for Sarah Rector brings to light the intriguing mystery of Sarah Rector who was born into an impoverished family in 1902 in Indian Territory and later was famously hailed by the Chicago Defender as the wealthiest colored girl in the world Author Tonya Bolden sets Rector's rags to riches tale against the backdrop of American history including the creation of Indian Territory the making of Oklahoma with its Black towns and boomtowns and the wild behavior of many greedy and corrupt adults At the age of eleven Sarah was a very rich young girl Even so she was powerless helpless in the whirlwind of drama and danger that swirled around her Then one day word came that she had disappeared This is her story and the story of other children like her filled with ups and downs bizarre goings on and a heap of crimes Out of a trove of primary documents including court and census records as well as interviews with family members Bolden painstakingly pieces together the events of Sarah's life

Shunning Sarah Julie Kramer, 2013-12-31 When investigative reporter Riley Spartz hears that a young boy is trapped in a sinkhole located in the peaceful Amish farm country outside Minneapolis she uncovers a dark web of fraud and deception

Sarah Paul R. Abramson, 1984-01-01 Sarah is the detailed case history of a UCLA undergraduate written by a UCLA psychology professor It is a unique case of psychological survival Despite vicious sexual abuse Sarah has managed to adapt survive and grow Balancing the intense emotional impact of Sarah's first person account Dr Abramson's commentary is interpolated throughout the record of Sarah's life Sarah's story was obtained from seven months of interviewing plus her diaries drawings family photographs and four years of follow ups correspondence and observations This book is significant in that it documents psychological resolution in the face of endless abuse and trauma Dr Abramson provides an unusual perspective by focusing less on the damage associated with abuse and more on Sarah's gradual development of successful means of coping and surmounting negative patterns He writes If you read carefully in between the abuse and self destructive behaviors Sarah emerges as an active striving individual Sarah does not give up she is appalled angry depressed and confused but she keeps fighting to maintain her integrity The resolution of Sarah's existential dilemma was the emergence of faith in herself
