Birckbichler, 2000      Performed Culture in Chinese Language Education Guangyan Chen, 2020-06-22 Performed Culture in Chinese Language Education A Culture Based Approach for U S Collegiate Contexts elaborates on a cultural awareness oriented cultural performance based and cross cultural communication focused foreign language pedagogical paradigm Performed Culture Approach in the context of U S collegiate Chinese language education Guangyan Chen draws on the data collected through questionnaires comparisons between this pedagogy and mainstream pedagogical frameworks and analyses of curricular development lesson plans and classroom discourses Chen promotes the performed culture approach by delineating the theoretical framework of this pedagogy reporting studies that empirically support cultural primacy in Chinese language education and illustrating this pedagogy through analyses of a curricular structure a lesson plan and classroom discourses Chen shows how this pedagogy addresses the gaps between the social need for global citizens and the insufficient integration of culture into foreign language education The performed culture approach also addresses the overall drop in U S collegiate foreign language enrollment as this pedagogy connects foreign language programs to university missions and social needs      The Routledge Handbook of Chinese Language Teaching Chris Shei, Monica McLellan Zikpi, Der-Lin Chao, 2019-07-22 The Routledge Handbook of Chinese Language Teaching defines Chinese language teaching in a pedagogical historical and contemporary context Throughout the volume teaching methods are discussed including the traditional China based approach and Western methods such as communicative teaching and the immersion program The Handbook also presents a pedagogical model covering pronunciation tones characters vocabulary grammar and the teaching of listening speaking reading and writing The remaining chapters explore topics of language assessment technology enhanced instruction teaching materials and resources Chinese for specific purposes classroom implementation social contexts of language teaching and language teaching policies and pragmatics and culture Ideal for scholars and researchers of Chinese language teaching the Handbook will benefit educators and teacher training programs This is the first comprehensive volume exploring the growing area of Chinese language pedagogy      The Language Educator , 2007      Languages and Children, Making the Match Helena Anderson Curtain, Carol Ann Dahlberg, 2004 Acknowledgements Preface Introduction Key Concepts for Success Elementary and Middle School Foreign Languages Standards for Foreign Language Learning in the 21st Century Overview Section A Focus on the Learner 1 Characteristics of Young Learners Second Language Acquisition Cognitive Characteristics of the Learner      The ACTFL Foreign Language Education Series , 1990      Resources in Education , 1999-04      Chinese Language Education in the United States Jiening Ruan, Jie Zhang, Cynthia B. Leung, 2015-11-10 This book offers historical philosophical and sociocultural perspectives on Chinese language education for speakers of other languages with a special focus on Chinese language education in the United States It provides a comprehensive cross disciplinary look at changes in

CFL CSL education over time in China and the U S and the philosophical political and sociocultural influences that led to these changes The essays address a wide array of topics related to Chinese language education including A historical overview of the field Theories that apply to CFL CSL learning Policies and initiatives for CFL CSL by the Chinese and U S governments Medium of instruction Curriculum and instruction for CFL CSL learners at K 12 and college levels Technology for CFL CSL education Chinese language learning for heritage learners CFL in study abroad contexts CFL teacher education and training This work is essential reading for scholars and students interested in gaining a greater understanding of Chinese language education in the two countries and around the world ACTFL 2005-2015 American Council on the Teaching of Foreign Languages, 2006 The eleven chapters of this ACTFL volume approach language education from a variety of perspectives including the history and current status of language policies language needs of our government and our international businesses teachers teaching and learning assessment instructional technology heritage learners less commonly taught languages and special learners This volume s authors accepted the challenge of answering the following basic questions related to their topic as well as that of expanding upon their themes Where are we now Where should we be or Where could we be How do we realize our vision of languages for all Interpreting Communicative Language Teaching Sandra J. Savignon, 2008-10-01 The emergence of English as a global language along with technological innovations and the growing need for learner autonomy is changing language teaching rapidly and profoundly With these changes come new demands and challenges for teaching education programs This authoritative collection of writings highlights some of the best work being done today in the United States and abroad to make communicative competence an attainable goal The contributors examine what has come to be known as communicative language teaching or CLT from the perspectives of teachers and teacher educators The book documents current reform initiatives in Japan the United States Hong Kong Taiwan and continental Europe to provide a global perspective on language teaching for communicative competence Four major themes recur throughout the volume the multifaceted nature of language teaching the highly contextualized nature of CLT the futility of defining a native speaker in the postcolonial postmodern world and the overwhelming influence of high stakes tests on language teaching The book is a useful and valuable tool for language teachers teacher educators and policymakers

Transverse Disciplines Simone Pfleger, Carrie Smith, 2022-08-31 For at least a decade university foreign language programs have been in decline throughout the English speaking world As programs close or are merged into large multi language departments disciplines such as German studies find themselves struggling to survive Transverse Disciplines offers an overview of the current research on the humanities and the academy at large and proposes creative and courageous ideas for the university of the future Using German studies as a case study the book examines localized academic work in Australia Canada the United Kingdom and the United States in order to model new ideas for invigorated thinking beyond disciplinary specificity university communities and entrenched academic practices In essays that are theoretical speculative experimental and deeply personal contributors suggest that German studies might do better to stop trying to protect existing national and disciplinary arrangements. Instead, the discipline should embrace feminist, queer, anti-racist, and decolonial academic practices and commitments, including community-based work, research creation, and scholar activism. Interrogating the position of researchers, teachers, and administrators inside and outside academia, Transverse Disciplines takes stock of the increasingly tenuous position of the humanities and stakes a claim for the importance of imagining new disciplinary futures within the often restrictive and harmful structures of the academy.

Transforming World Language Teaching and Teacher Education for Equity and Justice Beth Wassell, Cassandra Glynn, 2022-04-29 This edited book expands the current scholarship on teaching world languages for social justice and equity in K-12 and postsecondary contexts in the US. Over the past decade, demand has been growing for a more critical approach to teaching languages and cultures in response. This volume brings together a group of scholars whose work bridges the fields of world language education and critical approaches to education. Within the current US context, the chapters address the following key questions: 1. How are pre-service or in-service world language teachers/professors embedding issues/understandings or content related to social justice, human rights, access, critical pedagogy, and equity into their teaching and curriculum? 2. How are teacher educators preparing language teachers to teach for social justice, human rights, access, and equity?

Handbook for Arabic Language Teaching Professionals in the 21st Century Kassem Wahba, Zeinab A. Taha, Liz England, 2014-06-03 This landmark volume offers an introduction to the field of teaching Arabic as a foreign or second language. Recent growth in student numbers and the demand for new and more diverse Arabic language programs of instruction have created a need that has outpaced the ability of teacher preparation programs to provide sufficient numbers of well-qualified professional teachers at the level of skill required. Arabic language program administrators anticipate that the increases in enrollment will continue into the next decades. More resources and more varied materials are seriously needed in Arabic teacher education and training. The goal of this Handbook is to address that need. The most significant feature of this volume is its pioneer role in approaching the field of Arabic language teaching from many different perspectives. It offers readers the opportunity to consider the role, status, and content of Arabic language teaching in the world today. The Handbook is intended as a resource to be used in building Arabic language and teacher education programs and in guiding future academic research. Thirty-four chapters, authored by leaders in the field, are organized around nine themes: Background of Arabic Language Teaching; Contexts of Arabic Language Teaching; Communicative Competence in Arabic; The Learners; Assessment; Technology Applications; Curriculum Development; Design and Models; Arabic Language Program Administration and Management; and Planning for the Future of Arabic Language Learning and Teaching. The Handbook for Arabic Language Teaching Professionals in the 21st Century will benefit and be welcomed by Arabic language teacher educators and trainers, administrators, graduate students, and scholars around the world. It is intended to create dialogue among scholars and professionals in the field and in related fields dialogue that will contribute to creating new models for curriculum and course design materials and assessment tools and ultimately better instructional effectiveness for all Arabic learners everywhere in both Arabic speaking and non Arabic speaking countries
