Reducing Traffic Injury a Global Challenge:

Eliminating Serious Injury and Death from Road Transport Ian Ronald Johnston, Carlyn Muir, Eric William Howard, 2013-12-11 The book explodes the myths that currently drive society's view of traffic safety and limit progress in reducing death and serious injury. It presents current scientific knowledge in a non-technical way and draws parallels with other areas of public safety and public health. It uses examples from the media and from public policy debates to paint a clear picture of a flawed public policy approach and offers preventive medicine principles to take the field forward. Reducing Traffic Injury Ian R. Johnston, 1988 Position Papers from the Third National Injury Control Conference, 1992

Symposium on Effective Highway Accident Countermeasures, 1990 The Symposium on Effective Highway Accident Countermeasures was held in Washington D C on June 12-14, 1990. The Symposium was hosted by the Federal Highway Administration in cooperation with the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration. The Symposium's objectives were to identify the most effective and practical short-term within 2 years countermeasures to highway accidents and to develop strategies for their implementation. The Symposium focused on five areas of highway safety: improving pedestrian safety, reducing accident severity, improving driver performance and control, improving commercial motor vehicle safety, and identifying and improving highway corridors. This publication summarizes the presentations and workshop reports. World Report on Road Traffic Injury Prevention Marjorie Peden, 2008-09 Every day thousands of people are killed and injured on our roads. Millions of people each year will spend long weeks in the hospital after severe crashes and many will never be able to live, work or play as they used to do. Current efforts to address road safety are minimal in comparison to this growing human suffering. This report presents a comprehensive overview of what is known about the magnitude, risk factors and impact of road traffic injuries and about ways to prevent and lessen the impact of road crashes. Over 100 experts from all continents and different sectors including transport, engineering, health, police, education and civil society have worked to produce the report. Charts and tables. Road Traffic Injury Prevention Training Manual Dinesh Mohan, Indian Institute of Technology, Delhi, 2006 Road traffic collisions kill about 1.2 million people around the world every year but they are largely neglected as a health and development issue perhaps because they are still viewed by many as being beyond human control. Efforts to prevent road traffic injuries are hampered by a lack of human capacity. Policy makers, researchers and practitioners need information on effective prevention measures and on how to develop, implement and evaluate such interventions. There is a need to train more specialists in road traffic injury prevention in order to address the growing problem of road traffic injuries at international levels. Injury Prevention and Control Dinesh Mohan, G.N. Tiwari, 2003-09-02 At least 5 million people die each year from injuries and about half the deaths in the 10-24 age group are accountable to them. This is a major health problem for which a number of strategies for prevention and control can be developed. This book presents a series of the plenary and state of the art presentations from the 5th World Conference on

Recent Advances in Neurotraumatology Norio Nakamura,Takuo Hashimoto,Masaharu Yasue,2012-12-06 The dawn of neurosurgery can be traced back to the first description preserved in the Edwin Smith papyrus 3000 Be which dealt with head and spinal injury In the course of 5000 years since the first record in Egypt advances in lifestyle and technology have brought about our modern civilized society However as a result of civilization currently the total number of severe head injuries worldwide is believed to exceed 10000000 and the number of severe spinal injuries is believed to be more than 75 000 each year This means that central nervous system injury is not only the oldest topic in neurosurgery but that it is also of critical importance in modern life Taking these problems into consideration the International Neurotraumatology Committee was organized in 1965 as an affiliated Committee of the World Federation of Neurosurgical Societies The first scientific meeting was convened by the Committee in Marseilles in 1970 Nine further meetings were subsequently held in Europe Africa and South America The meeting was first named International Conference on Recent Advances in Neurotraumatology ICRAN by Professor Phillip Harris when the scientific meeting was held in Edinburgh in 1982 The tenth meeting ICRAN 1992 the first one in Asia was held at Karuizawa Japan from September 23rd to 26th 1992
