the year 2000 a sterile but otherwise

Mizuho Terasawa, 2003-06-18 The Rape of the Nation and the Hymen Fantasy demonstrates how William Faulkner's fictional works normally considered extremely complex and incomprehensible can be thoroughly understood and explicated The volume urges scholars of Faulkner and literature in general to liberate themselves from ideological bondage William
