Catharine Macaulay Hester Lynch Piozzi and Jane Austen and shows how each of their contributions to historical discourse differed greatly as a result of political historical religious class and generic affiliations Adding their contributions to accounts of early modern writing refutes the assumption that historiography was an exclusive men's club and that fiction was the only prose genre open to women      The Cambridge Paperback Guide to Literature in English Ian Ousby, 1996-02-23 Derived from the parent Guide to Literature in English this volume offers in concise form over 4 000 entries on literature in English from cultures throughout the world Writers and major works from the UK and the USA are represented as are those from Canada the Caribbean Australia India and Africa The coverage is broad from the classics of English literature to the best of modern writing Additionally the Guide has a wealth of entries on literary movements groups or schools in literature and criticism literary magazines genres and sub genres critical concepts and rhetorical terms      Nationalism and Irony Yoon Sun Lee, 2004-08-26 Linking together two of the most significant developments of the Romantic period this study shows how Romantic nationalism in Britain developed irony's potential as a powerful source of civic cohesion Britain's politics of deference its traditionalism and its celebration of productivity all became occasions for the development of loyalist irony by non English conservatives      Paul Oda Wischmeyer, 2012-02-02      Writing the Reader Dorothee Birke, 2016-08-08 The history of the novel is also a history of shifting views of the value of novel reading This study investigates how novels themselves participate in this development by featuring reading as a multidimensional cultural practice English novels about obsessive reading written in times of medial transition serve as test cases for a model that brings together analyses of form and content      Cambridge Readings in Literature George Sampson, 1918      Encyclopedia of British Writers, 1800 to the Present George Stade, Karen Karbiener, 2010-05-12 Contains alphabetically arranged entries that provide biographical and critical information on major and lesser known nineteenth and twentieth century British writers and includes articles on key schools of literature and genres      Women, Writing and the Public Sphere, 1700-1830 Elizabeth Eger, 2001-01-04 An international team of specialists examine the dynamic relation between women and the public sphere      Landscapes of Memory Gerald E.
