Long Road Called Goodbye:

Over Streams and Squirrel Woods... Alys Williams, 2011 I wanted to write about people who have a disease which destroys the ability to communicate or recognise anyone causes the loss of bodily functions forces dependency and dehumanises the sufferer as Lewy body dementia did to my Mum Some form of dementia affects 1 in 20 of the over 65 s and 1 in 5 of over 80 s so many of us how does it feel if you know that it is happening to you Some sufferers have said that it enriches awareness and acts as a prism through which life is viewed differently I could see that fantasy and reality merged in my Mum s mind and often wondered if she had an alternative world where her insecurities and fears manifested themselves as monsters and where she was powerful resourceful and a leader in contrast to her claustrophobic trapped and deteriorating reality Hopefully there is still power and creativity in the human mind even when it is damaged by plaques and tangles I have imagined her thoughts based on what she said to me and from what I observed and have described factually and honestly the journey we took together Recording my experience of her illness treatment and life in two nursing homes led me to question how we treat our elderly our shocking lack of effort to communicate with those with dementia and what constitutes identity self and the soul Over Streams and Squirrel Woods explores what can happen when reality becomes too painful and the disconnection between people when they see and hear differently from one another It is about boundless love frustration guilt and the inexorable inevitability of aging This is a valuable addition to the dementia literature rewriting our expectation of what those with dementia can think John Suchet

The Long Road Henrique Van Biene, 2024-10-29 The Long Road tells the true story of a boy who faced hunger cold poverty discrimination and persecution due to his Jewish origins but managed to reach adulthood as a winner He crossed the world alone working in various professions fleeing war and Nazism building and losing families until settling in Brazil In our country he found peace love tranquillity and finally a place to stay raise his children and adopt as his home until his passage to eternity This long journey is told in an autobiographical way allowing the reader to have a sensitive view of historical facts based on the fears anxieties doubts and dreams of a real character In addition to the well known stories of concentration camps Henrique Van Biene leads the reader to reflect on the struggle for survival in such a hostile environment

Sorrow's Long Road Barbara Blatchley, 2025-09-16 After the research psychologist Barbara Blatchley s husband and partner of thirty six years passed away her life changed utterly Seeking to understand the pain and confusion she felt Blatchley began exploring the psychology and neuroscience of bereavement Why does grief last so long and hurt so much How do we come to terms with loss In Sorrow s Long Road Blatchley interweaves an engaging and reader friendly look at the research on grief with her powerful personal narrative Beginning with the day of her husband s death she traces the questions that loss raised and the answers that science provides Blatchley examines the psychology of love and attachment detailing how we bond with others and what happens when those bonds are broken She considers the storm of emotions that the bereaved experience as well as both the physical and psychological effects of grieving Blatchley maps out how we adapt to the changes that loss brings and find a new identity afterward In addition to her own experiences she shares the stories of other people who have suffered a loss and struggled to recover illustrating how grief changes over time Accessibly written and deeply empathetic Sorrow s Long Road humanizes the science showing how psychology and neuroscience can help us make sense of the darkest times in our lives Health Professional and Patient Interaction - E-Book Amy M. middle class creatives through the shock of diagnosis coping with the ongoing illness not coping with the illness to the indignities of care home life The Longest Farewell is a moving description of James' utter mental and physical deterioration and the effect that it had both on him and on the people from whom he was involuntarily retreating particularly Nuala. Her life is completely taken over her frustration at trying to cope her guilt at handing over his care to professionals are just part of her at times harrowing story. With seemingly little to do but wait for his death Nuala meets Bonnie another resident at the care home suffering from the same condition. In turn she meets Bonnie's husband the broadcaster John Suchet and the similarity of their positions becomes a bond between them. After the deaths of James and Bonnie and some guilt induced false starts Nuala's story takes a bitter sweet turn they become partners and eventually marry. The Longest Farewell is a heartfelt yet inspiring account of dealing with dementia and of unexpectedly finding a happy ending. Moving heart breaking and terrifying. But best of all from beginning to the best of endings it's a book about love. Sally Magnusson A Long Trip in a Prairie Schooner

Joel Barnett, 1928 A Long Road To Freedom Mary Mc Cartan, 2011-07-22 A Long Road to Freedom The Life of Patrick McCrystal. An Irish Soldier's Cry for Peace. By Mary Mc Cartan. Most men returning from World War 2 never spoke about their experiences. Still in their youth they simply closed the book on the past and started a new life. The young Irish fellows returning especially to the North were forced to bury their history even further down and completely deny it for their own safety. Patrick Mc Crystal was one of those men who arrived home alive with a story of horror. But he locked that story inside for 53 years before being forced to tell it. This is his story. A first hand experience of a life time of war through the eyes of one Peace loving man who has seen the devastation of some of the most gruesome attacks on civilian populations in the 20th Century. Patrick found himself in Malta in 1940 trapped in the most bombed place in world history. After surviving that siege he ended up in the frontline as the Germans slaughtered British Troops on Leros. As a POW Patrick helped bury the tens of thousands of German civilians killed in Dresden by Allied attacks. On returning home to peaceful normality war found him again in 1969. Raising a family through the Northern Ireland Troubles was difficult and Patrick suffered the loss of his own daughter in the bombing of his hometown of Omagh in 1998. This is the survival story of a man who has seen the best and worst of human nature and truly understands the price of freedom. My Enemy, My Friend Elizabeth Laird, 2025-06-26
