Chinese-Heritage Students in North American Schools Wen

Ma, Guofang Li, 2016-03-02 This comprehensive look at Chinese heritage students' academic, sociocultural and emotional development in the public schools examines pertinent educational theories, complex even inconvenient realities, learning practices in and outside of schools and social, cultural and linguistic complications in their academic lives across diverse settings, homes and communities. Chinese heritage students are by far the largest ethnic group among Asian American and Asian Canadian communities but it is difficult to sort out their academic performance because NAEP and most state/province databases lump all Asian students' results together. To better understand why Chinese heritage learners range from academic role models to problematic students in need of help, it is important to understand their hearts and minds beyond test scores. This book is distinctive in building this understanding by addressing the range of issues related to Chinese heritage K-12 students' languages, cultures, identities, academic achievements and challenges across North American schools.

Schools of Our Own Worth Kamili Hayes, 2019-12-15 Winner 2020 American Educational

Studies Association Critics Choice Award As battles over school desegregation helped define a generation of civil rights activism in the United States, a less heralded yet equally important movement emerged in Chicago. Following World War II, an unprecedented number of African Americans looked beyond the issue of racial integration by creating their own schools. This golden age of private education gave African Americans unparalleled autonomy to avoid discriminatory public schools and to teach their children in the best ways they saw fit. In Schools of Our Own, Worth Kamili Hayes recounts how a diverse contingent of educators, nuns and political activists embraced institution building as the most effective means to attain quality education. Schools of Our Own makes a fascinating addition to scholarly debates about education, segregation, African American history and Chicago, still relevant in contemporary discussions about the fate of American public schooling.
