Research In Family Interaction Readings And Commentary:

Research in Family Interaction Antonio J. Ferreira, William D. Winter, 1971 Marital Interaction John Mordechai Gottman, 2013-10-22 Marital Interaction Experimental Investigations deals with experimental studies on marital interaction. Emphasis is on the importance of the role of description in the study of social interaction. Methods for the analysis of pattern and sequence including cross spectral time series analysis are also presented. Comprised of 15 chapters, this book begins with a historical review of several research traditions that have concerned themselves with families and marriages: the sociological tradition, the family therapy or systems tradition, the social learning tradition, and the developmental tradition. Research that points to the potential importance of the observation of consensual decision making processes is also reviewed. A model of marital interaction called the Structural Model, which can be used to predict changes in marital satisfaction, is described. Subsequent chapters focus on the Couples Interaction Scoring System, an observational system for categorizing marital interaction; modern concepts of the assessment of reliability, particularly the stringent assessment that is necessary for sequential analysis; differences between well functioning and poorly functioning marriages; couples' interactional styles in terms of communication skill deficits and the concept of an individual's social competence. This monograph will be of interest to psychologists engaged in research on marriage as well as sociologists and clinical researchers.

Current Topics in Clinical and Community Psychology Charles D. Spielberger, 2013-10-22 Current Topics in Clinical and Community Psychology Volume 3 covers new approaches to the treatment of emotional disorders. The book discusses the use of imagery, fantasy, and daydream techniques in psychotherapy; the psychosocial behavioral model for therapeutic intervention; and theory and research on family therapy. The text describes the use of information feedback as a method of clinical intervention and consultation; the need for psychologists who work with minority groups, i.e., black community, as well as the epidemiology and prognosis of psychiatric disorders in the naval service. Community psychologists, clinical psychologists, psychiatrists, and students taking related courses will find the book useful.

Sourcebook of Family Theories and Methods Pauline Boss, William J. Doherty, Ralph LaRossa, Walter R. Schumm, Suzanne K. Steinmetz, 2008-11-19 Origins We call this book on theoretical orientations and methodological strategies in family studies a sourcebook because it details the social and personal roots, i.e., sources from which these orientations and strategies flow. Thus an appropriate way to preface this book is to talk first of its roots, its beginnings. In the mid 1980s there emerged in some quarters the sense that it was time for family studies to take stock of itself. A goal was thus set to write a book that like Janus would face both backward and forward: a book that would give readers both a perspective on the past and a map for the future. There were precedents for such a project. The Handbook of Marriage and the Family, edited by Harold Christensen and published in 1964; the two Contemporary Theories about the Family volumes edited by Wesley Burr, Reuben Hill, F. Ivan Nye, and Ira Reiss, published in 1979; and the Handbook of Marriage and the Family, edited by Marvin Sussman and Suzanne Steinmetz, then in production.

Handbook of Reading Research, Volume III Michael L. Kamil, Peter B. Mosenthal, P. David Pearson, Rebecca Barr, 2016-11-18 In Volume III as in Volumes I and II the classic topics of reading are included from vocabulary and comprehension to reading instruction in the classroom and in addition each contributor was asked to include a brief history that chronicles the legacies within each of the volume's many topics However on the whole Volume III is not about tradition Rather it explores the verges of reading research between the time Volume II was published in 1991 and the research conducted after this date The editors identified two broad themes as representing the myriad of verges that have emerged since Volumes I and II were published 1 broadening the definition of reading and 2 broadening the reading research program The particulars of these new themes and topics are addressed

A Critical Discourse Analysis of Family Literacy Practices Rebecca Rogers, 2003-06-20 In this groundbreaking cross disciplinary book Rebecca Rogers explores the complexity of family literacy practices through an in depth case study of one family the attendant issues of power and identity and contemporary social debates about the connections between literacy and society The study focuses on June Treader and her daughter Vicky urban African Americans labeled as low income and low literate Using participant observation ethnographic interviewing photography document collection and discourse analysis Rogers describes and explains the complexities of identity power and discursive practices that June and Vicky engage with in their daily life as they proficiently critically and strategically negotiate language and literacy in their home and community She explores why despite their proficiencies neither June or Vicky sees themselves as literate and how this and other contradictions prevent them from transforming their literate capital into social profit This study contributes in multiple ways to extending both theoretically and empirically existing research on literacy identity and power

Critical discourse analysis The analytic technique of critical discourse analysis is brought into the area of family literacy The detailed explanation interpretation and demonstration of critical discourse analysis will be extremely helpful for novices learning to use this technique This is a timely book for there are few ethnographic studies exploring the usefulness and limits of critical discourse analysis Combines critical discourse analysis and ethnography This new synthesis which is thoroughly illustrated offers an explanatory framework for the stronghold of institutional discursive power Using critical discourse analysis as a methodological tool in order to build critical language awareness in classrooms and schools educators working toward a critical social democracy may be better armed to recognize sources of inequity

Researcher reflexivity Unlike most critical discourse analyses throughout the book the researcher and analyst is clearly visible and complicated into the role of power and language This practice allows clearer analysis of the ethical moral and theoretical implications in conducting ethnographic research concerned with issues of power

A critical perspective on family literacy Many discussions of family literacy do not acknowledge the raced classed and gendered nature of interacting with texts that constitutes a family's literacy practices This book makes clear how the power relationships that are acquired as children and adults interact with literacy in the many domains of a family's literacy lives

A Critical Discourse Analysis of Family Literacy Practices Power In and Out of Print will interest researchers and practitioners in the fields of qualitative methodology discourse analysis critical discourse studies literacy education and adult literacy and is highly relevant as a text for courses in these areas Handbook of Family Literacy , Textbook of Palliative Care Communication Elaine Wittenberg, Betty Ferrell, Joy Goldsmith, Thomas Smith, Myra Glajchen, George Handzo, Sandra L. Ragan, 2015-10-23 The Textbook of Palliative Care Communication is the authoritative text on communication in palliative care providing a compilation of international and interdisciplinary perspectives The volume was uniquely developed by an interdisciplinary editorial team to address an array of providers including physicians nurses social workers and chaplains and unites clinicians with academic researchers interested in the study of communication By featuring practical conversation and curriculum tools stemming from research this text integrates scholarship and inquiry into translatable content that others can use to improve their practice teach skills to others and engage in patient centered communication The volume begins by defining communication explicating debatable issues in research and highlighting specific approaches to studying communication in a palliative care context Chapters focus on health literacy and cultural communication patient and family communication barriers and approaches to discussing palliative care with specific patient populations discussing pain life support advance care planning and quality of life topics such as sexuality spirituality hope and grief Team communication in various care settings is outlined and current research and education for healthcare professionals are summarized Unique to this volume are chapters on conducting communication research both qualitatively and quantitatively to promote further research in palliative care
