Magazine Journalism Today:

Magazine Journalism Today Anthony Davis, 1988 This book follows the progression of magazine production from the planning stage and commissioning of material printing and production including desktop publishing through to publication and distribution The book deals with the variety of skills required by a journalist whether they are working on a lavishly staffed mass circulation publication or on a specialist journal originated by one person Topics covered include Organization and staffing from editors to researchers Planning an issue from the development of ideas to commissioning and scheduling material Feature writing including researching conducting interviews and finding opening words Pictures photographic sessions in studios and captioning Presentation the choice of typefaces the use and treatment of pictures and the design of pages Sub editing including the checking and cutting of copy headline writing marking for type and proofing Anthony Davis is a freelance journalist who has worked on magazines for more than 25 years He was a reporter for the Sunday Express for thirteen years and then moved to TV Times as staff and freelance and as diary editor columnist and feature writer There is also a career guide which lists training course and ways of finding employment or setting up as a freelance Magazine Journalism Tim Holmes, Liz Nice, 2011-11-10 For those of us who long ago experienced the magazine love bite and have been battling the prejudice and scant attention shown this beautiful medium ever since here at last is the book to set the record straight Nicholas Brett Deputy Managing Director BBC Magazines At a time when magazines are undergoing active redefinition this book represents a welcome intervention It engages with a host of pressing issues in a manner alert to professional priorities while at the same time encouraging new ways of thinking about the challenges shaping this fast moving field Holmes and Nice are trustworthy guides taking the reader on what proves to be a fascinating journey Stuart Allan Professor of Journalism Bournemouth University Magazines are the most successful media format ever to have existed so begins Magazine Journalism as it traces how magazines arose from their earliest beginnings in 1665 to become the ubiquitous format we know today This book combats the assumptions among media academics as well as journalists that magazines somehow don't count and presents a compelling assessment of the development and innovation at the heart of magazine publishing In magazines we find some of the key debates in journalism from the genesis of marketing to the reader to feminist history subcultures and tabloidization Embedding these questions in a thoroughly historical framework Holmes and Nice argue for an understanding of magazine journalism as essential in the media landscape Moving beyond the semiotic and textual analysis so favoured by critics of the past the authors complete the story with an exploration of the production and consumption of magazines Drawing on interviews with more than 30 magazine journalists across the industry what emerges is a story of resilience innovation and a unique ability to embrace new markets and readerships Magazine Journalism takes the reader to the heart of key questions in the past present and future of journalism and is essential reading for students across journalism and the creative industries The Best American Magazine Writing 2020 Sid Holt, 2021-01-05

The Best American Magazine Writing 2020 brings together outstanding writing from in depth reporting to incisive criticism. The anthology features excerpts from major projects that challenge American certitudes: the Washington Post Magazine's Prison issue detailing the scope of mass incarceration and the New York Times Magazine's The 1619 Project which recenters the nation's history around slavery and its legacies. It includes extraordinary globe spanning journalism including pieces on the genocide against the Rohingya New York Times Magazine and the unintended consequences of a dengue fever vaccine. Fortune Pamela Colloff details prosecutors reliance on an untrustworthy jailhouse informant New York Times Magazine in partnership with ProPublica and a ProPublica series investigates the disaster that befell the USS Fitzgerald. The anthology showcases the work of remarkable stylists including Jia Tolentino's cultural commentary New Yorker and Ligaya Mishan's columns on food and culture. The New York Times Style Magazine Columns by s e smith consider disability. Catapult and the DeafBlind poet John Lee Clark writes about art he can touch. Poetry Jordan Kisner visits a Martha Washington themed debutante ball in Texas near the Mexican border for The Believer and Jacob Baynham offers a moving portrait of his father in law Georgia Review. Arundhati Roy excoriates the increasing authoritarianism of Modi's India. The Nation in partnership with Type Media Center. The anthology concludes with Jonathan Escoffery's short story of homesickness for Jamaica Under the Ackee Tree Paris Review.

Managing Today's News Media Samir Husni, Debora Halpern Wenger, Hank Price, 2015-07-29. The business of journalism is in the midst of massive change. Managing Today's News Media Audience First offers practical solutions on how to cope with and adapt to the evolving media landscape. News media experts Samir Husni, Debora Halpern Wenger and Hank Price introduce a forward looking framework for understanding why change is occurring and what it means to the business of journalism. Central to this new paradigm is a focus on the audience. The authors introduce The 4Cs Strategy to describe how customers control choice and change are all part of a strategy for successful media organizations. Real world case studies, important theoretical grounding and a focus on understanding rather than resisting the customer's desire for choice and control make this an unbeatable resource for students and managers alike who want to succeed in this changed media business landscape.

Media Today Joseph Turow, 2022-09-13. This eighth edition of Joseph Turow's pathbreaking media textbook uses convergence as a lens that puts students at the center of the profound changes in the 21st century media world. It teaches students to think critically about the role of media and what these changes mean for their lives. The book's media systems approach helps students to look carefully at how media content is created, distributed and exhibited in the new world that the digital revolution has created. From news media to video games and social networking to mobile platforms, it provides students with the tools they need to understand and critique the media they encounter and consume. The first part examines the media world as a whole while the second delves deep into key media industries such as the movie, television and video game industries. This new edition includes critical expanded coverage of social media, new forms of both audio and audiovisual media and international case studies as well as updated figures, tables and pedagogy.
