Screenplay Keri Facer,2003 This study sets out to question commonplace assumptions about the use of technology by children at home Bringing together research from the perspectives of psychology sociology education and media studies the authors ask whether we are really witnessing the rise of a new digital generation Screenplay Keri Facer,2003 This study sets out to question commonplace assumptions about the use of technology by children at home Bringing together research from the perspectives of psychology sociology education and media studies the authors ask whether we are really witnessing the rise of a new digital generation The Guided Reader to Teaching and Learning Music Jonathan

Savage,2013-06-26 The Guided Reader to Teaching and Learning Music draws on extracts from the published work of some of the most influential education writers to provide insight guidance and clarity about key issues affecting Music teachers The book brings together key extracts from classic and contemporary writing and contextualises these in both theoretical and practical terms The extracts are accompanied by a summary of the key ideas and issues raised questions to promote discussion and reflective practice and annotated further reading lists to extend thinking Taking a thematic approach and including a short introduction to each theme the chapters cover Analysing your own work as a music teacher Concepts of musicality Notions of musical development and progression Pedagogies for teaching music musically Music inside and outside the school Formal informal and non formal approaches to music education Productive methods of assessment and transition for music education Creativity and music education Supporting the gifted and talented in music Using ICT within music education Aimed at trainee and newly qualified teachers including those working towards Masters level qualifications as well practicing teachers this accessible but critically provocative text will be an essential resource for all teachers that wish to deepen their understanding of Music Education Children's Drawing and Writing Diane Mavers,2011-06-23 Children s everyday drawing and writing are paradoxical charmingly engaging yet seemingly unremarkable in their ordinariness This book takes a very close look at what passes by largely unnoticed at home and in school copying texts fleetingly present then gone a picture drawn after the valued work of writing has been completed Examining features of children s text making that are commonly disregarded because of their very ordinariness or dismissed as mistakes because they are flawed or lacking the book examines features such as shading arrangement and forms of shorthand and uncovers an intensity of effort in the making of meaning In decisively shifting the focus away from insufficiency to what children can do and to the work they invest in the texts they make the lens taken here reveals resourcefulness and purposiveness The unremarkable turns out to be remarkable This has the most profound implications for what takes place at school and beyond

An Introduction To Childhood Studies Kehily, Mary Jane,2008-11-01 An Introduction to Childhood Studies offers a wide ranging and thought provoking approach to the study of childhood providing an important contribution to this burgeoning area of research and teaching Handbook of Research on New Media Literacy at the K-12 Level: Issues and Challenges

Tan Wee Hin, Leo, Subramaniam, R., 2009-05-31 Provides comprehensive articles on significant issues methods and theories currently combining the studies of technology and literacy Society, Culture and Technology at the Dawn of the 21st Century Katarzyna Leszczyńska, Janusz Mucha, 2010-04-16 The articles in this collection analyse methodological aspects of today's hard sciences and humanities and of applied research in the field of high technology The authors explore structural and cultural contexts of scientific research relations between information technologies and our everyday life as well as relations between innovation and business culture Reflective Teaching in Primary Schools Andrew Pollard, Dominic Wyse, Ayshea Craig, Caroline Daly, Sinead Harmey, Louise Hayward, Steve Higgins, Amanda McCrory, Sarah Seleznyov, 2023-01-26 The book you can trust to guide you through your teaching career as the expert authors share tried and tested techniques in primary settings Dominic Wyse with Andrew Pollard have worked with top practitioners from around the UK to create a text that is both cohesive and that continues to evolve to meet the needs of today's primary school teachers This book uniquely provides two levels of support practical evidence based guidance on key classroom issues such as relationships behaviour curriculum planning teaching strategies and assessment evidence informed principles and concepts to help you continue developing your skills New to this edition More case studies and research summaries based on teaching in the primary school than ever before New reflective activities and guidance on key readings at the end of each chapter Updates to reflect recent changes in curriculum and assessment across the UK reflectiveteaching.co.uk provides a treasure trove of additional support Gameworlds Seth Giddings, 2016-05-19 Game studies is a rapidly developing field across the world with a growing number of dedicated courses addressing video games and digital play as significant phenomena in contemporary everyday life and media cultures Seth Giddings looks to fill a gap by focusing on the relationship between the actual and virtual worlds of play in everyday life He addresses both the continuities and differences between digital play and longer established modes of play The gameworlds title indicates both the virtual world designed into the videogame and the wider environments in which play is manifested social relationships between players hardware and software between the virtual worlds of the game and the media universes they extend e.g. Pokémon Harry Potter Lego Star Wars and the gameworlds generated by children's imaginations and creativity through talk and role play drawings and outdoor play The gameworld raises questions about who and what is in play Drawing on recent theoretical work in science and technology studies games studies and new media studies a key theme is the material and embodied character of these gameworlds and their components players bodies computer hardware toys virtual physics and the physical environment Building on detailed small scale ethnographic case studies Gameworlds is the first book to explore the nature of play in the virtual worlds of video games and how this play relates to and crosses over into everyday play in the actual world

International Handbook of Children, Media and Culture Sonia Livingstone, Kirsten Drotner, 2008-03-06 Deliberately selected to represent as many parts of the globe as possible and with a commitment to recognizing both the similarities and differences in children and young people's lives from China to Denmark from Canada to India from Japan to Iceland from the authors offer a rich contextualization of children's engagement with their particular media and communication environment while also pursuing cross-cutting themes in terms of comparative and global trends Divining a Digital Future Paul Dourish, Genevieve Bell, 2014-01-10 A sociotechnical investigation of ubiquitous computing as a research enterprise and as a lived reality Ubiquitous computing or ubicomp is the label for a third wave of computing technologies Following the eras of the mainframe computer and the desktop PC ubicomp is characterized by small and powerful computing devices that are worn, carried or embedded in the world around us The ubicomp research agenda originated at Xerox PARC in the late 1980s these days some form of that vision is a reality for the millions of users of Internet-enabled phones GPS devices wireless networks and smart domestic appliances In Divining a Digital Future computer scientist Paul Dourish and cultural anthropologist Genevieve Bell explore the vision that has driven the ubiquitous computing research program and the contemporary practices that have emerged both the motivating mythology and the everyday messiness of lived experience Reflecting the interdisciplinary nature of the authors' collaboration the book takes seriously the need to understand ubicomp not only technically but also culturally socially politically and economically Dourish and Bell map the terrain of contemporary ubiquitous computing in the research community and in daily life explore dominant narratives in ubicomp around such topics as infrastructure mobility privacy and domesticity and suggest directions for future investigation particularly with respect to methodology and conceptual foundations Improving Classroom Learning with ICT Rosamund Sutherland, Susan Robertson, Peter John, 2008-11-21 Takes a holistic approach to using ICTs to enhance teaching and learning in the classroom It weaves together evidence of teachers and learners' experiences of ICT outside school how policy and management issues impact on learning and what actually happens when ICT is fully integrated into teaching and learning The Palgrave Handbook of Childhood Studies J. Qvortrup, W. Corsaro, M. Honig, 2016-04-30 A landmark publication in the field this state-of-the-art reference work with contributions from leading thinkers across a range of disciplines is an essential guide to the study of children and childhood and sets out future research agendas for the subject Authentic Learning for the Digital Generation Angela McFarlane, 2014-08-13 Why should we use technology to support learning Where does the responsibility lie to prepare young people to be active and successful cybercitizens Can we go on confiscating pupils' smartphones indefinitely Authentic Learning for the Digital Generation is a vital examination of young people's use of personal devices online creative communities and digital gaming It calls into question the idea of the digital native and shows clearly that the majority of young users need help and support in order to benefit from the rich learning potential of personal mobile and online technology use Written by a leading authority on the role of digital technologies in education it looks in detail at the practice and implications of learning using personal devices collaborative online spaces learning platforms user-generated content and digital games In particular approaches to solving problems building knowledge manipulating data and creating texts are examined It offers clear strategies a vision for what effects on learning we might reasonably expect when children are given access to different types of technology and explores the challenges of managing these practices in the classroom Authentic Learning for the Digital Generation offers careful analysis at a time when there is much discussion about young people emerging from school unprepared for the world of work and often struggling to manage their personal relationships as they are exposed to strong content and harsh criticism online It considers what we know of childhood experience in a digital world and offers ways in which schools and teachers can embrace the opportunity presented by ubiquitous ownership of connected digital devices to enrich and deepen learning

Confronting the Challenges of Participatory Culture

Henry Jenkins,2009-06-05 Many teens today who use the Internet are actively involved in participatory cultures joining online communities Facebook message boards game clans producing creative work in new forms digital sampling modding fan videomaking fan fiction working in teams to complete tasks and develop new knowledge as in Wikipedia and shaping the flow of media as in blogging or podcasting A growing body of scholarship suggests potential benefits of these activities including opportunities for peer to peer learning development of skills useful in the modern workplace and a more empowered conception of citizenship Some argue that young people pick up these key skills and competencies on their own by interacting with popular culture but the problems of unequal access lack of media transparency and the breakdown of traditional forms of socialization and professional training suggest a role for policy and pedagogical intervention This report aims to shift the conversation about the digital divide from questions about access to technology to questions about access to opportunities for involvement in participatory culture and how to provide all young people with the chance to develop the cultural competencies and social skills needed Fostering these skills the authors argue requires a systemic approach to media education schools afterschool programs and parents all have distinctive roles to play The John D and Catherine T MacArthur Foundation Reports on Digital Media and Learning
