Sá, João Cabral, 2017-04-05 This book contributes to current debates on the relationship between architecture and the social sciences highlighting current interdisciplinary and transdisciplinary teaching as well as research and practice in architecture and urbanism It also raises awareness about the complementarities and tensions between the spaces of the project including the construction spaces and living space It gives voice to recent projects and socio territorial interventions focusing on interdisciplinary and multidisciplinary approaches between society and space Divided into two parts the first part discusses the possible dialogue between social sciences and architecture while the second part explores architecture politics and social change in urban territories from a European perspective L'espace urbain européen, ou, "Que faire du centre ville?", 1996

Autonomy and Social Interaction Joseph H. Kupfer, 1990-08-14 This book makes a distinctive contribution to the growing discussion of autonomy As the ability to determine one's life in both thought and action autonomy is foundational among our many and varied values Other philosophical treatments tend to emphasize the significance of autonomy for moral theory or institutional arrangements such as legal political or economic power structures Kupfer however focuses on the context of social relations and interactions in which autonomous living occurs He handles autonomy and social interaction reciprocally so that the significance of each for the other is drawn out In addition key themes are threaded throughout such as the nature of dependency self concept and self knowledge and authority Making Community Design Work Umut

Toker, 2017-11-08 Since the earliest settlements people have deliberated the issues that affect their future together Making Community Design Work shows how planners can guide the process toward effective decision making and beneficial community design This well crafted book distills decades of community design experience into a sound conceptual framework of value to practicing planners as well as planning students Umut Toker covers a broad range of planning scales and introduces field tested tools for participatory decision making at regional city community and site specific levels To succeed any planning project must address both the physical space and its users From setting goals to evaluating results Making Community Design Work helps planners navigate the process of creating environments that meet the needs of the people they serve The Routledge Companion for Architecture Design and Practice Mitra Kanaani, Dak Kopec, 2015-11-06 The Routledge Companion for Architecture Design and Practice provides an overview of established and emerging trends in architecture practice Contributions of the latest research from international experts examine external forces applied to the practice and discipline of architecture Each chapter contains up to date and relevant information about select aspects of architecture and the changes this information will have on the future of the profession The Companion contains thirty five chapters divided into seven parts Theoretical Stances Technology Sustainability Behaviorism Urbanism Professional Practice and Society Topics include Evidence Based Design Performativity Designing for Net Zero Energy The Substance of Light in Design Social Equity and Ethics for Sustainable Architecture Universal Design Design Psychology Architecture Branding and the Politics of Identity The Role of BIM in Green Architecture Public Health and the Design Process Affordable Housing

Disaster Preparation and Mitigation Diversity and many more Each chapter follows the running theme of examining external forces applied to the practice and discipline of architecture in order to uncover the evolving theoretical tenets of what constitutes today's architectural profession and the tools that will be required of the future architect This book considers architecture's interdisciplinary nature and addresses its current and evolving perspectives related to social economic environmental technological and globalization trends These challenges are central to the future direction of architecture and as such this Companion will serve as an invaluable reference for undergraduate and postgraduate students existing practitioners and future architects The Palgrave Handbook of Bottom-Up Urbanism Mahyar Arefi, Conrad

Kickert, 2018-06-27 Who shapes our cities In an age of increasing urban pluralism globalization and immigration decreasing public budgets and an ongoing crisis of authority among designers and planners the urban environment is shaped by a number of non traditional stakeholders The book surveys the kaleidoscope of views on the agency of urbanism providing an overview of the various scholarly debates and territories that pertain to bottom up efforts such as everyday urbanism DIY urbanism guerilla urbanism tactical urbanism and lean urbanism Uniquely this book seeks connections between the various movements by curating a range of views on the past present and future of bottom up urbanism The contributors also connect the recent trend of bottom up efforts in the West with urban informality in the Global South drawing parallels and finding contrast between social and institutional structures across the globe The book appeals to urbanists in the widest sense of the word those who shape study and improve our urban spaces Urban Design Jon Lang, 1994 Urban Design the American Experience Jon Lang Urban Design The American Experience places social and environmental concerns within the context of American history It returns the focus of urban design to the creation of a better world It evaluates the efforts of designers who apply knowledge about the environment and people to the creation of livable enjoyable and even inspiring built worlds Urban Design The American Experience emphasizes that urban design must take a user oriented approach to achieve a higher quality of life in human settlements All the keys to this approach are spelled out in chapters that address Urban design as both a product and process of communal decision making Types of knowledge required as a base for urban design action How to apply recent environmental and behavioral research to professional design How human needs are fulfilled through design The true role of functionalism in design Urban design efforts of the twentieth century in the United States are examined within their socio political context Jon Lang reviews the urban design experience from the beginning of the City Beautiful movement paying particular attention to developments since World War II He explores how the twentieth century city has developed as well as discusses the attitudes that have driven major movements in urban design Readers learn a neo Modernist approach that builds on the successes and failures of Rationalism and Empiricism the two major streams of Modernist thought in architecture and urban design They also gain an understanding of how the environment is experienced by people and the implications of this experiencing for architectural and urban design Numerous illustrations throughout

Schneider,2016-09-19 Flexible housing is housing that can adjust to the changing needs of the user and accommodate new technologies as they emerge Flexible Housing by Jeremy Till and Tatjana Schneider examines the past present and future of this important subject through over 160 international examples Specially commissioned plans printed to scale together with over 200 illustrations and diagrams provide fascinating detail and allow direct visual comparisons to be made Combining history theory and design the book explains the social and economic benefits that can be achieved and shows the various ways it has been and can be delivered The book ends with an accessible guide to how flexible housing might be designed and constructed today to achieve adaptable and ultimately sustainable buildings Housing designers housing managers and students of architecture construction and housing will find this book of immense value both as a comprehensive reference and design manual Design Build with The Scarcity and Creativity Studio Christian Hermansen Cordua,Solveig

Sandness,2023-01-31 From its creation in January 2012 The Scarcity and Creativity Studio has developed a teaching method which reaffirms a commitment to architecture as a service to society questions the idea of the individual creator in favour of collaborative design and challenges the traditional master student relationship This book documents the projects and in so doing explains the practices and pedagogic methods which the studio has developed in relation to architecture education in general and design build education in particular Aimed at students teachers and professionals who are exploring the possibilities of design build the 16 built projects are fully documented in text drawings and photos and can be used as both inspiration and references Projects are based in Norway Finland Chile Ecuador Gal pagos Kenya South Africa China

Argentina and Lebanon The Routledge Companion to Architecture and Social Engagement Farhan Karim,2018-05-11

Socially engaged architecture is a broad and emerging architectural genre that promises to redefine architecture from a market driven profession to a mix of social business altruism and activism that intends to eradicate poverty resolve social exclusion and construct an egalitarian global society The Routledge Companion to Architecture and Social Engagement offers a critical enquiry of socially engaged architecture s current context characterized by socio economic inequity climate change war increasing global poverty microfinance the evolving notion of professionalism the changing conception of public and finally the growing academic interest in re visioning the social role of architecture Organized around case studies from the United States Brazil Venezuela the United Kingdom South Africa Rwanda Burkina Faso Nigeria Nepal Pakistan Iran Thailand Germany Australia Taiwan and Japan the book documents the most important recent developments in the field By examining diverse working methods and philosophies of socially engaged architecture the handbook shows how socially engaged architecture is entangled in the global politics of poverty reconstruction of the public sphere changing role of the state charity and neoliberal urbanism The book presents debates around the issue of whether architecture actually empowers the participators and alleviates socio economic exclusion or if it instead indirectly sustains an exploitive capitalism Bringing together a range of theories and case studies this companion offers a platform to facilitate future lines of inquiry in education research and practice

The Architecture of Home in Cairo Mohamed Gamal Abdelmonem, 2016-03-03 The hawari of Cairo narrow non straight alleyways are the basic urban units that have formed the medieval city since its foundation back in 969 AD Until early in the C20th they made up the primary urban divisions of the city and were residential in nature Contemporary hawari by contrast are increasingly dominated by commercial and industrial activity This medieval urban maze of extremely short broken zigzag streets and dead ends are defensible territories powerful institutions and important social systems While the hawari have been studied as an exemplar for urban structure of medieval Islamic urbanism and as individual building typologies this book is the first to examine in detail the socio spatial practice of the architecture of home in the city It investigates how people live communicate and relate to each other within their houses or shared spaces of the alleys and in doing so to uncover several new socio spatial dimensions and meanings in this architectural form In an attempt to re establish the link between architecture past and present and to understand the changing social needs of communities this book uncovers the notion of home as central to understand architecture in such a city with long history as Cairo It firstly describes the historical development of the domestic spaces indoor and outdoor and provides an inclusive analysis of spaces of everyday activities in the hawari of old Cairo It then broadens its analysis to other parts of the city highlighting different customs and representations of home in the city at large Cairo in the context of this book is represented as the most sophisticated urban centre in the Middle East with different and sometimes contrasting approaches to the architecture of home as a practice and spatial system In order to analyse the complexity and interconnectedness of the components and elements of the hawari as a collective home it layers its narratives of architectural and social developments as a domestic environment over the past two hundred years and in doing so explores the in depth social meaning and performance of spaces both private and public

Integrated Information and Computing Systems for Natural, Spatial, and Social Sciences Rückemann, Claus-Peter, 2012-10-31 The 21st century has seen a number of advancements in technology including the use of high performance computing Computing resources are being used by the science and economy fields for data processing simulation and modeling These innovations aid in the support of production logistics and mobility processes Integrated Information and Computing Systems for Natural Spatial and Social Sciences covers a carefully selected spectrum of the most up to date issues revealing the benefits dynamism potential and challenges of information and computing system application scenarios and components from a wide spectrum of prominent disciplines This comprehensive collection offers important guidance on the development stage of the universal solution to information and computing systems for researchers

as well as industry decision makers and developers Reconstructing Architecture for the Twenty-first Century Anthony Jackson, 1995 This volume is an eloquent and farsighted call for a new approach to thinking about producing and inhabiting architecture Using a richly conceived architectural history as a means for analysing debates that reverberate throughout the arts and human sciences Anthony Jackson examines the myths of the architectural profession and in so doing reveals how they have arisen out of particular relations of power in a world shifting from autocracy to democracy Jackson exposes the inadequacies of old conceptions of architecture as embodying metaphysical properties and of architects as the sole keepers of this esoteric knowledge He challenges architects to acknowledge and celebrate building as an expression of the ideals and values of the broader based classless communities to which they now belong The less people are excluded from the design process the more likely it is to be effective in bringing about a human made environment which enriches the lives of its inhabitants In examining intersecting ideas about myth culture class and design the author draws examples from a wide array of architectural styles ranging from Classical to Post Modern The result is a work that is extraordinarily provocative and useful for architects visual artists cultural historians and sociologists as well as for supporters of all forms of participatory democracy BOOK JACKET Title Summary field provided by Blackwell North America Inc All Rights Reserved
