Mapping Indigenous Land Ana Pulido Rull, 2020-05-28 Between 1536 and 1601 at the request of the colonial administration of New Spain indigenous artists crafted more than two hundred maps to be used as evidence in litigation over the allocation of land These land grant maps or mapas de mercedes de tierras recorded the boundaries of cities provinces towns and places they made note of markers and ownership and at times the extent and measurement of each field in a territory along with the names of those who worked it With their corresponding case files these maps tell the stories of hundreds of natives and Spaniards who engaged in legal proceedings either to request land to oppose a petition or to negotiate its terms Mapping Indigenous Land explores how as persuasive and rhetorical images these maps did more than simply record the disputed territories for lawsuits They also enabled indigenous communities and sometimes Spanish petitioners to translate their ideas about contested spaces into visual form offered arguments for the defense of these spaces and in some cases even helped protect indigenous land against harmful requests Drawing on her own paleography and transcription of case files author Ana Pulido Rull shows how much these maps can tell us about the artists who participated in the lawsuits and about indigenous views of the contested lands Considering the mapas de mercedes de tierras as sites of cross cultural communication between natives and Spaniards Pulido Rull also offers an analysis of medieval and modern Castilian law its application in colonial New Spain and the possibilities for empowerment it opened for the native population An important contribution to the literature on Mexico s indigenous cartography and colonial art Pulido Rull s work suggests new ways of understanding how colonial space itself was contested negotiated and defined Res: Anthropology and other media including illuminated manuscripts and drawings such as those by Sandro Botticelli Collins additionally delves into a group of cartographically oriented renderings of Dante's afterlife interpreting them in the context of the Age of Exploration He addresses the utilitarian aspect of the illustrations as well by revealing the multidimensional role that these images played for Renaissance readers particularly emphasizing their pedagogical and mnemonic uses Of value to numerous disciplines The Early Printed Illustrations of Dante's Commedia fills a gap in Dante studies and will inspire similar investigations into the visual representation of other literary works in the age of early print Res Hung Wu,Jaś Elsner,2013-02-04 Res 61-62 includes Chinese coffins from the first millennium b.c. and early images of the afterworld by Alain Thote Art and personhood by Björn Ewald Western Han sarcophagi and the transformation of Chinese funerary art by Zheng Yan Reading identity on Roman strigillated sarcophagi by Janet Huskinson and other papers Temple to Love Pika Ghosh,2005-04-20 An excellent analytical study of a sensationally beautiful type of temple This work is not just art historical but embraces religious studies anthropology history and literature Catherine B. Asher Advances our knowledge of Bengali temple building practices the complex inter-reliance between religion state power and art and the ways in which Western colonial assumptions have distorted correct interpretation A splendid book Rachel Fell McDermott In the flux created by the Mughal conquest Hindu landholders of eastern India began to build a spectacularly beautiful new style of brick temple known as Ratna This bejeweled style combined features of Sultanate mosques and thatched houses and included second story rooms conceived as the pleasure grounds of the gods where Krishna and his beloved Radha could rekindle their passion Pika Ghosh uses art historical archaeological textual and ethnographic approaches to explore this innovation in the context of its times Includes 82 stunning black and white images of rarely photographed structures Published in association with the American Institute of Indian Studies Afro-Cuban Religious Arts Kristine Juncker,2014-07-15 This book profiles four generations of women from one Afro-Cuban religious family From a plantation in Havana Province in the 1890s to a religious center in Spanish Harlem in the 1960s these women were connected by their prominent roles as leaders in the religions they practiced and the dramatic ritual artwork they created Each woman was a medium in Espiritismo communicating with dead ancestors for guidance or insight and also a santera or priest of Santería who could intervene with the oricha pantheon Kristine Juncker argues that by creating art for more than one religion these women shatter the popular assumption that Afro-Caribbean religions are exclusive organizations Most remarkably the portraiture sculptures and photographs in Afro-Cuban Religious Arts offer rare glimpses into the rituals and iconography of these religions Santería altars are closely guarded limited to initiates and typically destroyed upon the death of the santera while Espiritismo artifacts are rarely considered valuable enough to pass on The unique and protean cultural legacy detailed here reveals insights into how ritual art became popular imagery sparked a wider dialogue about culture inheritance attracted new practitioners and enabled the movement to explode internationally Res: Anthropology and Aesthetics, 51 Francesco Pellizzi,2007-07-11 Res is a journal of
