Looking After A Sons Memoir:

Looking After John Daniel, 1996 Vagabond and spiritual seeker wife and mother and former labor organizer Zilla Daniel led a full and varied life But in the fall of 1988 troubled with the onset of Alzheimer s she comes to Portland Oregon to live with her son and his wife Evolving slowly into the unfamiliar she watches the dogwood outside their kitchen window reads poetry asks and re asks the names of birds Uneasy in his role as caregiver and coping with his own depression John Daniel struggles with guilt embarrassment and anger over his mother s transformation As she loses her memory Daniel delves into his own uncovering both the root of his depression and the medicine for its cure in fragmented long dormant recollections of his childhood and youth Mother and son journey through difficult and mysterious terrain ultimately divining a path to each other Whatever she recognized whatever she perceived whatever she sensed she faced the good world she had loved The world flowed in through her window flowed into her open eyes whatever they saw even as she flowed forth to join the world from the personhood of her many days Combining graceful prose with the tenacity of a lifelong seeker John Daniel pays tribute to the life of a remarkable woman and depicts the burdens and unexpected blessings of caring for her In the midst of daily tension and occasional despair Daniel comprehends then shares with us Zilla s deep smile of the spirit BOOK JACKET Title Summary field provided by Blackwell North America Inc All Rights Reserved Looking After John Daniel, 1997-10 John Daniel explores the delicate terrain of memory and loss as Alzheimer s disease hastens his mother s decline Struggling with guilt and anger he pieces together fragmented recollections of both her life and his own A story of daily burdens unexpected blessings and the deep smile of the spirit Memoirs of a Child Holocaust Survivor A. M. Fox, 2025-05-30 A Holocaust survivor recounts his memories from pre war Poland to liberation honoring lost family and culture These are the memories of a man who had been a young Jewish boy in Central Poland His 9th birthday came in mid July 1939 Less than two months later they are his memories of the Nazi era from the very beginning of WW11 until he was liberated by the Russians on the 8th May 1945 This age of death when Nazis attempted the absolute annihilation of all Jews in Europe regardless of age character or gender is now referred to as the Holocaust These memories include those of his vibrant family life in Poland before the war They are his homage and his memorial to his parents his little sister and numerous uncles aunts and cousins who were wiped out by the Nazis along with centuries of their culture Arriving in the UK on 14th August 1945 he was in the first group of Concentration Camp child survivors brought into England at the invitation of King George VI The story of these children s arrival and initial rehabilitation in the Lake District is told in the 2020 BBC film The Windermere Children His memories conclude with some glimpses of his life immediately after liberation and later when he was settled in the UK From dozens of known relatives he and his elder brother thought for a long time that they were the only family members to have survived from their town Later they discovered there was a third survivor an even younger cousin The author married the Holocaust survivor of this memoir He wanted the tale of how they met to be told and the book begins with this All the material concerning life in Poland life during the war and vignettes of post war life have simply been written down by the author Everything was read and re read by the survivor who felt that these recollections were true to what he remembered

Challenging assumptions about caregiving for those dying of chronic illness What is it like to live with and love someone whose death while delayed is nevertheless foretold In Living in Death's Shadow Emily K Abel an expert on the history of death and dying examines memoirs written between 1965 and 2014 by family members of people who died from chronic disease In earlier eras death generally occurred quickly from acute illnesses but as chronic disease became the major cause of mortality many people continued to live with terminal diagnoses for months and even years Illuminating the excruciatingly painful experience of coping with a family member's extended fatal illness Abel analyzes the political personal cultural and medical dimensions of these struggles The book focuses on three significant developments that transformed the experiences of those dying and their intimates the passage of Medicare and Medicaid the growing use of high tech treatments at the end of life and the rise of a movement to humanize the care of dying people It questions the exalted value placed on acceptance of mortality as well as the notion that it is always better to die at home than in an institution Ultimately Living in Death's Shadow emphasizes the need to shift attention from the drama of death to the entire course of a serious chronic disease The chapters follow a common narrative of life threatening disease learning the diagnosis deciding whether to enroll in a clinical trial acknowledging or struggling against the limits of medicine receiving care at home and in a hospital or nursing home and obtaining palliative and hospice care Living in Death's Shadow is essential reading for everyone seeking to understand what it means to live with someone suffering from a chronic fatal condition including cancer AIDS Alzheimer's and heart disease

Sergey Prokofiev and His World Simon Morrison,2018-06-26 Sergey Prokofiev 1891-1953 arguably the most popular composer of the twentieth century led a life of triumph and tragedy The story of his prodigious childhood in tsarist Russia maturation in the West and rise and fall as a Stalinist era composer is filled with unresolved questions Sergey Prokofiev and His World probes beneath the surface of his career and contextualizes his contributions to music on both sides of the nascent Cold War divide The book contains previously unknown documents from the Russian State Archive of Literature and Art in Moscow and the Prokofiev Estate in Paris The literary notebook of the composer's mother Mariya Grigoryevna illuminates her involvement in his education and is translated in full as are ninety eight letters between the composer and his business partner Levon Atovmian The collection also includes a translation of Sigizmund Krzhizhanovsky's unperformed stage adaptation of Eugene Onegin for which Prokofiev composed incidental music in 1936 The essays in the book range in focus from musical sketches to Kremlin decrees The contributors explore Prokofiev's time in America evaluate his working methods in the mid 1930s document the creation of his score for the film Lieutenant Kizhe tackle how and why Prokofiev rewrote his 1930 Fourth Symphony in 1947 detail his immortalization by Soviet bureaucrats composers and scholars and examine

MEMOIRS OF GRAMFLAKES E.B. Hayes, 2008-10-23 Eleanor was inspired by her father at an early age to appreciate family history During her retired lonely years as a widow she started writing for entertainment She did not enjoy pity parties and found a joy in sitting in front of her computer to write about her memories Some of her children and friends enjoyed hearing about past events that interested them and encouraged her to write She was the only girl and oldest child and spent the majority of her growing up years around adults as they told their stories That was their prime entertainment She would like to inspire others to make notes and write stories for their future generations She found that it is amazing how much one can remember and relive as the words appear on the computer screen Recollections and private memoirs of Washington by his adopted son George Washington with a memoir of the author by his daughter; and illustrative and explanatory notes by Benson J. Loosing George Washington, 1860 My Mother's Hip Luise Margolies, 2004 Some 400 000 hip fractures occur every year the vast majority among the elderly all too often these fractures are associated with death or severe disability After her mother's double hip fracture Luisa Margolies immersed herself in identifying and coordinating the services and professionals needed to provide critical care for an elderly person She soon realized that the American medical system is ill prepared to deal with the long term care needs of our graying society The heart of My Mother's Hip is taken up with the author's day to day observations as her mother's condition worsened then improved only to worsen again while her father became increasingly anxious and disoriented As both a devoted daughter and a skilled anthropologist Margolies vividly renders her interactions with physicians nurses hospital workers nursing home administrators the Medicare bureaucracy home care providers and her parents In the Lessons chapter that follows each episode she discusses in a broader context the weighty decisions that adult children must make on their parents behalf and the emotional toll their responsibility takes Here she addresses the complex practical issues that commonly arise in such situations understanding the consequences of hip fracture and its treatment preparing health care proxies and advanced directives enabling elders to remain at home and the heartbreaking dilemma of prolonging life Like many adult children Margolies learned her lessons about eldercare in the midst of crises This book is intended to ease the information gathering and decision making processes for others involved in eldercare Families in Later Life Alexis Walker, 2001-01-22 The introductory essays and readings drawn from both literature and social science research vividly illustrate the diversity of aging experiences both within and across American families diversity conditioned by social space historical time and individual biography Eleanor Palo Stoller Selah Chamberlain Professor of Sociology Case Western Reserve University Families in Later Life is the only textbook on the subject that addresses the diversity of aging experiences in society by race gender and social class and in a form which combines insight from the humanities as well as the social sciences Includes a balance between empirical selections and literary pieces keeping students interested and engaged while still introducing them to solid research Every social science article included has been carefully edited so those students learn and enjoy their reading to the maximum extent possible Framing Essays by the Editors Questions for Discussion and a complete Index make this book even more useful for teaching

Memoirs of a Mother-in-Law George Sims,2018-01-01 A hilarious comedy of manners and a gentle satire of Edwardian mores and attitudes This edition contains a wealth of material about the author s life and works notes and a bibliographic section Jane Tressider has never been afraid of speaking her mind even if she admits that she may have occasionally given offence by doing so But as a busy mother of nine children she cannot let such a small foible get in the way of her job which is to keep her feckless husband on his toes while ensuring the perfect management not just of her own household but also of that of her married daughters and sons Since mothers in law have always been misunderstood and no one has ever taken up their side of the argument properly Jane is determined to set the record straight and plead the cause of the most maligned race on the face of the earth Memoirs of Serjeant Paul Swanston Paul Swanston,1839 ANTHONY TROLLOPE

Hard Times and Survival; the Autobiography of an African-American Son William A. James Sr.,2018-10-19 Hard Times and Survival The Autobiography of an African American Son is my story It is how I overcame all the heartbreaking brutal and horrendous circumstances that I was born into in 1947 I saw it all in my first sixteen years unbridled lust gross immorality damning lies and terrible brutality by my father against me and my mother He tried to kill me once but kept up a constant campaign of horrible abuses of my mother until I left home at sixteen However success is the best revenge After three years of alcoholism I pulled myself together and went back to school on my own That was after I spent a year in Job Corps from 1966 to 1967 From 1975 to 1977 I went to Piedmont Virginia Community College in Charlottesville From 1977 to 1980 I attended Virginia State University in Petersburg I earned my BA and MA degrees I studied above a master s at the University of Virginia at Charlottesville from 1980 to 1983 I did not graduate but I learned valuable life lessons I started to write in 1993 about what had happened to me over the years and how I used my dire circumstances as motivation to pick myself up and make my life better I hope I am an example that will help others who are suffering through similar atrocities to be motivated to not give up but persevere and that they will as I did overcome anything they are being faced with     Memoirs of Father Germain Edgar Crespo,2006-03 An orphan before age five Germain spends two years living alone on the seashore in seventeenth century France The fishermen call him little prophet since he can always foretell impending storms One fateful day he strays into a castle of monks and is not allowed to leave The monks educate him and he is proved to be an excellent student but he suffers from their cold and unfeeling ways As a young man Germain eventually takes his vows becoming a priest in the Catholic Church He settles in a poor village with his faithful dog Sultan and it is here that he consoles the humble and oppressed sometimes risking his life for their sake As his reputation as a virtuous and holy man spreads even royalty arrive for absolution of their crimes Father Germain teaches love of the Creator and mankind with a belief that even the most hardened heart can be turned toward goodness He exposes church hypocrisy and is persecuted by his superiors yet he continues to teach according to his conscience Memoirs of Father Germain is the touching true account of this beloved priest s life relayed to the writer Amalia Domingo Soler of Spain These stories of intrigue adventure human emotion and morality will provide you with tremendous love inspiration and hope
