Folk-Lore and Legends: Scotland Anonymous, The romantic vale of Corriewater in Annandale is regarded by the inhabitants a pastoral and unmingled people as the last border refuge of those beautiful and capricious beings the fairies Many old people yet living imagine they have had intercourse of good words and good deeds with the good folk and continue to tell that in the ancient days the fairies danced on the hill and revelled in the glen and showed themselves like the mysterious children of the deity of old among the sons and daughters of men Their visits to the earth were periods of joy and mirth to mankind rather than of sorrow and apprehension They played on musical instruments of wonderful sweetness and variety of note spread unexpected feasts the supernatural flavour of which overpowered on many occasions the religious scruples of the Presbyterian shepherds performed wonderful deeds of horsemanship and marched in midnight processions when the sound of their elfin minstrelsy charmed youths and maidens into love for their persons and pursuits and more than one family of Corriewater have the fame of augmenting the numbers of the elfin chivalry Faces of friends and relatives long since doomed to the battle trench or the deep sea have been recognised by those who dared to gaze on the fairy march The maid has seen her lost lover and the mother her stolen child and the courage to plan and achieve their deliverance has been possessed by at least one border maiden In the legends of the people of Corrievale there is a singular mixture of elfin and human adventure and the traditional story of the Cupbearer to the Queen of the Fairies appeals alike to our domestic feelings and imagination In one of the little green loops or bends on the banks of Corriewater mouldered walls and a few stunted wild plum trees and vagrant roses still point out the site of a cottage and garden A well of pure spring water leaps out from an old tree root before the door and here the shepherds shading themselves in summer from the influence of the sun tell to their children the wild tale of Elphin Irving and his sister Phemie and singular as the story seems it has gained full credence among the people where the scene is laid I ken the tale and the place weel interrupted an old Scottish woman who from the predominance of scarlet in her apparel seemed to have been a follower of the camp I ken them weel and the tale's as true as a bullet to its aim and a spark to powder O bonnie Corriewater a thousand times have I pulled gowans on its banks wi ane that lies stiff and stark on a foreign shore in a bloody grave and

 Harris,2016-04-15 Jason Marc Harris s ambitious book argues that the tensions between folk metaphysics and Enlightenment values produce the literary fantastic Demonstrating that a negotiation with folklore was central to the canon of British literature he explicates the complicated rhetoric associated with folkloric fiction His analysis includes a wide range of writers including James Barrie William Carleton Charles Dickens George Eliot Sheridan Le Fanu Neil Gunn George MacDonald William Sharp Robert Louis Stevenson and James Hogg These authors Harris suggests used folklore to articulate profound cultural ambivalence towards issues of class domesticity education gender imperialism nationalism race politics religion and metaphysics Harris s analysis of the function of folk metaphysics in nineteenth and early twentieth century narratives reveals the ideological agendas of the appropriation of folklore and the artistic potential of superstition in both folkloric and literary contexts of the supernatural Notes on the Folk-Lore of the North-East of Scotland (Classic Reprint) Walter Gregor,2016-07-19 Excerpt from Notes on the Folk Lore of the North East of Scotland N the occasion of a birth there were present a few of the mother s female friends in the neighbourhood besides the midwife But it was not every woman that was permitted to attend A woman with child was not allowed to be in the room and if two women with child happened to be living in the same house when the one felt the pains of labour they took a straw or a stalk of grass or some such thing and broke it each repeating the words Ye tak yours an I tak mine Neither could a woman giving suck seat herself on the edge of the bed of the lying in woman from the belief that such an action stopped the flow of the milk of the lying in woman If a woman in this condition did do so unwittingly and the milk ceased the lying in mother whose milk had departed had to get secretly the child of her who had been the cause of the disappearance of the milk and with the aid of a friend To pass it under and over her
