Macroeconomic Management When Policy Space is Constrained Vitor Gaspar, Mr. Maurice Obstfeld, Ms. Ratna Sahay, Mr. Douglas Laxton, Mr. Dennis P Botman, Kevin Clinton, Mr. Romain A Duval, Kotaro Ishi, Zoltan Jakab, Laura Jaramillo, Mr. Constant A Lonkeng Ngouana, Mr. Tommaso Mancini Griffoli, Mr. Joannes Mongardini, Susanna Mursula, Erlend Nier, Ms. Yulia Ustyugova, Hou Wang, Mr. Oliver Wuensch, 2016-09-28 The recovery in GDP growth since the global financial crisis has been halting and weak Concern is widespread that countercyclical policies have run out of space or lack the power to raise growth or deal with the next negative shock This note argues that room exists for effective policies and that it should be used if appropriate The most promising route involves a comprehensive consistent and coordinated approach to policy making Comprehensive policy actions within a country exploit synergies making the whole greater than the sum of parts Consistent policy frameworks anchor long term expectations while allowing decisive short to medium term accommodation whenever necessary Coordinated policies across major economies amplify the helpful effects of individual policy actions through positive cross border spillovers The findings of this paper indicate that policy coordination adds particular value if the current approach falls short of reviving growth or in the event of a further downward shock

Institutionalised Summits in International Governance Daniel Odinius, 2021-10-21 This book analyses the role of institutionalised summits in international governance adding a fresh perspective to the controversial debate over the value of institutionalised summits for international governance It argues that the contribution of these summits to negotiating and implementing international agreements on policy change is ambivalent Based on an innovative theoretical model the book proposes that states strategically select summits with their specific institutional design for advancing their policy preferences Developing the route to the summit and the route from the summit as precise causal mechanisms the author argues that these choices explain the ambivalence of summit involvement With empirically rich case studies on the Group of 7 G7 and the European Council the book provides a rare systematic comparison of different summits The empirical record shows strikingly similar patterns for the G7 and the European Council but it also points to variation deserving further attention in the study of summits in different institutional environments It will be of interest to researchers in International Relations Global Governance and European Politics and those interested in global institutions and decision making
