Glazier, Charles A. Flowerday, 2003-12-30 Brings together in one volume a number of key theoretical and methodological advances in the anthropological study of religion Chapters cover important topics not ordinarily included in books dealing with the anthropology of religion e g bipedalism the study of alcohol film and video images notions of religious agency In addition this collection is intended to build bridges between anthropologists of religion and religious studies scholars Over the last four decades anthropologists have grappled with the dialectical relationship between the examination of cultures from the emic or insider perspective and the etic or outsider perspective Nowhere is this creative tension more evident than in the anthropological study of religion In this volume anthropologists and religious studies scholars come to terms not only with a landscape that has shifted fundamentally but a landscape that is still shifting Essays in this collection raise new and important issues for the anthropological study of religion in new and important ways In intensely personal essays a number of contributors address two fundamental concerns in the study of religion 1 how should anthropologists deal with the beliefs and practices of others and 2 how should anthropologists deal with their own religious backgrounds and beliefs as these may affect their understanding of the beliefs and practices of others A partial resolution to both questions is necessary before the anthropological study of religion can advance to a higher level Psychiatry and the Cults John A. Saliba, 2018-09-24 Originally published in 1987 this title was compiled in response to the concern in some segments of society about the presence of new religious movements in the West in the second half of the twentieth century There are lots of psychological questions surrounding cults and the influence they have over their members These questions have been operative in the accumulation of this annotated bibliography which was intended primarily as a reference guide for psychiatrists and counsellors who advise cult members ex cult members and their bewildered parents and lawyers who use psychiatric arguments in the courts
