Retribution The Jiling Chronicles:

Retribution Yung-p'ing Li, 2003-09-25 Retribution opens with the raucous festivities surrounding the annual procession to honor the Bodhisattva Guanyin Changsheng the young wife of the local coffin maker Liu Laoshi is raped while making an offering to Guanyin in the hope of increasing her chances of bearing a son Changsheng hangs herself following the encounter and Liu Laoshi exacts bloody vengeance on the rapist's own wife and favorite prostitute This act of sexual violence and its retribution provide the narrative pivot around which is woven a web of interconnecting stories whose characters and events provide divergent perspectives on the rape and its aftermath The result is an unforgettable exploration of the intersections of sexual desire sadism folk belief and the inexorable cycles of karmic retribution Affective Geographies and Narratives of Chinese Diaspora Melody Yunzi Li, Robert T. Tally Jr., 2022-09-21 In various ways Chinese diasporic communities seek to connect and re connect with their homelands in literature film and visual culture The essays in Affective Geographies and Narratives of Chinese Diaspora examine how diasporic bodies and emotions interact with space and place as well as how theories of affect change our thinking of diaspora Questions of borders and border crossing not to mention the public and private spheres in diaspora literature and film raise further questions about mapping and spatial representation and the affective and geographical significance of the push and pull movement in diasporic communities The unique experience is represented differently by different authors across texts and media In an age of globalization in the Chinese Century the spatial representation and cultural experiences of mobility displacement settlement and hybridity become all the more urgent The essays in this volume respond to this urgency and they help to frame the study of Chinese diaspora and culture today

A New Literary History of Modern China David Der-wei Wang, 2017-05-22 Literature from the Chinese perspective makes manifest the cosmic patterns that shape and complete the world a process of worlding that is much more than mere representation In that spirit A New Literary History of Modern China looks beyond state sanctioned works and official narratives to reveal China as it has seldom been seen before through a rich spectrum of writings covering Chinese literature from the late seventeenth century to the present Featuring over 140 Chinese and non Chinese contributors from throughout the world this landmark volume explores unconventional forms as well as traditional genres pop song lyrics and presidential speeches political treatises and prison house jottings to name just a few Major figures such as Lu Xun Shen Congwen Eileen Chang and Mo Yan appear in a new light while lesser known works illuminate turning points in recent history with unexpected clarity and force Many essays emphasize Chinese authors influence on foreign writers as well as China's receptivity to outside literary influences Contemporary works that engage with ethnic minorities and environmental issues take their place in the critical discussion alongside writers who embraced Chinese traditions and others who resisted Writers' assessments of the popularity of translated foreign language classics and avant garde subjects refute the notion of China as an insular and inward looking culture A vibrant collection of contrasting voices and points of view A New Literary History of Modern China is essential reading for anyone seeking a deeper understanding of China's literary and cultural legacy
