Madness In Medieval French Literature Identities Found And Lost:

Madness in Medieval French Literature Sylvia Huot, 2003 Madness is a frequent theme in medieval French literature This title presents a variety of texts which illustrate the wide range of attitudes towards madness and its uses as a literary device tying in with contemporary interest in the politics of identity and its literary constructions Madness in Medieval French Literature Sylvia Huot, 2003 Written by one of the leading critics in medieval studies this new book explores the representations of madness in medieval French literature Drawing on a range of modern psychoanalytic theories and an impressive range of texts from the twelfth to the fifteenth century Sylvia Huot focuses on the relationship between madness and identity both personal and collective and demonstrates the cultural significance of madness in the Middle Ages Voice in Later Medieval English Literature David Lawton, 2017 David Lawton approaches later medieval English vernacular culture in terms of voice As texts and discourses shift in translation and in use from one language to another antecedent texts are revoiced in ways that recreate them as public interiorities without effacing their history or future The approach yields important insights into the voice work of late medieval poets especially Langland and Chaucer and also their fifteenth century successors who treat their work as they have treated their precursors It also helps illuminate vernacular religious writing and its aspirations and it addresses literary and cultural change such as the effect of censorship and increasing political instability in and beyond the fifteenth century Lawton also proposes his emphasis on voice as a literary tool of broad application and his book has a bold and comparative sweep that encompasses the Pauline letters Augustine's Confessions the classical precedents of Virgil and Ovid medieval contemporaries like Machaut and Petrarch extra literary artists like Monteverdi later poets such as Wordsworth Heaney and Paul Valéry and moderns such as Jarry and Proust What justifies such parallels the author claims is that late medieval texts constitute the foundation of a literary history of voice that extends to modernity The book's energy is therefore devoted to the transformative reading of later medieval texts in order to show their original and ongoing importance as voice work Mental Health, Spirituality, and Religion in the Middle Ages and Early Modern Age Albrecht Classen, 2014-07-28 This volume continues the critical exploration of fundamental issues in the medieval and early modern world here concerning mental health spirituality melancholy mystical visions medicine and well being The contributors who originally had presented their research at a symposium at The University of Arizona in May 2013 explore a wide range of approaches and materials pertinent to these issues taking us from the early Middle Ages to the eighteenth century capping the volume with some reflections on the relevance of religion today Lapidary sciences matter here as much as medical psychological research combined with literary and art historical approaches The premodern understanding of mental health is not taken as a miraculous panacea for modern problems but the contributors suggest that medieval and early modern writers scientists and artists commanded a considerable amount of arcane sometimes curious and speculative knowledge that promises to be of value and relevance even for us today once again Modern palliative medicine finds for instance intriguing parallels in medieval word magic and the mystical perspectives encapsulated highly productive alternative perceptions of the macrocosm and microcosm that promise to be insightful and important also for the post modern world

Shaping Courtliness in Medieval France Laurie Shepard,Daniel E. O'Sullivan,2013 The question of what medieval courtliness was both as a literary influence and as a historical reality is debated in this volume The concept of courtliness forms the theme of this collection of essays Focused on works written in the Francophone world between the twelfth and fifteenth centuries they examine courtliness as both an historical privilege and aliterary ideal and as a concept that operated on and was informed by complex social and economic realities Several essays reveal how courtliness is subject to satire or is the subject of exhortation in works intended for noblemen and women not to mention ambitious bourgeois Others more strictly literary in their focus explore the witty thoughtful and innovative responses of writers engaged in the conscious process of elevating the new vernacular culture through the articulation of its complexities and contradictions The volume as a whole uniting philosophical theoretical philological and cultural approaches demonstrates that medieval courtliness is an ideal that fascinates us to this day It is thus a fitting tribute to the scholarship of Matilda Tomaryn Bruckner in its exploration of the profound and wide ranging ideas that define her contribution to the field DANIEL E O SULLIVAN is Associate Professor of French at the University of Mississippi LAURIE SHEPHARD is Associate Professor of Italian at Boston College in Chestnut Hill Massachusetts Contributors Peter Haidu Donald Maddox Michel Andr Bossy Kristin Burr Joan Tasker Grimbert David Hult Virgine Greene Logan Whalen Evelyn Birge Vitz Elizabeth W Poe Daniel E O Sullivan William Schenck Nadia Margolis Laine Doggett E Jane Burns Nancy FreemanRegalado Laurie Shephard Sarah White

The Forest in Medieval German Literature Albrecht Classen,2015-06-03 By pursuing an ecocritical reading The Forest in Medieval German Literature examines passages in medieval German texts where protagonists operated in the forest and found themselves either in conflictual situations or in refuge By probing the way the individual authors dealt with the forest illustrating how their characters fared in this sylvan space the role of the forest proved to be of supreme importance in understanding the fundamental relationship between humans and nature The medieval forest almost always introduced an epistemological challenge how to cope in life or how to find one's way in this natural maze By approaching these narratives through modern ecocritical issues that are paired with premodern perspectives we gain a solid and far reaching understanding of how medieval concepts can aid in a better understanding of human society and nature in its historical context This book revisits some of the best and lesser known examples of medieval German literature and the critical approach used here will allow us to recognize the importance of medieval literature for a profound reassessment of our modern existence with respect to our own forests Cognitive Sciences and Medieval Studies Juliana Dresvina, Victoria Blud, 2020-11-01 This study brings together medieval studies and cognitive methodologies in a study specifically aimed at medievalists It presents a longer history of certain mental health conditions and locates contemporary debates about the mind in a broader historical framework It considers both the benefits of incorporating insights from contemporary neuroscientific and cognitive studies into the exploration of the past and the benefits of employing historical models and case studies in order to reflect on modern methods Arthurian Literature XXXVI Megan G.
