International Science and National Scientific Identity R. W.

Home,S.G Kohlstedt,2012-12-06 The institutionalization of History and Philosophy of Science as a distinct field of scholarly endeavour began comparatively early though not always under that name in the Australasian region An initial lecturing appointment was made at the University of Melbourne immediately after the Second World War in 1946 and other appointments followed as the subject underwent an expansion during the 1950s and 1960s similar to that which took place in other parts of the world Today there are major Departments at the University of Melbourne the University of New South Wales and the University of Wollongong and smaller groups active in many other parts of Australia and in New Zealand Australasian Studies in History and Philosophy of Science aims to provide a distinctive publication outlet for Australian and New Zealand scholars working in the general area of history philosophy and social studies of science Each volume comprises a group of essays on a connected theme edited by an Australian or a New Zealander with special expertise in that particular area Papers address general issues however rather than local ones parochial topics are avoided Further more though in each volume a majority of the contributors is from Australia or New Zealand contributions from elsewhere are by no means ruled out Quite the reverse in fact they are actively encouraged wherever appropriate to the balance of the volume in question

The Business of Nature Roslyn Russell, 2011 In 1838 John Gould and his wife Elizabeth left behind their family and home in London to travel to the far flung colony of Van Diemen s Land from where Gould would travel around the mainland to observe the native fauna Gould s artists Elizabeth foremost among them would depict these creatures in exquisite lithographs accompanied by Gould s commentary With all the acumen of a shrewd Victorian entrepreneur Gould established a thriving business that took him into the world of the British aristocracy and the scientific elite His is a tale of enduring love and of a man s unending ability to see beauty in nature despite the greatest of life s tragedies Joe Pawsey and the Founding of Australian Radio Astronomy W. M. Goss, Claire Hooker, Ronald D. Ekers, 2023-01-10 This open access book is a biography of Joseph L Pawsey It examines not only his life but the birth and growth of the field of radio astronomy and the state of science itself in twentieth century Australia The book explains how an isolated continent with limited resources grew to be one of the leaders in the study of radio astronomy and the design of instruments to do so Pawsey made a name for himself in the international astronomy community within a decade after WWII and coined the term radio astronomy His most valuable talent was his ability to recruit and support bright young scientists who became the technical and methodological innovators of the era building new telescopes from the Mills Cross and Chris Christiansen Cross to the Parkes radio telescope The development of aperture synthesis and the controversy surrounding the cosmological interpretation of the first major survey which resulted in the Sydney research group s disagreements with Nobel laureate Martin Ryle play major roles in this story This book also shows the connections among prominent astronomers like Oort Minkowski Baade Struve famous scientists in the UK such as J A Ratcliffe Edward Appleton and Henry Tizard and the engineers and physicists in Australia who helped develop the field of radio astronomy Pawsey was appointed the second Director of the National Radio Astronomy Observatory Green Bank West Virginia in October 1961 he died in Sydney at the age of 54 in late November 1962 Upper level students scientists and historians of astronomy and technology will find the information much of it from primary sources relevant to any study of Joseph L Pawsey or radio astronomy This open access book includes a Foreword by Woodruff T Sullivan II Darwin's Armada Iain McCalman, 2009-04-06 Darwin s Armada tells the stories of Charles Darwin Thomas Huxley Joseph Hooker and Alfred Wallace four young amateur naturalists from Britain who voyaged to the southern hemisphere during the first half of the nineteenth century in search of adventure and scientific fame It charts their thrilling voyages to the strange and beautiful lands of the southern hemisphere that reshaped the young mariners scientific ideas and led them on returning to Britain to befriend fellow voyager Charles Darwin All three crucially influenced the publication and reception of his Origin of Species in 1859 one of the formative texts of the modern world For the first time the Darwinian revolution of ideas is seen as a genuinely collective enterprise and one that had its birth in a series of gripping and human travel adventures Many of the most urgent ecological and social issues of our times are seen to be prefigured in this compelling story of intellectual discovery Science, God, and Nature in Victorian Canada Carl Berger, 1983-12-15

Professor Berger aims in this book to explore the rise expression and relative decline of the idea of natural history in Canada during the age of Victoria Science particularly natural science was then accessible to the general public in a way scarcely imaginable today Natural history societies were set up in a number of cities and provided a focus for the descriptive and collecting activities of amateurs and incipient professionals These societies acted as social clubs and vehicles for self improvement as well as providing excellent training for the amateur scientist The Baconian assumptions that inspired the Victorian collectors and scientists were one of the major victims of the Darwinian revolution and their demise brought about the gradual decline of the natural history societies Professor Berger considers also the sense of wonder and reverence with which Victorian Canadians like their British contemporaries looked at the varieties and delights of nature The British tradition of natural theology had a great impact on the pursuit of science in Victorian Canada leading naturalists and poets alike to seek in the uncharted flora and fauna of their new land the handiwork of a benevolent God The author examines the impact of the discoveries of Darwin on this tradition and on the relations between science and religion as the creator and the act of creation became more and more distant in time and more tenuously connected to the world of nature around us His study provides many rich insights into the practice and theory of natural history in an age when even a veteran politician could look back and recall with understanding and in detail the world of nature in the countryside of his youth Australian Explorers by Sea, Land, and Air, 1788-1988 Ian Francis McLaren,1990 A Woman of Influence Ann Moyal,2014 Ann Moyal tells of her life s work in Australian science history and the many important people she met along the way JT Wilson and the Fraternity of Duckmaloi Patricia Morison,2019-12-01 In the 1890s four young scientists at Sydney University two Scots a Londoner and an Australian began sustained research into Australian native fauna for which each was awarded the FRS They all went on to pursue notable careers in the biological sciences concluding in London 46 8 and Cambridge This book follows their careers and enduring friendship exploring in detail the life of its senior member J T Wilson 1861 1945 who was professor of anatomy at Sydney University 1890 1920 and Cambridge 1920 1933 and had abiding interests in science philosophy education and military affairs The narrative is mainly concerned with issues of historical interest to scientists and medical educationists though some like Empire relations and the contribution of Scots to Australia s development will interest a wider readership Many of the preoccupations of Wilson and his colleagues remain topical the debate between biological science and religion the struggle to interpret Darwin s theory without placing Homo sapiens at the top of an evolutionary tree pure versus applied science vocationalism versus scholarship in university education Feather and Brush Penny Olsen,2022-05-02 Feather and Brush traces the history of bird art in Australia from the simple engravings illustrating accounts of the earliest European voyages of discovery to the diversity of artwork available today It explores the early European approach in which naval draughtsmen officers convicts settlers naturalists artists and scientists alike contributed both to the art and the science of ornithology through to a wealth of contemporary artists who feature birds in their works

This book contains more than 400 images representing the work of 158 artists some well known others published for the first time The illustrations have been selected for their interest whether ornithological historical or artistic They range from classical to quirky decorative to functional monumental to intimate Together they demonstrate the rich history of Australian bird art as it evolved in Europe and Australia and continues today along with the trends and technologies of the times This second edition includes new and revised chapters and features about 200 new artworks including some by Indigenous artists Cultural sensitivity Readers are warned that there may be words descriptions and terms used or referenced in this book that are culturally sensitive Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander people should be aware that this book contains images and names of deceased persons

Science of Pacific Island Peoples: Education, language, patterns & policy R. J. Morrison, Paul A. Geraghty, Linda Cowl, 1994 Science of the Pacific Island Peoples is a series of four volumes which contains a unique collection of traditional scientific and technical knowledge from the Pacific Islands Traditional knowledge based on accumulated experience or continuous usage is usually passed from one generation to the next by word of mouth and demonstration Having had little attention from the media education ministries or development agencies traditional knowledge is in danger of being forgotten These books attempt to record some aspects of traditional knowledge before they are lost This the fourth volume on Education Language Patterns and Policy contains chapters on allegory Australia tourism the 21st century Fijian cosmology Tongan symmetries Papua New Guinea the Cook Islands communication and information the Crown Research Institutes of Aotearoa New Zealand Polynesian thought Maori knowledge developmental activities in Western Samoa Fijian mats Micronesian development and Vanuatu games The other volumes in the series are Ocean and Coastal Studies volume 1 Land Use and Agriculture volume 2 and Fauna Flora Food Medicine volume 3 Back cover

Empire as the Triumph of Theory Edward Beasley, 2005 A key addition to our understanding of the Victorian era British Empire this book looks at the founders of the Colonial Society and the ideas that led them down the path to imperialism
