Longtime Californians A Documentary Study Of An American Chinatown:

Longtime Californians' Victor Nee, Brett De Bary, 2014-10-29 Beginning with the immigrants who left poverty ridden villages in China to try for a better livelihood in America the narratives and extensive interviews of Longtime Californians tell the true story of the Chinese in America A young Chinese girl tells of being sold into slavery brought to America and rescued by a missionary men of Chinatown recall the awful conditions and long waits on Angel Island before being allowed into the country and remember the backbreaking experience of building the railroads that opened the West The young Chinese are also here some are angry and frustrated spending their time on street corners and in gang fights other are Marxist radicals trying to create social political and economic change in Chinatown ghetto And there are the workers who go back and forth each day to the garment factories and the shops each with his or her own story to tell each contributing his or her share to the country that is San Francisco Chinatown Throughout these and other stories the intricate patterns of Chinese life emerge as Chinese traditions and American customs combine to create the unique experience of Chinese Americans Longtime Californians goes beyond the hand laundries and restaurants with which Americans often associate the Chinese and unveils the secret societies the powerful family associations and the daily lives of the people of Chinatown Longtime Californians' Victor

Nee, Brett de Bary Nee, 1981 Race and Retail Mia Bay, Ann Fabian, 2015-08-04 Race has long shaped shopping experiences for many Americans Retail exchanges and establishments have made headlines as flashpoints for conflict not only between blacks and whites but also between whites Mexicans Asian Americans and a wide variety of other ethnic groups who have at times found themselves unwelcome at white owned businesses Race and Retail documents the extent to which retail establishments both past and present have often catered to specific ethnic and racial groups Using an interdisciplinary approach the original essays collected here explore selling and buying practices of nonwhite populations around the world and the barriers that shape these habits such as racial discrimination food deserts and gentrification The contributors highlight more contemporary issues by raising questions about how race informs business owners ideas about consumer demand resulting in substandard quality and higher prices for minorities than in predominantly white neighborhoods In a wide ranging exploration of the subject they also address revitalization and gentrification in South Korean and Latino neighborhoods in California Arab and Turkish coffeehouses and hookah lounges in South Paterson New Jersey and tourist capoeira consumption in Brazil Race and Retail illuminates the complex play of forces at work in racialized retail markets and the everyday impact of those forces on minority consumers The essays demonstrate how past practice remains in force in subtle and not so subtle ways Celebrating the Family Elizabeth H. Pleck, 2000-07-04 Pleck examines changes in the way

Americans celebrate holidays like Christmas or birthdays American Studies Janice A. Radway, Kevin Gaines, Barry Shank, Penny Von Eschen, 2009-03-09 American Studies is a vigorous bold account of the changes in the field of American Studies over the last thirty five years Through this set of carefully selected key essays by an editorial board of expert scholars

More Than Shelter Amy L. Howard, 2014-05-01 In the popular imagination public housing tenants are considered at best victims of intractable poverty and at worst criminals More Than Shelter makes clear that such limited perspectives do not capture the rich reality of tenants active engagement in shaping public housing into communities By looking closely at three public housing projects in San Francisco Amy L Howard brings to light the dramatic measures tenants have taken to create and sustain and strengthen communities that mattered to them More Than Shelter opens with the tumultuous institutional history of the San Francisco Housing Authority from its inception during the New Deal era through its repeated leadership failures to its attempts to boost its credibility in the 1990s Howard then turns to Valencia Gardens in the Mission District built in 1943 the project became a perpetually contested and embattled space Within that space tenants came together in what Howard calls affective activism activism focused on intentional relationships and community building that served to fortify residents in the face of shared challenges Such activism also fueled cross sector coalition building at Ping Yuen in Chinatown bringing tenants and organizations together to advocate for and improve public housing The account of their experience breaks new ground in highlighting the diversity of public housing in more ways than one The experience of North Beach Place in turn raises questions about the politics of development and redevelopment in this case Howard examines activism across generations first by African Americans seeking to desegregate public housing then by cross racial and cross ethnic tenant groups mobilizing to maintain public housing in the shadow of gentrification Taken together the stories Howard tells challenge assumptions about public housing and its tenants and make way for a broader more productive and inclusive vision of the public housing program in the United States

The Fall of the House of Labor David Montgomery, 1987-08-28 This book studies the changing ways in which American industrial workers mobilised concerted action in their own interests between the abolition of slavery and the end of open immigration from Europe and Asia Sustained class conflict between 1916 and 1922 reshaped governmental and business policies but left labour largely unorganised and in retreat The House of Labor so arduously erected by working class activists during the preceding generation did not collapse but ossified so that when labour activism was reinvigorated after 1933 the movement split in two These developments are analysed here in ways which stress the links between migration neighbourhood life racial subjugation business reform the state and the daily experience of work itself

Asian America Roger Daniels, 2011-10-01 In this important and masterful synthesis of the Chinese and Japanese experience in America historian Roger Daniels provides a new perspective on the significance of Asian immigration to the United States Examining the period from the mid nineteenth century to the early 1980s Daniels presents a basic history comprising the political and socioeconomic background of Chinese and Japanese immigration and acculturation He draws distinctions and points out similarities not only between Chinese and Japanese but between Asian and European immigration experiences clarifying the integral role of Asians in American history Daniels research is impressive and his evidence is solid In forthright prose he suggests fresh assessments of the broad patterns of the Asian American experience illuminating the recurring tensions within our modern multiracial society His detailed supporting material is woven into a rich historical fabric which also gives personal voice to the tenacious individualism of the immigrant The book is organized topically and chronologically beginning with the emigration of each ethnic group and concluding with an epilogue that looks to the future from the perspective of the last two decades of Chinese and Japanese American history Included in this survey are discussions of the reasons for emigration the conditions of emigration the fate of first generation immigrants the reception of immigrants by the United States government and its people the growth of immigrant communities the effects of discriminatory legislation the impact of World War II and the succeeding Cold War era on Chinese and Japanese Americans and the history of Asian Americans during the last twenty years This timely and thought provoking volume will be of value not only to specialists in Asian American history and culture but to students and general historians of American life      Church and State in America: A Bibliographical Guide Bloomsbury Publishing,1987-08-14 The second in a two volume bibliography on church state relations in U S history this book contains eleven critical essays and accompanying bibliographical listings on periods or topics from the Civil War to the present day Each essay reviews the available relevant literature and the listings emphasize critical studies and documents published in the last quarter century This reference work will enable the reader to grasp the historiographic issues become acquainted with the resources available and move on to interpret current as well as past issues more knowledgeably and effectively      Chinese American Manpower & Employment United States. Department of Labor,1975      American Far West in the Twentieth Century Earl S. Pomeroy,2008-10-21 In this richly insightful survey that represents the culmination of decades of research a leading western specialist argues that the unique history of the American West did not end in the year 1900 as is commonly assumed but was shaped as much if not more by events and innovations in the twentieth century Earl Pomeroy gathers copious information on economic political social intellectual and business issues thoughtfully evaluates it and draws a new and more nuanced portrait of the West than has ever been depicted before Pomeroy mines extensive published and unpublished sources to show how the post 1900 West charted a path that was influenced by but separate from the rest of the country and the world He deals not only with the West s transition from an agricultural to an urban region but also with the important contributions of minority racial and ethnic groups and women in that transformation Pomeroy describes a modern West increasingly urban transnational and multicultural that has overcome much of the isolation that challenged it at an earlier time His final book is nothing short of the definitive source on that West

America Becoming National Research Council,Commission on Behavioral and Social Sciences and Education,2001-02-23 The 20th Century has been marked by enormous change in terms of how we define race In large part we have thrown out the antiquated notions of the 1800s giving way to a more realistic sociocultural view of the world The United States is perhaps more than any other industrialized country distinguished by the size and diversity of its racial and ethnic minority populations Current trends promise that these features will endure Fifty years from now there will most likely be no single majority group in the United States How will we fare as a nation when race based issues such as immigration job opportunities and affirmative action are already so contentious today In America Becoming leading scholars and
