Mahany,2023-03-21 We live inside a nautilus of prayer if only we open our senses and perceive what is infused all around Throughout millennia and across the monotheistic religions the natural was often revered as a sacred text By the Middle Ages this text was given a name The Book of Nature the first best entry point for encounter with the divine The very act of reading the world of focusing our attention on each twinkling star and unfurling blossom humbles us and draws us into sacred encounter As we grapple to make sense of today s tumultuous world one where nature is at once a damaged and damaging source of disaster as well as a place of refuge and retreat we are called again to examine how generously it awaits our attention and devotion standing ready to be read by all Weaving together the astonishments of science the profound wisdom and literary gems of thinkers poets and observers who have come before us and her own spiritual practice and gentle observation Barbara Mahany reintroduces us to The Book of Nature an experiential framework of the divine God s first revelation came to us through an ongoing creation one that through stillness and attentiveness to the rumblings of the heavens the seasonal eruptions of earth the invisible pull of migration of tide and of celestial shiftings draws us into sacred encounter We needn t look farther for the divine Find Your Story, Write Your Memoir Lynn C. Miller, Lisa

Lenard-Cook, 2013-05-31 Every person has a story to tell but few beginners know how to uncover their story s narrative potential And despite a growing interest among students and creative writers few guides to the genre of memoirs and creative nonfiction highlight compelling storytelling strategies Addressing this gap the authors provide a guide to memoir writing that shows how an aspiring writer can use storytelling tools and tactics borrowed from fiction to weave personal experiences into the shape of a story Upstream Mary Oliver, 2019-10-29 One of O The Oprah Magazine s Ten Best Books of the Year The New York Times bestselling collection of essays from beloved poet Mary Oliver There s hardly a page in my copy of Upstream that isn t folded down or underlined and scribbled on so charged is Oliver s language Maureen Corrigan NPR s Fresh Air Uniting essays from Oliver s previous books and elsewhere this gem of a collection offers a compelling synthesis of the poet s thoughts on the natural spiritual and artistic worlds The New York Times In the beginning I was so young and such a stranger to myself I hardly existed I had to go out into the world and see it and hear it and react to it before I knew at all who I was what I was what I wanted to be So begins Upstream a collection of essays in which revered poet Mary Oliver reflects on her willingness as a young child and as an adult to lose herself within the beauty and mysteries of both the natural world and the world of literature Emphasizing the significance of her childhood friend Walt Whitman through whose work she first understood that a poem is a temple a place to enter and in which to feel and who encouraged her to vanish into the world of her writing Oliver meditates on the forces that allowed her to create a life for herself out of work and love As she writes I could not be a poet without the natural world Someone else could But not me For me the door to the woods is the door to the temple Upstream follows Oliver as she contemplates the pleasure of artistic labor her boundless curiosity for the flora and fauna that surround her and the responsibility she has inherited from Shelley Wordsworth Emerson Poe and Frost the great thinkers and writers of the past to live thoughtfully intelligently and to observe with passion Throughout this collection Oliver positions not just herself upstream but us as well as she encourages us all to keep moving to lose ourselves in the awe of the unknown and to give power and time to the creative and whimsical urges that live within us      A View from Life's Edge Corinne G. Dempsey,2025-10-14 In today's death denying success driven society older women's countercultural voices call for our attention Recounting emotionally charged conversations from across the world A View from Life's Edge reflects on women's comfort with impending death gratitude forged by catastrophe and humility that makes way for wonder Speaking with nearly one hundred women over the age of eighty in four locations northern Iceland south India a retirement community in California and a convent in upstate New York Corinne G Dempsey finds that as we near life's end we gain clarity about what really matters in life Women's stories and reflections in which sorrow and loss are central to a life well lived help to expand our sense of what it means to be human Drawing on the paradoxical wisdom of world religions and mystical traditions to frame late life tendencies across cultures Dempsey portrays these accounts as a corrective to mainstream values that defeat and diminish us Dempsey encourages us to turn away from ageist fears rather than denying life's inevitable end Learning from older women's perspectives we might move their edge of life views closer to the center

Grand Finales Susan Gubar,2025-06-10 One of our most formidable literary critics explores how nine women artists flourished creatively in their final acts In 2008 academic and scholar Susan Gubar was told by a trusted oncologist that she had only a few years left to live Though she outlived that dire prognosis this brush with mortality refocused her attention on the boons of a longevity she did not expect to experience She began to think In the last years of our lives can we shape and change our creative capabilities The resulting volume Grand Finales answers this question with a resounding yes Despite the losses generally associated with aging quite a few writers painters sculptors musicians and dancers have managed to extend and repurpose their creative energies Gubar spotlights very creative old ladies writers painters sculptors musicians and dancers from the past and in our times Each of Grand Finales nine riveting chapters features women artists George Eliot Colette Georgia O Keeffe Isak Dinesen Marianne Moore Louise Bourgeois Mary Lou Williams Gwendolyn Brooks and Katherine Dunham who transformed the last stage of existence into a rousing conclusion Gubar draws on their late lives and works to suggest that seniority can become a time of reinvention and renewal With pizzazz bravado and geezer machismo she counters the discrediting of elderly women and clarifies the environments relationships activities and attitudes that sponsor a creative old age      Open the Door Joyce Rupp,2008-09-01 The long awaited book from best selling spiritual guide Joyce Rupp creatively leads readers to explore how the image of the door can guide them in a process of discovering their true self Joyce Rupp brings new life to the ageless spiritual image of the door weaving insights from East and West with the wisdom of contemporary spiritual writers poets and novelists in a practical format that is just right for contemporary readers Structured as a daily prayer guide for everyday use over six weeks each day offers a thematic reflection a guided meditation an original prayer a thoughtful question and a related scripture quote A built in guide for small groups makes this the perfect resource for groups of all kinds as well as individuals      The Great Conversation Belden C. Lane,2019-05-01 We are surrounded by a world that talks but we don't listen. We are part of a community engaged in a vast conversation but we deny our role in it. In the face of climate change, species loss, and vast environmental destruction, the ability to stand in the flow of the great conversation of all creatures and the earth can feel utterly lost to the human race. But Belden C. Lane suggests that it can and must be recovered, not only for the sake of endangered species and the well-being of at-risk communities but for the survival of the world itself. The Great Conversation is Lane's multi-faceted treatise on a spiritually centered environmentalism. At the core is a belief in the power of the natural world to act as teacher. In a series of personal anecdotes, Lane pairs his own experiences in the wild with the writings of saints and sages from a wide range of religious traditions. A night in a Missourian cave brings to mind the Spiritual Exercises of Ignatius of Loyola; the canyons of southern Utah elicit a response from the Chinese philosopher Laozi; 500,000 migrating sandhill cranes rest in Nebraska and evoke the Sufi poet Farid ud-Din Attar. With each chapter, the humility of spiritual masters through the ages melds with the author's encounters with natural teachers to offer guidance for entering once more into a conversation with the world.

Prose Poetry in Theory and Practice Anne Caldwell, Oz Hardwick, 2022-06-01. Prose Poetry in Theory and Practice vigorously engages with the Why and the How of prose poetry, a form that is currently enjoying a surge in popularity. With contributions by both practitioners and academics, this volume seeks to explore how its distinctive properties guide both writer and reader and to address why this form is so well suited to the early twenty-first century. With discussion of both classic and less well-known writers, the essays both illuminate prose poetry's distinctive features and explore how this outsider form can offer a unique way of viewing and describing the uncertainties and instabilities which shape our identities and our relationships with our surroundings in the early twenty-first century. Combining insights on the theory and practice of prose poetry, Prose Poetry in Theory and Practice offers a timely and valuable contribution to the development of the form and its appreciation amongst practitioners and scholars alike. Largely approached from a practitioner perspective, this collection provides vivid snapshots of contemporary debates within the prose poetry field while actively contributing to the poetics and craft of the form.

A Study Guide for Mary Oliver's "The Eskimos Have No Word for War" Gale, Cengage Learning, 2016. Postmodern Humanism in Contemporary Literature and Culture T. Davis, K. Womack, 2016-01-23. Davis and Womack investigate the emerging gaps between literary scholarship and the reading experience. The idea of reconciling the void, the locus of our sociocultural disillusionment and despair in an uncertain world, concerns explicit artistic attempts to represent the ways in which human beings seek out meaning, hope, and community.

Woods & Words Sara Holly Ackerman, 2025-04-01. This inspiring and enriching picture book biography explores the life and work of beloved poet Mary Oliver in its own uniquely lyrical way, shining a light on Mary's belief that there are treasures and poems all around us in nature waiting to be discovered. Young Mary Oliver spent all the time she could outdoors, noticing natural wonders like alluring birdsong, velvety leaves, and glittering beams of sunlight. There were treasures all around if you paid attention. Eventually, she began writing about those treasures filling up stacks of notebooks and capturing the world around her There were always poems if you paid attention As Mary grew up and gained acclaim for her poetry some critics said her poems were too simple too ordinary But Mary believed poems were for everyone So she wrapped herself in words and in words and kept on searching for what else and where else a poem might be The Best American Poetry 2012 Mark Doty, 2012-09-18 Mark Doty brings the vitality and imagination that illuminate his own work to his selections for the twenty fifth volume in the Best American Poetry series He has chosen poems of high moral earnestness and poems in a comic register poems that tell stories and poems that test the boundaries of innovative composition This landmark edition includes David Lehman's keen look at American poetry in his foreword Mark Doty's gorgeous introduction and notes from the poets revealing the germination of their work Over the last twenty five years The Best American Poetry has become an annual rite of the poetry world and this year's anthology is a welcome and essential addition to the series internationally beloved Canadian writer L M Montgomery 1874 1942 author of the Anne of Green Gables series among other novels and hundreds of short stories and poems also fuelled a passion for photography For forty years Montgomery photographed her favourite places and people using many of these photographs to illustrate the hand written journals she left as a record of her life Artistically inclined and possessing a strong visual memory Montgomery created scenes and settings in her fiction that are closely linked to the carefully composed shapes in her photographs Elizabeth Rollins Epperly's Through Lover's Lane is the first book to examine Montgomery's photography in any depth it is also the first study to connect Montgomery's photography with her fiction and other writing Drawing on the work of Montgomery scholars as well as theorists such as Susan Sontag Gaston Bachelard Roland Barthes John Berger and George Lakoff Epperly connects

Montgomery's practice of photography with the writer's metaphors for home and belonging Epperly examines thirty five of Montgomery's photographs demonstrating how they figure in the novelist's life and fiction She argues that the shapes in Montgomery's favourite place in nature Lover's Lane in Cavendish P E I organized Montgomery's other photographs underpinned her colourful descriptions and grounded her aesthetics Through Lover's Lane suggests how an artist creates metaphors that resonate within a single work echo across a lifetime of writing and photography and inspire readers and viewers across cultures and time
