Research And Evalution In Education And The Social Sciences:

Research and Evaluation in Education and the Social Sciences Mary Lee Smith, Gene V. Glass, 1987 Mary Lee Smith is an American researcher and academic whose work spanned across fields from psychology to research methodology to education reform. She is a Regents Professor Emeritus of education policy and measurement statistics and research methodology at Arizona State University. Smith along with Gene Glass were known for their pioneering work in using meta analyses for reporting research outcomes. Smith attended the University of Colorado Boulder on a scholarship for her undergraduate studies. Going against advice to become a high school teacher, Smith returned to the University of Colorado Boulder to earn a PhD in counseling psychology. Following her doctorate, Smith joined the faculty at the University of Colorado in research methodology. There she worked closely with Gene Glass in incorporating meta analyses into research. Interviews conducted by Morton Hunt revealed that Smith worked along with Glass in locating the studies, constructing the sample, assessing the materials, coding and calculating effect sizes. Smith and Glass were later co-principal investigators on several important studies using meta analyses in psychology and together with Thomas Miller published the book Benefits of Psychotherapy in 1980. Later on, Smith became a faculty member at Arizona State University where her research interests focused on school and education policy. She has published numerous publications on education policy and published the book Political Spectacle and the Fate of American Schools in 2003. The Evaluation of Research in Social Sciences and Humanities Andrea Bonaccorsi, 2018-01-04 This book examines very important issues in research evaluation in the Social Sciences and Humanities. It is based on recent experiences carried out in Italy 2011-2015 in the fields of research assessment, peer review, journal classification and construction of indicators and presents a systematic review of theoretical issues influencing the evaluation of Social Sciences and Humanities. Several chapters analyse original data made available through research assessment exercises. Other chapters are the result of dedicated and independent research carried out in 2014-2015 aimed at addressing some of the debated and open issues, for example in the evaluation of books, the use of Library Catalog Analysis or Google Scholar, the definition of research quality criteria on internationalization as well as opening the way to innovative indicators. The book is therefore a timely and important contribution to the international debate. Handbook on Research Assessment in the Social Sciences Engels, Tim C.E., Kulczycki, Emanuel, 2022-04-19 This Handbook provides a comprehensive overview of current developments, issues and good practices regarding assessment in social science research. It pays particular attention to the challenges in evaluation policies in the social sciences as well as to the specificities of publishing in the area. Research in Education, 1974 Resources in Education, 1999-10 ACTUAL RESEARCH IN MATHEMATICS AND SCIENCE EDUCATION DOÇ. DR. TAYFUN TUTAK, 2022-09-16 Assessing the Quality of Educational Research in Higher Education, 2019-02-11 Tina Besley has edited this collection which examines and critiques the ways that different countries particularly Commonwealth and European states assess the quality of educational research in publicly funded higher education institutions. Such assessment often ranks universities, departments and even individual academics and plays an important role in determining the allocation of funding to support university research. Yet research is only one aspect of academic performance alongside teaching and service or administration components. The book focuses on the theoretical and practical issues that accompany the development of national and international systems of research assessment particularly in the field of education. In our interconnected globalised world some of the ideas of assessment that have evolved in one country have almost inevitably travelled elsewhere especially the UK model. Consequently the book comprises an introduction, eighteen chapters that discuss the situation in ten countries followed by a postscript. It gathers together an outstanding group of twenty five prominent international scholars with expertise in the field of educational research and includes many with hands on experience in the peer review process. The book is designed to appeal to a wide group of people involved as knowledge workers and knowledge managers, academics, students and policy makers in higher education and interested in assessment and accountability mechanisms and processes.

discipline the changes have been dramatic far reaching and rapid Out of the criticisms of the 1990s and the calls for greater accountability of the early 2000s one idea has come to the fore education science There are two main components to education science The first is the principle that research in education must model itself more closely on disciplines seen as highly credible and successful mainly the natural sciences and medicine The second part is that educators must build their practice upon the insights developed through this scientific research process Overall education science has the potential to change how we think about education how we build knowledge about it and how we know when it is successful This volume brings together some of the most active proponents of education science and some of the most committed critics Within it the idea of education science is explored in depth randomized controlled trials considered the gold standard of education science are discussed in detail and the philosophical difficulties of knowledge in education are explored Established thinkers are brought alongside newly emerging analysts and detailed accounts of the institutions driving education science are included Each contribution is thoughtful and balanced engaging with the issues of the field and how they might be addressed As a body of work this collection of essays provides a well rounded critical discussion of the potential and the problems of the education science movement The Cumulative Book Index ,1988 A world list of books in the English language
