Reflections From A Village:

Reflections from a Village Frank Swinnerton, 1970 Countryman's Year John Green, 1994-10-28 Penllyn Village: Lest We Forget E. Gloria Stewart Jones, 2008-08-15

This book is written especially to honor the residents in a small black community whose time as a totally black community may be ending. Not all Black Americans have lived in the urban areas of this country; not a better life but different. It is hoped that any who read this book would see that the hopes, dreams, and life styles of many Black Americans are no different than those of other Americans. This story is about such people. Just beyond the Bethlehem Baptist Church on the corner of Penllyn Blue Bell Pike and Trewellyn Avenue in the village of Penllyn Lower Gwynedd Township in Montgomery County, Pennsylvania, rests a predominantly black settlement. The people who founded the church are the same people who established a firm foundation for the community. But there is something more to the church and residents whose presence there dates back 120 years. The author's purpose is to document their presence before their rich history is swept away by changing demographics. The book's focus is on the black immigrants from Virginia who were recruited from the farmlands of Westmoreland County, Virginia, to those in Gwynedd and surrounding areas in Pennsylvania. There is a brief acknowledgment of the settlement of the Welsh and other Eastern and Southern Europeans as well as the aristocracy who came before. Also noted are the ties to the Revolutionary War and structures that could be considered as historic sites still remaining in the village. A review of their southern roots was important to understanding the residents' success in their new home. They had strong ties to their families and skills already gained back home. Some came to make enough money to send home to buy the farmland back in Virginia that their forefathers had farmed under the yoke of slavery. Some succeeded and returned home. Others remained to find work in the mills and estates of the wealthy; some were able to start small businesses of their own. Their settlement began with a prayer group of nineteen people that met in a home in Springhouse, PA, in 1885. Told from the perspective of the elders in the community, the expanding group had already become a community in faith and spirit if not in residence. In 1888, having outgrown their meeting site, they established a church in Penllyn Village, and the first black resident moved into the village. When malicious arson caused that church to burn down, they built another. For the greater part of 120 years, the church was their anchor. It is continually illustrated that the early church leadership encouraged them in developing business acumen, political savvy, and artistic talents. Two major land investments established the village as a black community. The first was the purchase of a block of land by young black entrepreneurs in the early 1900s. It was during that time one sees the development of businesses and self-sufficiency that held their community together. The second and most challenging occurred in 1947 when they were able to develop what is believed to be the first Black corporation in the state of Pennsylvania in order to buy the Pershing estate. The Penllyn Homebuilders Association, Inc., sold stock for fifty dollars a share and bought the 40-acre estate. As a result, 50 more black-owned homes were added to the community. A discussion of their social and recreational activities from the early 1900s on are what has been observed in American culture throughout that same time span. Simple church picnics, hometown roller rinks, the ice cream parlor, the old swimming hole are typical hometown entertainments of decades past. There is an array of musical talent of an unusual proportion in such a small population ranging from instrumental and singing to contemporary jazz bands. You will note that the residents have never shirked their civic duty. Since the 1930s and 1940s and currently they have been actively involved in all aspects of the political spectrum from conservative to liberal.

Handbook of Services Marketing and Management Teresa Swartz, Dawn Iacobucci, 2000. What a rarity to see a who's who of thought leaders on any subject create original material for an anthology. It's a real collegial tribute to Teresa A. Swartz and Dawn Iacobucci that they have been able to assemble such a treasure of original material including some of the last from our late friend and colleague Eric Langeard on topics important to services marketing and management. James Heskett, Harvard Business School. The Handbook of Services Marketing and Management provides an excellent introduction to the topics and issues that define service marketing today. Editors Swartz and Iacobucci have recruited many of the leading names in service research to write the chapters in the book, ensuring that the Handbook will be a valuable reference for years to come. Roland T. Rust, Journal of Service Research. This Handbook contains an impressive collection of cutting edge contributions that should be of keen interest to service researchers and practitioners. It represents some of the best and most recent thinking on a wide range of service topics. A. Parasuraman, University of Miami, FL. Service business today constitutes the largest sector in advanced economies. This new Handbook provides a wealth of stimulating ideas and guidelines for improving the quality and effectiveness of service offerings. Philip Kotler, S. C. Johnson, Distinguished Professor of International Marketing, Northwestern University. Services, because of their intangibility, variability, and perishability, call for management and marketing skills of a high order. This new Handbook belongs in the working library of managers charged with managing and marketing the service offerings of hotels, restaurant chains, airlines, telecommunications companies, entertainment companies, professional services firms, and countless other services industries. Philip Kotler, S. C. Johnson, Distinguished Professor of International Marketing, Northwestern University. Despite the growth in services research and the dominance of services in the world economy, no one book has emerged as a comprehensive guide for researchers and professionals until now. The Handbook of Services Marketing and Management presents state-of-the-art perspectives in the foundations of services while simultaneously challenging and expanding current services practices. Editors Teresa A. Swartz and Dawn Iacobucci invited the world's leading experts on services marketing and management to author individual chapters. The result is an experienced, international, eclectic, and cross-disciplinary mix of authors all contributing cutting edge material on the frontiers of service research. This handbook includes a unique mix of both in-depth chapters as well as shorter, more focused mini-chapters which treat emerging issues in the field of services. This structure makes the Handbook the most thorough reference possible. The Handbook of Services Marketing and Management should have a place on the bookshelves of every academic.

graduate student and professional in the critical area of services Decolonizing International Service Learning Michael O'Sullivan, Harry Smaller, 2023-04-24 Despite the existence of a robust literature reviewed throughout this text which critiques salvationist models of international Service Learning ISL including literature that advocates deeply reciprocal relationships between global northern sending organizations and global southern host organizations neocolonial models of ISL remain the dominant practice The authors pose an ISL model that puts north south reciprocity at the entre of ISL planning and implementation based on their research and engagement in multiple ISL experiences and importantly from the input of representatives of global southern host organizations at a south south gathering encuentro This constitutes a rupture with the current model that views the host village as an extension of a group leader s classroom rather it makes the host community a space for difficult learning based on what hosts want their visitors to take home The interruptions of ISL travel represented by COVID constituted an opportunity to consider alternative models despite the awareness of environmental impacts of travel it is likely that ISL trips will resume It is therefore increasingly important that the ISL experience becomes a means of generating solidarity rather than the reinforcement of neocolonial helping imperatives associated with the traditional model Reflections James O. Jeffers, 2003 The book chronicles James Jeffers life from about age two but it purposefully falls short of being either memoirs or autobiography With this work he has attempted to simply record for his children grandchildren and others the wonderful events of his life as he experienced them The book covers thousands of miles of travel along with living and working with peoples of differing cultures on three continents and in the Caribbean five foreign countries and fifteen different states spanning the nation from coast to coast to coast Marriage, Gender and Sex in a Contemporary Chinese Village Sun-Pong Yuen, Pui-Lam Law, Yuk-Ying Ho, Fong-Ying Yu, 2015-07-17 This book explores changing concepts of marriage and gender relationships and attitudes toward sex in a rural Chinese community over the past five decades The book is based on a study of an industrialized peasant village in Guangdong Province from 1994 to 1996 and subsequent visits from 2000 to 2002 According to the authors the rural economic reforms of the 1980s in southern China have challenged and reinforced the deep structure of Chinese familism and this has lead to tensions between tradition and modernity The first section of the book explores how attitudes toward marriage and courtship have changed over the past fifty years through personal accounts of three different marriages from different generations In Part II the transition from a traditional to a modern society is discussed from the perspective of several women from different generations The third section focuses on sexual relationships and the growing sex trade in the village Part IV includes updates to the original survey and takes a look at village politics Ballston Spa REIMAGINED Hauprich, 2021-05-15 What was originally conceived as the Ballston Spa Living 2020 Community Yearbook has been expanded to include bonus content about life as it was unfolding in an upstate New York village against the unprecedented backdrop of a coronavirus pandemic True to its reimagined title the literary keepsake showcases a treasure trove of stories and photos that celebrate the indomitable Spirit

Browne,2024-10-16 For people who were poor black and from the working class growing up in a British Caribbean colony during the 1900s was a very difficult experience However from about the 1930s enlightenment ideological challenges and change were finding sound footing in the area more than ever before During that time British control and exploitation of the islands were being disrupted and challenged aggressively by labor unionists and Pan Africanists Further by the mid 1900s the British interest in and their ability to manage the islands successfully were failing At that time there was the disruptive political thrust from local labor unionists for changes in the islands story That emerging new leadership saw and promoted education as a necessary path to the future for working class people in the islands After the author learned to read having been encouraged by an older sister he read widely from the books available and his life began to experience transformation The author noted that his love for reading plus a growing exposure to education initiated the change and inspiration beyond the limiting society and thinking into which he was born In time Whitman s academic push helped him to become an educator mountain climber long distance swimmer photographer and more In all the changes which have come to the islands of St Kitts and Nevis he sees the local leaders push against the evils of British colonialism In time there was enlightenment and growth from education also through the love and inspiration of God Those were major forces which contributed to the reformation now seen in lives and around the islands In this book My Birth Was Not Destiny the author looks back at his life in Nevis and beyond He attributes his successes to focused struggles the illuminating power of education and God s continuing intent to intervene in human lives always for good Dr Browne also expresses a truth that his children students the community and the wider world as a result of education and careful academic concentration can in time learn grow have their own sense of a transformative experience as their lives become inspired and refashioned Over time they too will reach toward the future intending to leave special markings on the sands of their time
