Harry Langdon Gabriella Oldham, Mabel Langdon, 2017-04-18

Among silent film comedians three names stand out Charlie Chaplin Buster Keaton and Harold Lloyd but Harry Langdon indisputably deserves to sit among them as the fourth king In films such as The Strong Man 1926 and Long Pants 1927 Langdon parlayed his pantomime talents expressive eyes and childlike innocence into silent era stardom This in depth biography which features behind the scenes accounts and personal recollections compiled by Langdon's late wife provides a full and thoughtful picture of this multifaceted entertainer and his meteoric rise and fall Authors Gabriella Oldham and Mabel Langdon explore how the actor developed and honed his comedic skills in amateur shows medicine shows and vaudeville Together they survey his early work on the stage at the turn of the twentieth century as well as his iconic routines and characters They also evaluate his failures from the early sound period including his decision to part ways with director Frank Capra Despite his dwindling popularity following the introduction of talkies Langdon persevered and continued to perform in theater radio and film literally until his dying day leaving behind a unique and brilliant body of work Featuring never before published stories and photos from his immediate family this biography is a fascinating and revealing look at an unsung silent film giant

Tourism and the Branded City Stephanie Hemelryk Donald, John G. Gammack, 2016-02-24

Comparing the major Pacific Rim cities of Sydney Hong Kong and Shanghai this book examines world city branding Whilst all three cities compete on the world's stage for events, tourists and investment they are also at the centre of distinct film traditions and their identities are thus strongly connected with a cinematic impression. Using an interdisciplinary approach, this book not only analyses the city branding of these cities from the more widely researched perspectives of tourism, marketing and regional development but also draws in cultural studies and psychology approaches which offer fresh and useful insights to place branding and marketing in general. The authors compare and contrast qualitative and quantitative original data as well as critically analyzing current texts and debates on city branding. In conclusion, they argue that city branding should contribute not only to regional development and identity but also to sustainable economic well-being and public happiness.

The Silent Films of Harry Langdon (1923-1928) James L. Neibaur, 2012-07-06 In The Silent Films of Harry Langdon 1923-1928, film historian James Neibaur examines Langdon's strange, fascinating work during the silent era when he made landmark films that were often ahead of their time. Extensively reviewing the comedian's silent screen work, film by film.

Rhetoric and Human Consciousness Craig R. Smith, 2017-04-12 For two decades, students and instructors have relied on award-winning author Craig Smith's detailed description and analysis of rhetorical theories and the historical contexts for major thinkers who advanced them. He employs key themes from important philosophical schools in this well-researched chronicle of rhetoric and human consciousness. One is that rhetoric is a response to uncertainty. The modern philosophers like the naturalists of ancient Greece and the Scholastics who preceded them tried to end uncertainty by combining the discoveries of science and psychology with rationalism. Their aim was progress and a consensus among experts as to what truth is. However, where modernism proved ineffective, rhetoric was revived to fill the breach. Another significant theme is that different conceptions of human consciousness lead to different theories of rhetoric, and for every major school of thought, another school of thought forms in reaction. Classic and contemporary examples demonstrate the usefulness of rhetorical theory, especially its ability to inform and guide. By providing probes for rhetorical criticism, discussions also demonstrate that rhetorical criticism illustrates, verifies and refines rhetorical theory. Thus, the synergistic relationship between theory and criticism in rhetoric is no different than in other arts. Theory informs practice; analysis of successful practice refines theory. Smith's absorbing study has been expanded to include thorough treatments of rhetoric in the Romantic Era, feminist and queer theory, and historical context for the creation of rhetorical theory and its use in public address.

David Persuitte, 2010-07-27 Just as a growing interest in millennialism at the turn of this century has rejuvenated religious debate and questions concerning the fate of the world, so did Mormonism develop from millennial enthusiasm early in the nineteenth century. Joseph Smith, the founder of Mormonism and a provocative even controversial figure in history, declared that he had been given the authority to restore the true church in the latter days. The primary source of Smith's latter-day revelation is The Book of Mormon, and to fully understand his role as the founder of the
