Longman Anth of World Lit Vol C David Damrosch, 2004-09 Globalization and Literature Suman Gupta, 2013-04-30 This book presents a state of the art overview of the relationship between globalization studies and literature and literary studies and the bearing that they have on each other It engages with the manner in which globalization is thematized in literary works examines the relationship between globalization theory and literary theory and discusses the impact of globalization processes on the production and reception of literary texts Suman Gupta argues that while literature has registered globalization processes in relevant ways there has been a missed articulation between globalization studies and literary studies Examples are given of some of the ways in which this slippage is now being addressed and may be taken forward taking up such themes as the manner in which anti globalization protests and world cities have figured in literary works the ways in which theories of postmodernism and postcolonialism familiar in literary studies have diverged from and converged with globalization studies and how industries to do with the circulation of literature are becoming globalized This book is intended for university level students and teachers researchers and other informed readers with an interest in the above issues and serves as both a survey of the field and an intervention within it

On Literary Worlds Eric Hayot, 2012-10-09 Although literature is not a technology the historical models literary scholars use to describe it owe a great deal to the languages of originality novelty progress and invention that characterize technological development However this quintessentially modern mindset putting progress at the center of historicity makes it difficult for anyone eager to mount a case for why someone interested in the history of modern literary aesthetics ought to read the literature of the non Western world In this groundbreaking book Eric Hayot argues that contemporary debates about world literature and world literary systems can be rethought through an attention to the world creating force of aesthetic objects As he rethinks from the ground up our concepts of literary progress and historicity Hayot re describes the history of modern literature as we know it or as we think we know it developing new concepts and new formal languages to describe the aesthetic physics of the socially and imaginatively possible Connecting this physics to historical shifts in world view ranging from Copernicus to Marx Don Quijote to Battlestar Galactica On Literary Worlds shows how the very notion of the modern is at heart a cosmographical social form and opens vast new directions for the future analysis of the activity and force of literature

The Concept of Humanity in an Age of Globalization Longxi Zhang, 2012 Rethinking humanity as a concept in our age of globalization and its relevance to the social and political reality of our times are the topic of this book It calls for the reclaiming of humanism as an effective response to the conflict turmoil and violence we witness in the world today Concepts of humanity and humanism have become suspect of naivete at best and guilty of bad faith and repressive ideologies at worst Yet hope for improvement is incorrigibly human the concept of humanity still holds enormous attraction to intellectuals and humanistic scholars At the same time it is important to realize that the critique of humanism is very much based on and limited to Western social and historical experience To re conceptualize humanity and humanism from a truly global perspective will help in reclaiming a more inclusive kind of humanism In this sense a cross cultural perspective is important for reclaiming humanism in our age of globalization The present volume is the result of such an effort The diversity of the authors views speaks eloquently to the complexity of the concept of humanity or what constitutes the distinctly human and therefore the necessity to have an in depth dialogue on the
