Reena And Other Stories:

Reena and Other Stories Paule Marshall, 1983 This collection of Paule Marshall's short works illustrates the growth of a remarkable writer. For the first time these stories long out of print or difficult to obtain appear together in a single volume. Introducing the volume is Marshall's much acclaimed autobiographical essay "From the Poets in the Kitchen" from the New York Times Book Review's series called "The Making of a Writer." This collection included newly written autobiographical headnotes to each story and Merle a novella excerpted from Marshall's 1969 novel "The Chosen Place, The Timeless People" and extensively reshaped and rewritten for this collection. It stands as an independent story about one of the most memorable women in contemporary fiction.

Telling Stories Jacqueline Bardolph, André Viola, Jean-Pierre Durix, 2001 The present volume is a highly comprehensive assessment of the postcolonial short story since the thirty-six contributions cover most geographical areas concerned. Another important feature is that it deals not only with exclusive practitioners of the genre, Mansfield Munro, but also with well-known novelists, Achebe, Armah, Atwood, Carey, Rushdie, so that stimulating comparisons are suggested between shorter and longer works by the same authors. In addition, the volume is of interest for the study of aspects of orality, dialect, dance, rhythms, circularity, and trickster figure, for instance, and of the more or less conflictual relationships between the individual character or implied author and the community. Furthermore, the marginalized status of women emerges as another major theme, both as regards the past for white women settlers or the present for urbanized characters, primarily in Africa and India. The reader will also have the rare pleasure of discovering Janice Kulik Keefer's "Fox," her version of what she calls in her commentary "displaced autobiography" or creative non-fiction. Lastly, an extensive bibliography on the postcolonial short story opens up further possibilities for research.
