The Nights Giovanni Francesco Straparola, 1894 Christ Legends and the Miracles of Antichrist Selma Lagerlöf, 2020-09-28 It happened at the time when Augustus was Emperor in Rome and Herod was King in Jerusalem It was then that a very great and holy night sank down over the earth It was the darkest night that any one had ever seen One could have believed that the whole earth

had fallen into a cellar vault It was impossible to distinguish water from land and one could not find one's way on the most familiar road And it couldn't be otherwise for not a ray of light came from heaven All the stars stayed at home in their own houses and the fair moon held her face averted The silence and the stillness were as profound as the darkness The rivers stood still in their courses the wind did not stir and even the aspen leaves had ceased to quiver Had any one walked along the seashore he would have found that the waves no longer dashed upon the sands and had one wandered in the desert the sand would not have crunched under one's feet Everything was as motionless as if turned to stone so as not to disturb the holy night The grass was afraid to grow the dew could not fall and the flowers dared not exhale their perfume On this night the wild beasts did not seek their prey the serpents did not sting and the dogs did not bark And what was even more glorious inanimate things would have been unwilling to disturb the night's sanctity by lending themselves to an evil deed No false key could have picked a lock and no knife could possibly have drawn a drop of blood In Rome during this very night a small company of people came from the Emperor's palace at the Palatine and took the path across the Forum which led to the Capitol During the day just ended the Senators had asked the Emperor if he had any objections to their erecting a temple to him on Rome's sacred hill But Augustus had not immediately given his consent He did not know if it would be agreeable to the gods that he should own a temple next to theirs and he had replied that first he wished to ascertain their will in the matter by offering a nocturnal sacrifice to his genius It was he who accompanied by a few trusted friends was on his way to perform this sacrifice Augustus let them carry him in his litter for he was old and it was an effort for him to climb the long stairs leading to the Capitol He himself held the cage with the doves for the sacrifice No priests or soldiers or senators accompanied him only his nearest friends Torch bearers walked in front of him in order to light the way in the night darkness and behind him followed the slaves who carried the tripod the knives the charcoal the sacred fire and all the other things needed for the sacrifice On the way the Emperor chatted gaily with his faithful followers and therefore none of them noticed the infinite silence and stillness of the night Only when they had reached the highest point of the Capitol Hill and the vacant spot upon which they contemplated erecting the temple did it dawn upon them that something unusual was taking place
