It features 56 papers that were presented at the International Symposium on Research of Arts Design and Humanities ISRADH 2014 held at Sutera Harbour Resort Kota Kinabalu Malaysia. Complete with helpful diagrams and tables, the papers cover such topics as artificial reef development, racial discourse in the social media, stoneware as a replacement material for modern ventilation walls, and factors contributing to internet abuse in the workplace. Overall, the coverage focuses on global design trends and demands with an emphasis on people, business, and technology. Inside, readers will find information on art and science in industrial applications, art management and entrepreneurship, cognitive psychological and behavioral science, design technology and sustainable development, humanities and social applications in quality of life, social implications of technology and visual communication and technologies. Taking a multi-disciplinary approach, the book features insightful discussions among academicians and industrial practitioners on the evolution of design that will appeal to researchers, designers, and students.

arts has experienced dynamic development for over two decades The research in these practice and arts based fields has become increasingly mature but has also led to various discussions on what constitutes doctoral proficiency in these fields The term doctorateness is often used when referring to the assessment of the production of doctoral research and the research competence of research students but in architecture and the arts the concept of doctorateness has not yet attained a clearly articulated definition The assessment of quality has been practiced by way of supervising mentoring and the evaluation of dissertations but much less discussed This book offers perspectives on how to qualify and assess research in architecture music and the arts It creates a broader arena for discussion on doctorateness by establishing a framework for its application to creative fields The book is grouped into three sections and includes contributions from international experts in the various fields working in Australia Belgium Brazil Canada Norway Sweden Switzerland Spain the Netherlands and the UK The first section offers general frameworks for further conceptualising doctorateness in the fields in question It is followed by a section that describes and discusses various experiences concerns and visions on the production and assessment of doctoral research reporting from doctoral programmes in different stages of development The third section includes future oriented perspectives on knowledge building processes and asks how the ongoing profound changes in academia could influence the concept of quality in both doctoral process and product The book presents different perspectives on research assessment practices and developments of relevant criteria in the practice based and creative fields of architecture and the arts The contributions propose ways of framing this issue conceptually show the need for awareness of the specific context and tradition programmes develop and give proposals for various potential trajectories for the future

Carsten Sørensen, Youngjin Yoo, Kalle Lyytinen, Janice I. DeGross, 2006-01-17 This book records one of the continuous attempts of the IFIP Working Group 8.2 studying the interaction of information systems and the organization to explore and understand the shifting boundaries and dependencies between organizational activities and their computer support The book marks the result of the IFIP WG 8.2 conference on Designing Ubiquitous Information Environments Socio Technical Issues and Challenges Since its inception in the late 1970s IFIP WG 8.2 has sought to understand how computer based information systems interact and must be designed as an integrated part of the organizational design At that time information systems handled repetitive and remote back office functions and the main concern was work task design for repetitive input tasks and the potential impact of improved information support on organizational decision making and structure The focus of the information system design shifted in the 1980s when computers became part of the furniture and moved into the office Reflecting this significant change IFIP WG 8.2 in 1989 organized a conference dedicated to the design and impact of desktop technology in order to examine how organizational processes and the locus of action changed when the computer was moved into the office Sixteen years later we are experiencing another significant change Computers are now becoming part of our body and sensory system and will move out of the traditional office locations and into the wilderness Again IFIP WG 8 Research for Designers Gjoko Muratovski, 2015-12-26 Today designers design services processes and organizations craft skills no longer suffice We need to discover define and solve problems based upon evidence We need to demonstrate the validity of our claims We need a guide to design research that can educate students and be a reference for professionals And here it is a masterful book for 21st century designers Don Norman Professor and Director of Design Lab University of California San Diego and former Vice President Advanced Technologies Apple Muratovski provides a structured approach to introducing students and researchers to design research and takes the reader through the research process from defining the research problem to the literature review on to data collection and analysis With such practical and useful chapters this book should prove to be essential reading in design schools across the world Tracy Bhamra Professor of Sustainable Design and Pro Vice Chancellor of Enterprise Loughborough University Design is everywhere it influences how we live what we wear how we communicate what we buy and how we behave In order for designers to design for the real world defining strategies rather than just implementing them they need to learn how to understand and solve complex intricate and often unexpected problems This book is a guide to this new creative process With this book in hand students of design will understand and apply the vocabulary and strategies of research methods learn how to adapt themselves to unfamiliar situations develop techniques for collaborating with non designers find and use facts from diverse sources in order to prove or disprove their ideas make informed decisions in a systematic and insightful way use research tools to find new and unexpected design solutions Research for Designers is an essential toolkit for a design education and a must have for every design student who is getting ready to tackle their own research

Design Research for Urban Landscapes Martin Prominski, Hille Seggern, 2019-05-10 Within the spatial design disciplines research through design as a tool and practice has often been neglected This book provides a much needed companion to the theories methods and processes involved in using design based research in landscape architecture and urban design Aimed specifically at researchers completing PhD projects supervisors and designers working in practice it covers applied approaches to help you to use design research in your work With fully illustrated examples of original international design research PhDs from a variety of programme types such as individual structured and practice based Design Research for Urban Landscapes offers PhD candidates and supervisors a clear foundational pathway
