Lillian Faderman,2012-02-21 As Lillian Faderman writes there are no constants with regard to lesbianism except that lesbians prefer women In this groundbreaking book she reclaims the history of lesbian life in twentieth century America tracing the evolution of lesbian identity and subcultures from early networks to more recent diverse lifestyles She draws from journals unpublished manuscripts songs media accounts novels medical literature pop culture artifacts and oral histories by lesbians of all ages and backgrounds uncovering a narrative of uncommon depth and originality International

Relations in Psychiatry Volker Roelcke,Paul Weindling,Louise Westwood,2010 The decades around 1900 were crucial in the evolution of modern medical and social sciences and in the formation of various national health services systems The modern fields of psychiatry and mental health care are located at the intersection of these spheres There emerged concepts practices and institutions that marked responses to challenges posed by urbanization industrialization and the formation of the nation state These psychiatric responses were locally distinctive and yet at the same time established influential models with an international impact In spite of rising nationalism in Europe the intellectual institutional and material resources that emerged in the various local and national contexts were rapidly observed to have had an impact beyond any national boundaries In numerous ways innovations were adopted and refashioned for the needs and purposes of new national and local systems International Relations in Psychiatry Britain Germany and the United States to World War II brings together hitherto separate approaches from the social political and cultural history of medicine and health care and argues that modern psychiatry developed in a constant though not always continuous transfer of ideas perceptions and experts across national borders Contributors John C Burnham Eric J Engstrom Rhodri Hayward Mark Jackson Pamela Michael Hans Pols Volker Roelcke Heinz Peter Schmiedebach Mathew Thomson Paul J Weindling Louise Westwood Volker Roelcke is professor and director at the Institute for the History of Medicine Giessen University Germany Paul J Weindling is professor in the history of medicine Oxford Brookes University UK Louise Westwood is honorary research reader University of Sussex UK

Hollywood romantic comedy Kathrina Glitre, 2013-07-19 This book explores the changing representation of the couple focusing on themes of marriage equality and desire Kathrina Glitre moves beyond the usual screwball territory to consider cycles of production from 1934 to 1965 The central concern with the representation of the couple is distinctive and includes discussion of three star couples Myrna Loy and William Powell Katharine Hepburn and Spencer Tracy and Doris Day and Rock Hudson Glitre offers explanations of genre as well as detailed analysis of screwball comedy career woman comedy and sex comedy Each cycle is placed into context to analyse cultural discourses around heterosexuality gender romance and love This structure also enables a more sophisticated understanding of such conventions as masquerade gender inversion and the happy ending The book will appeal to university students and academics working on genre gender culture and representation and anyone with a keen interest in Hollywood romantic comedy
