questions Reading this before they embark on their journey could save a lot of problems further down the road

ANDREW VILLAGE Professor of Practical and Empirical Theology York St John University author of The Church of England in the First Decade of the 21st Century Here is a fascinating and engaging handbook every researcher in theology and religious studies should read and assimilate It fulfils a felt need by pooling the wealth of sociological methodologies and applying them to the scientific study of lived religion The author has done a unique service and his work will remain a point of reference for years

FELIX WILFRED Founder and Director of Asian Centre for Cross Cultural Studies Chennai editor of The Oxford Handbook of Christianity in Asia It is very good to see the use of social science methods being developed to aid religious studies and theological research My hope is that this very practical book using such up to date resources as Alan Bryman's Social Research Methods OUP now in its fifth edition will help to develop this important form of study further

ROBIN GILL Emeritus Professor of Applied Theology University of Kent author of the trilogy on Sociological Theology This volume fills an important gap in the field by bringing social scientific methods into theology and religious studies All parties in this conversation have much to gain from a sustained dialogue and this book moves us in that direction

JOHN BARTKOWSKI Professor Sociology University of Texas at San Antonio This is a valuable resource written in a way that theological students will understand and supervisors will appreciate It takes the student by the hand from the formulation of the research topic through methodological positioning and choices and closes with a chapter on supervision expectations I look forward to prescribing it to my own postgraduate students

NADINE BOWERS DU TOIT Professor Theology and Development University of Stellenbosch editor of Race Faith and Inequality amongst Young Adults in South Africa The highly readable yet exhaustive and authoritative text covers all aspects of the variety of methods available to contemporary scientists who either produce or evaluate empirical research The text is intended for students and scholars of theology and religious studies but anyone interested in how religion is practiced in different cultural contexts and want to understand individual lived experiences and interpretations will find this text an invaluable guide

RALPH W HOOD Jr Professor of Psychology University of Tennessee co editor of Research in the Social Scientific Study of Religion series Upon launching out on research students and scholars are always on the lookout for good books on research methodology In Dr Iyadurai's book they will find an excellent manual spanning the length and breadth of what they are looking for I strongly recommend this book to all those engaged in research

FRANCIS GONSALVES SJ President Jnana Deepa Pontifical Athenaeum of Philosophy Theology author of God of Our Soil Towards Subaltern Trinitarian Theology Joshua Iyadurai has been teaching research methods to PhD students in Christian Studies for over a decade He is an expert facilitator in this hybrid field helping both theology and religious studies students use social research methods more rigorously and effectively This book will be immensely helpful to anyone wanting to do research in the field of religion as well as to those in classes focused on research methods I highly recommend it

ROBERT K JOHNSTON Professor of Theology and Culture Fuller Theological Seminary co author of Deep Focus Film and

Theology in Dialogue Social Research Methods for Students and Scholars of Theology and Religious Studies is a masterpiece that draws from Joshua's experience of teaching social research for two decades. The book aims to catalyze theological scholarship using social research methods with scientific precision. Scholars, educators, and graduate students will find this text a welcome resource. I highly recommend it. DAVID TARUS, Executive Director, Association for Christian Theological Education in Africa (ACTEA), author of A Different Way of Being. Theological Librarians and the Internet Mark E. Stover, 2001-08-28. The amount of religious and theological material available on the Internet is enormous and can be daunting. Are you finding the information you need? This valuable book will assist theological librarians, instructors, researchers, and others in making sense of the vast amounts of religious and theological information available today on the Internet. It provides a general overview of what's out there and specific examples that you can access as you read. Beginning with a thorough discussion of information technology and theological libraries, Theological Librarians and the Internet: Implications for Practice compares and contrasts the state of the field in 1990 with the situation that theological librarians face today. Then you'll learn how theological libraries are beginning to utilize Web catalogs to improve access to their unique collections and how the major gateways to these catalogs can be accessed. This unique book also provides you with predictions for the future of Web OPACs. Theological Librarians and the Internet is filled with information on electronic journals in religious studies, Web-based online catalogs in theological libraries, theological distance education, Christian art on the Internet, homiletics and liturgy on the Internet, Web site design, a Web-based tutorial on Judaism. Theological Librarians and the Internet will familiarize you with the creation and structure of the Wabash Center Guide to Internet Resources in Religion. It will also instruct you in using the Internet in religious studies courses and show you how to design a user-friendly Web site for your library so that all of your patrons can navigate it efficiently. No one interested in finding religious information on the Web should be without this volume. Guide to Research Funding in Religious Studies American Academy of Religion. Research and Scholarship Committee, Andrew D. Scrimgeour, 1987. Information Resources in the Humanities and the Arts Anna H. Perrault Ph.D., Elizabeth S. Aversa, Sonia Ramírez Wohlmuth, Cynthia J. Miller, Cynthia F. Miller, 2012-12-10. This familiar guide to information resources in the humanities and the arts, organized by subjects and emphasizing electronic resources, enables librarians, teachers, and students to quickly find the best resources for their diverse needs. Authoritative, trusted, and timely, Information Resources in the Humanities and the Arts, Sixth Edition, introduces new librarians to the breadth of humanities collections, experienced librarians to the nature of humanities scholarship, and the scholars themselves to a wealth of information they might otherwise have missed. This new version of a classic resource, the first update in over a decade, has been refreshed to account for the myriad of digital resources that have rewritten the rules of the reference and research world and been expanded to include significantly increased coverage of world literature and languages. This book is invaluable for a wide variety of users: librarians in academic, public, school, and special library settings.

researchers in religion philosophy literature and the performing and visual arts graduate students in library and information science and teachers and students in humanities the arts and interdisciplinary degree programs

The World's Religious Traditions Frank Whaling, 2016-10-06 The aim of this book is to make a major contribution to the field of religious studies while at the same time paying tribute to the work of Wilfred Smith Although the basis of the chapters is provided by Smith's themes of faith and tradition and Smith's approach to the study of religion this book stands in its own right as a significant addition to both content and method in the global history of religions First published in 1984 it includes contributions by Geoffrey Parrinder Annemarie Schimmel George Rupp Ninian Smart and others

Revisionism and Diversification in New Religious Movements Eileen Barker, 2016-04-08 New Religious Movements tend to start their lives with a number of unequivocal statements not only of a theological nature but also about the world and appropriate behaviours for the believer Yet these apparently inalienable Truths and their interpretations frequently become revised adjusted or selectively adopted by different believers This book explores different ways in which as NRMs develop stagnate fade away or abruptly cease to exist certain orthodoxies and practices have for one reason or another been dropped or radically altered Sometimes such changes are adopted by only a section of the movement resulting in schism Of particular concern are processes that might lead to violent and or anti social behaviour As part of the Ashgate Inform series and in the spirit of the Inform Seminars this book approaches its topic from a wide range of perspectives Contributors include academics current and former members of NRMs and members of cult watching movements All the contributions are of a scholarly rather than a polemic nature and brought together by Eileen Barker the founder of Inform

Religious Truth Robert Cummings Neville, 2001-01-01 Explores religious truth in a range of world religions and discusses the issue and philosophical implications of comparison itself

World Christian Trends Ad30-ad2200 (hb), 2001

Holy Communion, a Spiritual Agent of Harmonious Diversity in Christ Rev. Dr. Kevin Brown, 2024-06-21 Martin Luther King said that the most segregated hour in America is Sunday morning alluding to the fractured condition of the universal body of Christ's followers the Church From 2002 to 2010 I had the privilege of serving as the Executive Director of a nonprofit called Operation Breaking Through serving the greater Hampton Roads area The nonprofit was a network of over one hundred local churches One of my primary responsibilities was to promote racial reconciliation and harmony between the diverse ethnic churches In most cases the demographics of these churches failed to reflect their community Most congregations were monoethnic Significant progress was evident after several years of pastoral internal and congregational external panel and group discussions Church pastors were pulpit swapping and churches were partnering in community outreach Up to this point I realized how much blood sweat tears and time I had spent encouraging pastors and congregations to recognize promote and practice fellowship and communal service Though good and somewhat effective these efforts were all physical with very little thought of spiritual application It wasn't until I was required to write a paper for a theology class at North Park that God opened my eyes to a deep understanding of the sacrament of Holy Communion Realizing that all actual Christian denominations and non dominations mandate practicing this sacrament I gleaned from my studies the spiritual connectedness all believers share in this one sacred act and the binding blood ties all believers share with the author of this sacrament In that one epiphany the dividing wall of ethnicity culture and social Christian norms fell Had Christ by instituting this faithful act woven into the DNA of our born again experience the ability for His divine love and truth to break the chains we would inevitably erect through the weakness of our humanity selfishness and pride What if this one DNA trait of holy communion could activate the true koinonia which may lay dormant in believers because of historical traditions and practices erected by human made religion What if God allowed us to see and experience the depth of spiritual love for our brothers and sisters despite our differences What if we saw communion as a remembrance of the greatest act of love known to humanity and allowed that remembrance to kindle and rekindle a spiritual intimacy between believers that overcomes our bias prejudice privilege and any barrier to the believer s oneness in Christ Holy Communion a Spiritual Agent of Harmonious Diversity in Christ explores this more profound understanding and revelatory power to breathe new life into the reading believer
