Olive Schreiner and African Modernism Jade Munslow Ong,2017-10-20 This book works across established categories of modernism and postcolonialism in order to radically revise the periods places and topics traditionally associated with anti colonialism and aesthetic experimentation in African literature The book is the first account of Olive Schreiner as a theorist and practitioner of modernist form advancing towards an emergent postcolonialism The book draws on and broadens discussions in and around the blossoming field of global modernist studies by interrogating the conventionally accepted genealogy of development that positions Europe and America as the sites of innovation It provides an original examination of the relationships between metaphor postcolonialism and modernist experimentation by showing how politically and aesthetically innovative African forms rely on allegorical structures in contrast to the symbolism dominant in Euro American modernism An original theoretical concept of the role of primitivism and allegory within the context of modernism and associated critical theory is proposed through the integration of postcolonial Marxist and ecocritical approaches to literature The book provides original readings of Schreiner s three novels Undine The Story of An African Farm and From Man to Man in light of the new theory of primitivism in African literature by directly addressing the issue of narrative form This argument is contextualised in relation to the work of other Southern African authors in whose writings the impact of Schreiner s politics and aesthetics can be traced These authors include J M Coetzee Nadine Gordimer Doris Lessing Solomon T Plaatje and Zoe Wicomb amongst others This book brings the most current debates in modernist studies ecocriticism and primitivism into the field of postcolonial studies and contributes to a widening of the debates surrounding gender race empire and modernism scholars across the academic disciplines The Grounding of Modern Feminism Nancy F. Cott, 1987-01-01 The time has come to define feminism it is no longer possible to ignore it The Century Magazine 1914 In this landmark addition to scholarship Nancy F Cott author of The Bonds of Womanhood offers a new interpretation of American feminism during the early decades of this century a period traditionally viewed as one in which women won the right to vote and then lost interest in feminist issues Cott argues instead that this period was a time of crisis and transition from the nineteenth century woman movement to the beginning of modern feminism Many of the issues that are central to women today says Cott were firmly articulated in the early decades of this century For example the problem of defining sexual equality so as to recognize sexual difference between men and women the ambiguous potential of a movement seeking individual freedoms for women by mobilizing sex solidarity and the tensions involved in attaining full expression in work and love are all enduring elements of feminism seized upon by women of the 1910s and 1920s First discussing how feminism was indebted to its predecessors Cott shows that increasing heterogeneity and diverse loyalties among women in the early twentieth century contradicted the premise of the nineteenth century cause of woman the singular noun symbolizing the unity of the female sex From this crisis emerged feminism championing individual variability and refuting the premise that a singular woman existed Cott focuses on the suffrage campaign milieu in which feminism arose giving particular attention to the character and role of the National Woman's Party from its militant suffrage days to its advocacy of the equal right amendment in the 1920s Against prevailing interpretations of the decline of women's political activities after 1920 Cott counterposes the swelling numbers in women's voluntary associations and their political efforts She also analyzes the pitfalls that awaited women who tried for effectiveness in the male dominated political parties She sets the controversy over the equal rights amendment in new context discussing the full dimensions of the conflict as not merely over personalities tactics or class loyalties but as a signal example of the modern problem of capturing sexual equality and sexual difference in law The book explores the irony strewn path of women who as aspiring professionals and political actors attempted to put into practice the feminist intent to replace the abstraction woman with instead the human sex This history the story of women who first claimed the name feminists builds an essential bridge between the presuffrage period and today The Feminism of Charlotte Perkins Gilman Judith A. Allen, 2009-09 The first comprehensive assessment of Charlotte Perkins Gilman's richly complex feminism Back cover Representing Lives A. Donnell, P. Polkey, 2000-06-01 Representing Lives Women and Auto biography is an eclectic and comprehensive collection of essays exploring contemporary issues and debates concerning women's auto biographical representations from a range of disciplinary perspectives With authoritative contributions from a number of prominent figures in the field of women's auto biography as well as innovative new voices this volume offers a broad and contemporary lens on the issues and debates relevant to the act of representing women's lives Drawing on a variety of theoretical frameworks and discussing theatre literature popular culture and women in history these essays help to map out some of the new intellectual spaces inhabited by feminist scholarship in the 1990s On Literary Attachment in South Africa Michael Chapman, 2021-09-01 This book reflects on the literary in literature Less ideologically construed more affirmative of literary attachment the study adopts a style of intimacy its tough love in a correlation between the creative work and the critical act Instead of configuring literary works to state of the nation issues the usual approach to literature from South Africa the chapters keep alive a space for conversation whether accented inwards to locality or outwards to the Anglophone world the world to which literature in South Africa continues to belong albeit as a problem child A postcolony that is not quite a postcolony South Africa is richly but frustratingly textured between Africa and the West or the South and the North Its literature hovering on the cusp of its locality and its global reach raises peculiar questions of reader reception epistemological and aesthetic frame and archival use Are the Nobel laureates Nadine Gordimer and J M Coetzee local writers or global writers Is the novel or the short story the more appropriate form at the edges of metropolitan cultures Given language race and culture contestation how do we recover Bushman expression for contemporary use How to consider the aesthetic appeal of two contemporaneous works one in English the other in isiXhosa the one indebted to Bloomsbury modernism the other to African custom How does Douglas Livingstone attach the Third World to the First World in both science and poetry What has a born free novelist Kopano Matlwa got to do with the Bard of Avon In a time of theorisation is it permissible for Lewis Nkosi to embody literary criticism in an autobiographical journey How to read the rupturing event the statue of Rhodes must fall through a literary sensibility Alert to the influence of critique the study is equally alert to the limits of critique Reflecting on several writers works and events that do not feature in current publications On Literary Attachment in South Africa releases literature to speak to us today within the contours of its originating energy Olive Schreiner and the Progress of Feminism C.

Burdett, 2001-01-12 Olive Schreiner and the Progress of Feminism explores two key areas first the debates taking place in England during the last two decades of the nineteenth century about the position of women and second the volatile events of the 1890s in South Africa which culminated in war between the British Empire and the Boer republics in 1899 Through a detailed reading of the fictional and non fictional writing of one extraordinary woman Olive Schreiner it traces the complex relations between gender and empire in a modernizing world Imperial Leather Anne McClintock, 2013-10-01 Imperial Leather chronicles the dangerous liaisons between gender race and class that shaped British imperialism and its bloody dismantling Spanning the century between Victorian Britain and the current struggle for power in South Africa the book takes up the complex relationships between race and sexuality fetishism and money gender and violence domesticity and the imperial market and the gendering of nationalism within the zones of imperial and anti imperial power Women, the Family, and Freedom Susan G. Bell, Karen M. Offen, 1983 This is the second book in a two part collection of 264 primary source documents from the Enlightenment to 1950 chronicling the public debate that raged in Europe and America over the role of women in Western society The present volume looks at the period from 1880 to 1950 The central issues motherhood women's legal position in the family equality of the sexes the effect on social stability of women's education and labor extended to women the struggle by men for personal and political liberty These issues were political economic and religious dynamite They exploded in debates of philosophers political theorists scientists novelists and religious and political leaders This collection emphasizes the debate by juxtaposing prevailing and dissenting points of view at given historical moments e.g. Madame de Staël vs Rousseau Eleanor Marx vs Pope Leo XIII Strindberg vs Ibsen Simone de Beauvoir vs Margaret Mead Each section is preceded by a contextual headnote pinpointing the documents significance Many of the documents have been translated into English for the first time

Reader's Guide to Literature in English Mark Hawkins-Dady, 2012-12-06 Reader's Guide Literature in English provides expert guidance to and critical analysis of the vast number of books available within the subject of English literature from Anglo Saxon times to the current American British and Commonwealth scene It is designed to help students teachers and librarians choose the most appropriate books for research and study

Gender, Race, and the Writing of Empire Paula M. Krebs, 1999 All of London exploded on the night of May 18 1900 in the biggest West End party ever seen The mix of media manipulation patriotism and class race and gender politics that produced the spontaneous festivities of Mafeking Night begins this analysis of the cultural politics of late Victorian imperialism Paula M Krebs examines the last of the gentlemen's wars the Boer War of 1899-1902 and the struggles to maintain an imperialist hegemony in a twentieth century world through the war writings of Arthur Conan Doyle Olive Schreiner H Rider Haggard and Rudyard Kipling as well as contemporary journalism propaganda and other forms of public discourse Her feminist analysis of such matters as the sexual honor of the British soldier at war the deaths of thousands of women and children in concentration camps and new concepts of race in South Africa marks this book as a significant contribution to British imperial studies

Imperial Masochism John Kucich, 2009-01-10 British imperialism's favorite literary narrative might seem to be conquest But real British conquests also generated a surprising cultural obsession with suffering sacrifice defeat and melancholia There was writes John Kucich seemingly a different crucifixion scene marking the historical gateway to each colonial theater In Imperial Masochism Kucich reveals the central role masochistic forms of voluntary suffering played in late nineteenth century British thinking about imperial politics and class identity Placing the colonial writers Robert Louis Stevenson Olive Schreiner Rudyard Kipling and Joseph Conrad in their cultural context Kucich shows how the ideological and psychological dynamics of empire particularly its reorganization of class identities at the colonial periphery depended on figurations of masochism Drawing on recent psychoanalytic theory to define masochism in terms of narcissistic fantasies of omnipotence rather than sexual perversion the book illuminates how masochism mediates political thought of many different kinds not simply those that represent the social order as an opposition of mastery and submission or an eroticized drama of power differentials Masochism was a powerful psychosocial language that enabled colonial writers to articulate judgments about imperialism and class The first full length study of masochism in British colonial fiction Imperial Masochism puts forth new readings of this literature and shows the continued relevance of psychoanalysis to historicist studies of literature and culture

European Feminisms, 1700-1950 Karen M. Offen, 2000 This ambitious book explores challenges to male hegemony throughout continental Europe over the past 250 years For general readers and those interested primarily in the historical record it provides a comprehensive comparative account of feminist developments in European societies as well as a rereading of European history from a feminist perspective By placing gender or relations between women and men at the center of European politics it aims to reconfigure our understanding of the European past and to make visible a long but neglected tradition of feminist thought and politics On another level the book seeks to disentangle some misperceptions and to demystify some confusing contemporary debates about the Enlightenment reason nature and public vs private equality vs difference In the process the author aims to show that gender is not merely a useful category of analysis but that sexual difference lies at the heart of human thought and politics

Feminism Beside Itself Diane Elam, 2013-10-28 This book brings together a distinguished group of scholars from several generations of feminists asking them to reflect on the history and identity of feminism Explores feminism in history and the conflict within feminism
